PARIS, April 29.—After a day and a night of the fiercest assault by shock troops, increased in ever refreshed numbers, the German advance on the channel ports stands practically where it did a week ago. The enemy's only success was a tactical one at Kemmel Hill, with a toll of killed heavy beyond words.

SUPREME EFFORT IN SOUTH FAILS.

In the south the supreme effort to secure the important high ground around Villers-Bretonneaux in the Amiens drive failed, notwithstanding the unrelenting attacks with large, reinforced, renewed divisions. Givenchy, the gate to Bethune, has been sledge-hammered with an added number of troops with the greatest ferocity, but it still stands unbroken, while the costly attempts to drive a wedge between the French and British has resulted only in a closer union and in a list of German casualties long enough to deter any general less reckless of man life than Von Bernhardi.

ALLIES' POSITION STRENGTHENED.

Although the loss of Kemmel was serious, yet the strategical position of the Allies remains unchanged. It was probably strengthened by the retention, after brilliant fighting, of the village of Locre, lying in the valley between Kemmel and Rouge and standing in the way of a further German advance.

To follow intelligently this struggle, which will last many weeks, one should understand that this broken chain of hills barring German progress to the coast, rises out of the plains five miles south of Ypres and Poperinghe and between them and Hazebrouck, the same distance south of the hills.

This chain extends twenty miles, from near the Ypres-

THE GREAT WAR. It is estimated that at their present rate of progress, if it is maintained, the enemy could not reach the channel ports for weeks to come, during which time the strength of the Allies will be greatly enhanced from the United States and other sources.

The situation at the north stands today practically where it did a week ago.

Yesterday was one of the bitterest days of the campaign on the Flanders battle ground; the Germans gained ground, but were immediately driven out; their tremendous artillery seems to herald an attack on Ypres; powerful attacks against the British and French positions between Meteren and Zillebeke yesterday were repulsed with heavy loss.

ARMY OF SEVEN MILLION, PLAN IN BAKER'S NEW WAR SCHEDULE

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 29.—Within a day or two Secretary of War Baker will appear before the Military committees of Congress.

Between the lines of the summary of war conditions issued today by the War Department those close to the head of the department see a preparation of the public for an army of seven million men. It is believed that Secretary Baker will ask Congress for legislation which will make possible five millions of soldiers, in addition to the two millions and more now under arms or being brought into camps.

Those who have talked with the Secretary are confident that at last he has realized the immensity of the job of killing the Hun and will ask for an army thrice the size of the first-planned maximum.

As indicated several days ago, Secretary Baker will ask that the draft age be raised to forty.

The whole question of available equipment, quarters and transport tonnage has been reviewed recently in preparation for submitting these figures.

There are some indications that efforts will be made to add a million men to the army at the earliest possible time, supplementing the million and a half already with the colors and the 800,000 previously scheduled to be mobilized this year.

The result would be the necessity for providing new funds for a force of more than 3,000,000 immediately.

If a large increase in the number of divisions now organized or in process of organization is planned, it will be necessary to secure an amendment to the selective service act removing the present restriction of the draft to two units of 500,000 men each.

OFFICIAL SUMMARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The battle for possession of the ruins of Ypres is regarded by officials here conversant with reports from American observers in France as only an incident of the German drive.

They do not foresee, it was learned tonight, any extensive retirement of the British lines in these regions, even if the enemy gains this shattered village standing at the apex of the salient in the Allied lines in Flanders.

Ypres is important because of the high ground about it. But if it is lost, it is believed here, every inch of ground behind it will be as bitterly contested by the British and French troops as has each step forward the enemy has made for the last ten days.

Even the whole Ypres salient, officers here think, has no strategic value which justifies the assumption that its loss might force a general retreat over a wide front.

PORTS YET FAR OFF.

Should the rate of advance they have made for the last two weeks be maintained by the Germans, it is estimated that it would take weeks for them to reach positions which would seriously threaten the Allied hold on the channel ports.

Meanwhile the strain of continuous offensive operations will increase steadily upon the German forces, while it decreases correspondingly on the Allies with shortened communication lines to maintain.

For this reason many observers here believe the present situation, with the Germans steadily pounding and the Allies striking back wherever oppor-

THE A. P. SUMMARY.

Germany's armies are hurling themselves against a granite wall on the three sides of the ruined city of Ypres. After fighting of the most terrific nature, the British and French lines are still intact and the enemy has lost terribly in his repeated assaults against the lines where the Allies stand at bay.

The objective of the fighting that now is going on is the capture of Ypres, where, since 1914, the British have held their positions. Two years ago the Allied lines were carried forward and the salient in front of the city was wiped out, but from these positions the British retired a week ago to the trenches where they stood during the terrific fighting in the spring of 1915, when they stopped the Germans in their first drive for the channel ports.

UTMOST EFFORT FAILS.

The present battle opened with a bombardment of the British and French lines from Meteren to Voormezeele, a distance of twelve miles. Then came reports of a spread of the fighting around the curve in the line in front of Ypres until the Belgian armies, north of the city, were involved. Field Marshal Haig's official report, anxiously awaited, brought the news that the utmost efforts of the Germans had been fruitless all along the line. The field marshal's statement said that the Teutons had paid a great price and had gained virtually nothing.

The battle continues along the front, but there is little in-

HUNS TAKE BRASS, THEN SINK A NORWEGIAN SHIP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AN ATLANTIC PORT, April 24.—The sinking of the Norwegian steamship Wegadesk by bombs after the crew of a German submarine had held her a prisoner for two days and had removed from her hold fifty tons of brass and copper, was described here today by members of her crew who arrived on a French steamer.

The Wegadesk, of 4271 tons gross register, was en route to Genoa from Baltimore. On March 13, when about 180 miles off the coast of Morocco, she was stopped by a submarine. For two days, the men said, the Germans, assisted by the Norwegian crew, removed all the brass and copper the U-boat could carry. The steamer was then sunk. On the ship arriving here were members of the crew of the Norwegian steamship Nordkyn, from Philadelphia to Genoa with grain. This vessel was stopped in the same vicinity as was the Wegadesk, and was sunk with bombs after the Germans had removed all the supplies.

GERMAN TIME-TABLE GOES TO PIECES IN DRIVE FOR COAST.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 29.—(To Reuter's Ottawa Agency.) Documents recently captured by us show that the Germans counted on developing a regular drive toward the coast, the time-table of which has altogether gone to pieces. A certain division was due to be at Mont des Cats last Friday, but this division, instead of going forward, moved backward to rest and refit.

Sends Back Message to the Slackers and Boys with Flat-foot Alibis.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

[SPECIAL CABLE.]

PARIS, April 29.—Today, I saw wounded American soldiers.

It was my vicarious baptism of blood and afterward I could have sworn on a witness stand in Los Angeles that we are in the war. Before, I had heard that we were in the struggle of Decency vs. Indecency, Civilization vs. Barbarism. I had heard it like having heard other impressive statements. Now I feel it.

Yes, we are in it—up to our ears. Somebody a day or two ago, at the American Consulate-General, told me we were in up to our necks. I thought that pretty deep. But today the official announcement was given out that the bone and sinew and muscle of America—from the Battery in New York to San Pedro and the Golden Gate—is holding the Hun from this earthly paradise, this Paris, this center of civilization. And, what's more, said bone and sinew and muscle is swatting the Hun—swatting him harder than any meal-ticket fighter at Doyle's Vernon arena ever was swatted.

CAN GET IN DEEPER.

We may be in up to our ears, but we Americans, who don't rob a baby of candy and outrage women and then disembowel them (a Hun pastime which the British government can prove by exhibits in alcohol)—we Americans can swim under water. And if we are in this war up to our necks we can get in deeper and still keep going.

Tell the slackers and those youths back home who are inordinately proud of their flat feet just now that we're going to keep them going—straight to Berlin.

There is a muffled boom, boom to the northeast, if the wind is right. It's "over there"—only a comparatively few miles away. But it's a longer ways away from Paris for the deficient-chinned Crown Prince than it is to Tipperary—and it will be longer away the more American Germ-killers Mr. Baker gets over here.

CLEMENCEAU RIGHT.

A few days ago Clemenceau said the Germans never would get to Paris, and for this prophecy the Grand Old Man of France has been boosted into a perfect score by every American in uniform here. They all are convinced the Premier had in mind the endless lines of khaki-clad men that are beginning to stream through France.

He was right. The Hun never will get to Paris, to Amiens or to the channel. For every one of these men in khaki has the wallop that, single-handed, un-

ANGLO-FRENCH HOLD OFF HORDE IN BITTEREST DAY'S FIGHTING.

Von Arnim Floods Entire Allied Back Area Around Ypres with Troops—Belgium, Unconquered, Shrinks as German Waves Roll Over Last Portion.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 29.—This has been one of the bitterest days of fighting that the Flanders battleground has seen since the present offensive began. Since early morning, Von Arnim has been flinging great numbers of German troops against the Allied lines between Zillebeke Lake and Bailleul, with the hills east of Mont Kemmel as his ultimate objective.

At the same time, a secondary thrust has been made at the Belgians in the region of the Yser, north of Ypres.

When the correspondent left the battle front shortly after 1 o'clock in the afternoon, the German commander had nothing to show for his previous drive but a long list of dead and wounded.

Along the major portion of the front his troops have been held, and where they succeeded by superior weight of numbers in pushing forward they were soon ejected by counter-attacks. The Allied line was intact throughout at that hour.

LONDON, April 29.—Powerful attacks by the Germans against the French and British positions between Meteren and Zillebeke today were repulsed, the Germans losing heavily, according to the report from Field Marshal Haig tonight.

The British line held absolutely, but at various points the Germans gained a foothold in the French positions, only to be driven out later from the greater part of this territory.

The Belgians also repulsed heavy attacks, inflicting severe casualties on the enemy.

MASSACHUSETTS SONS DECORATED BY FRANCE

HISTORIC TRIBUTE AS ONE HUNDRED TWENTY SOLDIERS GET WAR CROSS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sunday, April 28.—The French army today paid a historic tribute to the United States when 122 soldier sons of Massachusetts were decorated with the war cross for bravery displayed in recent fighting. The ceremony, which was held on a picturesque field a short distance from the front-line trenches, was one of the most impressive in which American soldiers have participated.

One hundred and seven men from the One Hundred Fourth (Massachusetts regiment,) who bore the brunt of the German attack in the Apremont Forest on April 12, received medals, as did five men of another regiment who had participated in earlier fighting around Soissons.

Here and there in the line of heroes were spaces representing Americans who were killed or wounded seriously.

It had been raining in the forenoon, but the sun broke through the grayish clouds when the One Hundred Fourth Regiment, which also was decorated as a unit, passed in review, before American and French generals. Bands played "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Marseillaise," while the American and French flags waved proudly and defiantly within sound of the roar of German guns. The French general in conferring the decorations said of the regiment:

"It showed the greatest audacity and a fine spirit of sacrifice. Subjected to very violent bombardments and attacks by large German forces it succeeded in checking the dangerous advance and took at the point of the bayonet in a most vigorous way prisoners and some demolished trenches from which it had fallen back at the first assault."

Some Americans attached to the other units were greatly moved when the band played the national anthem. They saw the bright new flag and realized what their comrades had been through to merit the honors. The general, commanding the American forces, shook hands and spoke words of encouragement to each of the men decorated, saying it was the proudest moment of his life to be the commander of men who had done such great honor to the country.

ALIMONY DODGER TO BE DRAFTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 29.—Alimony dodgers will be drafted into the army soon, according to a decision today by the exemption appeal boards of the city.

A man who has been given a deferred classification on grounds of supporting a family and then is found to have deserted them and refused to pay alimony will be put in class 1, it was decided.

GREAT BATTLE FOR PORTS AGAIN RAGING.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, April 29.—The great battle for the channel ports is again raging furiously. After a brief pause, following the counter blows delivered by the British and French, the Germans have attempted to follow up their week end successes south of Ypres. At dawn today the chorus of guns began and the bombardment spread until it extended from Meteren to Voormezeele, a distance of ten miles.

Simultaneously the hostile artillery became exceedingly active on this front from Nieppe forest to Givenchy, and also between Arras and Lens. Shortly after the deluge of gas shells and high explosives the German infantry attacked in the neighborhood of Locre and Voormezeele. Apparently one drive is aimed at Mont Rouge and Scherpenberg, the eastern buttresses of the Flanders range, while the other is pointed westward, two miles south of Ypres.

LOCALE OF ATTACK.

Field Marshal Haig's report makes no mention of any readjustment of the line east of Ypres, but apparently the enemy started today's attack several hundred yards west of his old positions of 1914 in the neighborhood of Hooge Hill, Hill 60 and the bluff.

Gen. Von Arnim concentrated great numbers of howitzers and field batteries southeast of Ypres, and all during the night he maintained a perfect hurricane of fire on the whole Allied back area between Ypres and Voormezeele. In fact the expenditure of ammunition from Houthoist Forest to the Scarpe was colossal.

As the line bends it measures some forty miles between these points. Vimy Ridge was shelled for three hours. The roar of the guns shook the earth.

As the enemy used gas shells lavishly during the night around Ypres, it was apparent that he intended to hit there.

FLANDERS, MAIN FIGHT.

There is no doubt that the Flanders front will remain Ludendorff's main theater of operation for the present and that he has brought up more reserves in the hope of exploiting his successes, which have been achieved at considerable cost.

AUSTRIAN MOBS RUIN HUN HOMES AND DEFY GUARDS.

AMSTERDAM, April 29.—Serious anti-German demonstrations have occurred at Laibach. Crowds of Slovenes, according to Vienna newspapers, almost destroyed the German Club and smashed the windows of German stores and cafes.

Troops were called out but the demonstrants continued to throng the streets, singing anti-German songs and cheering for the Entente.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch received in London Saturday from The Hague reported that the papal nuncio in Vienna, at the request of the Austrian government, had begun an inquiry into charges that the archbishop of Laibach had taken the leadership of the southern Slav movement, the aims of which were said to constitute high treason. A large portion of the southern Slavs are Serbians who desire separation from Austria.

FORM NEW CABINET.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, April 29.—Dr. Alexander Wekerle, according to a Budapest dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin, has accepted the invitation of Emperor Charles to form a Cabinet in succession to the one under his Premiership, which resigned recently.

A split in the Cabinet over the suffrage reform bill caused the resignation of the Wekerle ministry on April 17. Efforts to form a new Cabinet failed owing to the demands of the Karolyi and Socialist parties.

Americans Now Face Enemy on Battle Line Barring Germans from Amiens and Paris.

In the Thick of It.

OUR MEN TAKE STATION UNDER INTENSE FIRING.

March to the Front is Impressive, with Strains of "Star Spangled Banner"—French Cheer.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN NORTHERN FRANCE, Sunday, April 28.—American troops have taken up positions on the French battle front.

Under the French high command, in which all ranks have supreme confidence, the American forces face the enemy on the line barring the Germans from Paris and Amiens.

The Americans found their position in a rolling terrain.

The artillery was the first on the line, entering on a dark night made red by continuous flashes of artillery. Under fire, the American gunners took up the positions of the French batteries and completed the work of digging in.

When the infantry moved in the firing was just as intense.

In some places our troops, after passing through villages, were raked now and then with shrapnel. In several instances they found the trenches shallow, while in other cases there were no trenches at all. By this time the positions have been improved greatly and the shell holes connected.

This sector is not especially active in comparison with others to the north, although the artillery firing is heavy.

MARCH IMPRESSIVE.

The march from the billet bases to the line was impressive. Many units stand off to the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner," played by regimental bands.

At one place the tune must have reached the German lines, so close was the band, the gun flashes being reflected on the instruments. The constant roar of artillery was deafening. Americans, marching as if on parade, disappeared down the roads past the American batteries.

Along some of the roads over which the Americans passed they encountered streams of refugees going the other way. The troops watched them with the most part and the pitiful scenes caused many an American to grit his teeth.

More than one infantryman shared his rations with some French family whose only home was a farm wagon containing a few of the most cherished possessions.

BANDS CHEER SOLDIERS.

On the evening before the troops entered the line diversions were provided for them. The regimental bands played in almost every town where troops were billeted and they played the latest American tunes, brought over for them. Thousands of men gathered to hear the bands, even standing in the pouring rain to listen to the shrapnel-helmeted musicians and whistling all the tunes they knew.

On some evenings just after dark moving pictures have been shown in various towns by the Y.M.C.A. Both French and American films are displayed, and roars of approval greeted well-known moving picture actors. There were especially loud cheers for the women stars, for the men have been away from their wives and sweethearts for a long time, and even the picture of American women on the screen was appreciated vastly.

Pictures showing scenes in American cities gave a touch of home which only mud-splattered American soldiers overseas on the eve of going into battle could understand.

FEW DAYS TRAINING.

The training period for the American troops lasted a few days, after which they moved up to within sound of the guns. There they rested, awaiting orders.

Many an infantryman curled up in his blankets under the stars, the more lucky having beds of straw in houses or barns. The officers fared the same. All appeared unmindful of their hardships.

While waiting for the time when the Germans again come across No Man's Land, the Americans have not lost sight of the battle progressing in their neighborhood. French and English newspapers were brought up as soon as the men arrived. Every paper passes through hundreds of hands and is read until it is in pieces. As many as fifteen men may be seen reading one paper at the same time, the War Office reports receiving first attention.

During the whole movement the number of men reporting sick has been extraordinarily small. The doctors say that in many cases the men apparently put off making such reports because they feared they might be sent to the hospital and lose their chance of taking part in the great battle.

SUPPRESS FALSE REPORTS.

For a few days before the troops went into the trenches officers took energetic measures to suppress false and vicious reports regarding the progress of the battle. How these originated seems to be unknown, but the Americans on this front have now reached a state of mind such that they will believe nothing they hear. Unless they have read it in an official report, the men are inclined to doubt all alleged news, whether good or bad.

The troops left for the front on trains on which they remained for some days, speeding through the towns, to the cheers of the French population. Some units passed other trains loaded with blue-clad poilus and the soldiers of the two republics cheered each other.

American flags were carried by many of the men. The correspondent saw several locomotives hauling trainloads of Americans with the Stars and Stripes flying. Every train was well protected against attack by hostile aircraft, and gunners with weapons mounted on flat cars were ready for instant work. Those who have been in contact with the Germans for some time say it does not pay to take chances, even when far from the line.

FIFTY-MILE MARCHES.

Once off the trains, the various units assembled their equipment and started out in the rain on marches which, in some cases, were more than fifty miles. But the rain did not keep up long. With the sunshine the spirits of the marching men rose so high that, though some of them were tired, nearly all trudged along toward the battlefield, under their heavy load, singing or whistling. They waved their hands to friendly passers-by in return for the greetings from the men and kisses thrown by women and girls.

The people marveled at the hardiness of these Americans as organizations, which were making a march of twenty-five miles in a day, passed along in this manner.

Through many towns the tramp of the men and the rumble of artillery wheels sounded all through the night, for these forces were anxious to be on time at the points at which they were to receive special training. Such training was required because they were facing open warfare, whereas formerly they had fought in the trenches.

There was increased artillery activity on the Toul sector today. At dawn the Germans began a heavy barrage against part of our line. This was accompanied by intermittent machine gun and rifle fire.

The enemy's activity is taken to mean that he is striving to keep the Americans busy so they cannot be sent north.

Announcement that American troops had entered the Allied line in Picardy, east of Amiens, was made by the Paris War Office last Wednesday night. A Paris dispatch Thursday announced that more than 100 wounded Americans had reached Paris hospitals from the battle front.

FRENCH GENERAL ORDER.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE FIELD, Tuesday, April 16.—(Delayed by censor.) The French general in command of the district, from which American troops have been moved towards the north of France, has issued the following general order, which has been communicated to the American troops:

"At the time when the first American troops are leaving for the battle the officers, noncommissioned officers and soldiers of the — French army salute their brothers in arms, whose bravery they have admired. They congratulate them on being about to write in the battle of nations the first page of the history of the sons of the great republic who have come to fight on the soil of France for the triumph of liberty. This page will be glorious."

WAR OFFICE STATEMENTS

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 29.—The Germans this morning opened a heavy bombardment with high explosive and gas shells on the entire front between Meteren and Voormezeele, south and southwest of Ypres, the War Office announced today. Infantry attacks developed shortly afterward.

An enemy attack, which developed yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of Locre, west of Mont Kemmel, was repelled.

The post near Festubert, north of Givenchy, taken by the Germans last week was recaptured by the British last night. More than fifty prisoners were taken and other prisoners and four machine guns were brought in as a result of raiding operations in sectors further south.

There was great activity by the hostile artillery during last night from the River Scarpe, opposite Arras, north to Lens, and between Givenchy and Nieppe Wood, on the southern side of the Lys battle front.

The statement reads:

"The hostile attack reported developing yesterday afternoon in the neighborhood of Locre was repulsed by rifle fire and machine-gun fire.

"A heavy bombardment with high explosive and gas shells was opened by the enemy this morning on the whole front from Meteren to Voormezeele, and infantry attacks are now developing.

"The hostile artillery has also shown great activity during the night from the River Scarpe to Lens and between Givenchy and the forest of Nieppe.

"By a successful enterprise, carried out by us last night, the post in the neighborhood of Festubert, captured by the enemy on the night of April 26-27, was retaken by us together with over fifty prisoners.

"A number of prisoners and four machine guns also were secured by us in successful raids south of Albert and in the neighborhood of Neuville-Vitasse."

FRENCH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 29.—The Germans made several attempts last night to advance on French positions in Hangard Wood on the front before Amiens, but were checked by the French fire, the War Office announces.

The statement follows:

"During the night the Germans attempted several times to attack the French positions in Hangard Wood. Our fire checked all their efforts. There was great activity of the artillery on both sides between Villers-Bretonneux and the Lucre River and in the region between Lassigny and Noyon.

"A German raid north of Grievemer was without result. French detachments penetrated German lines in the vicinity of Corbeny, near Courcy, on the right bank of the Meuse and in upper Alsace, bringing back prisoners. There was very heavy artillery fighting at Fosses Wood and Caurieres Wood (Verdun front.)

"On the remainder of the front the night passed in quiet."

CHINA SENDING TROOPS TO FIGHT FOR ALLIES.

CHINA WILL HAVE FORTY THOUSAND FIGHTING MEN IN FRANCE SOON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AN ATLANTIC PORT, April 29.—Capt. Ting Chia Chen, military counsellor to the President of China, and also to the Chinese Minister of War, arrived here today on a French steamship. He said that China now is sending troops to France to fight for the Allies.

Capt. Ting, who is a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, for some time has been in Europe as a military observer in the war theater for his government.

"China is preparing to do her part in making the world safe for democracy," he said tonight. "It is true that China now has troops on the way to the battle front, and it is the calculation of the Peking government to have no fewer than 40,000 fighting men with the French by early summer. I have just left France and there remained behind ten other Chinese officers, whose duty it will be to select training camps in France for Chinese troops."

The captain added that there is a spirit among the Chinese people that Prussianism must be suppressed for the good of mankind and the advancement of civilization.

LEAPS TO DEATH IN ESCAPE FROM ISLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—F. A. Caran, a Syrian-Turk, said by the Federal authorities to have been a German agent en route to spread propaganda in Mexico, died late yesterday in a leap over a cliff on Angel Island, when he tried to escape from a guard at the immigration detention station there, it became known today.

Caran was taken from a trans-Pacific steamship Monday on his arrival from the Orient. His traveling companion, Latif Lecayf, is held at Angel Island. Both had Mexican passports, were well dressed and well supplied with funds.

Agents of the Department of Justice said the two had been under surveillance in the Orient because of their activities in the German cause.

GERMANS CLAIM 7100 PRISONERS CAPTURED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via London) April 29.—The announcement from general headquarters today says:

"On the Flanders battle front from midday the artillery fire revived. The booty taken since the storming of Mont Kemmel has increased to more than 7100 prisoners, including 181 officers, fifty-three guns and 233 machine guns.

"Between La Bassee Canal and the Scarpe, as well as north of the Somme, there has been lively reconnoitering activity on the part of the English. Strong patrol attacks made by the French against Hangard Wood and the village were sanguinarily repulsed. Foretield engagements occurred at many points on the remainder of the front.

"On the eastern bank of the Meuse, a thrust into the French trenches brought in some prisoners.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON NATURALIZATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Senate and House conferees agreed today on the bill to expedite naturalization of aliens in the American military establishment, to protect them in case of capture and for the naturalization of enemy aliens.

An amendment prohibiting naturalization of Germans while German law permits them to retain German citizenship, although forswearing allegiance was stricken from the bill.

SENDS "DADDY" AWAY; DIES.

Child of Local Man on Torpedoed Vessel Makes Supreme Sacrifice.

A pathetic little story attaches to the presence on the torpedoed Orissa of Joseph A. Matthews, one of the Y.M.C.A. workers from this city. At the first call he wired that he could not go because of the grave illness of his 13-year-old daughter, Josephine. This came to the ears of the little girl and she called her father severely to task. On the next call she insisted so strongly that her father go to France that the physicians attending the child advised it also. Josephine bade "daddy" a proud farewell, concealing her own desperate condition, that he might go without misgivings. A few days later she died.

By a special dispensation of the government, the rule forbidding the cabling of bad news to men overseas was abrogated that word of little Josephine's supreme sacrifice might be sent Mr. Matthews. Mrs. Matthews is one of the prominent club women of the Los Angeles District, C.F.W.C., and a past chairman of the department of Federation extension.

Hold Off Horde.

the front at Malens is not likely to distract much attention from the Ypres theater. Von Arnim's and Von Quast's armies are co-operating today against Gen. Plumer's inferior forces, the former attempting to advance toward Poperinghe, to the north of the Flanders hills, while Von Quast is trying for Locre, Mont Rouge and Mont Scherpenberg.

Hazebrouck and Poperinghe are both important railway points. They have been under the enemy's fire for several days, but they are secure as long as the British hold the hills running west to Cassel.

As several statements have been made that the Allies might flood the Ypres plains, it is necessary to point out that the country in this region is fifty to 100 feet above sea level, and that the only area which might be submerged is that south and west of Dixmude, where the Belgians have fought off the Germans since the summer of 1914.

FRENCH OPTIMISM.

London is eagerly watching the comment of a French expert whose optimism is undiminished.

Henry Bidou, famous critic, writing in the Journal des Debats, is convinced that the principal German effort at this time will be concentrated at Ypres.

"By the accumulation of a large part of his men and guns in this comparatively small sector," he says, "the enemy hopes by taking Mont Kemmel to drive deep enough into the Allied line to force a retirement, but his stroke did not come soon enough and his expectations were not fulfilled.

"Ludendorff tried to take advantage of the Allies' precarious position by striking simultaneously on two sides of the salient. On the southwest side he aimed to scale the slopes of Mont Rouge and seize the village of Locre. On the east he hoped to capture Voormezeele, the key to the Allied position. On both sides of the salient the struggle has been terrific for three days. Loche, one aim of the German armies, has changed hands several times.

"What is the Allied plan of defense as indicated by the defense at Ypres? Does Foch hope to reestablish himself on Mont Kemmel through counter-attacks or are the Allies merely withdrawing to a new line of defense to await the exhaustion of the enemy?

MUST RETAKE HILLS.

"It is only possible to hold Ypres by recapturing the fringe of hills to the east and south which are its chief defense. Whether the price which the reconquest of these heights at this time would cost at this time out of proportion to the value of the ruined city of Ypres is a question for the Allied leaders to decide.

"The retention of Ypres has no longer anything to do with the protection of the Dunkirk-Calais road. There was a time, in November, 1914, when we could not have said the same thing. But since that time the Allied defense has gained enormously in the north and its points of support at Poperinghe on the Yser, on Cassel and at Hazebrouck are strong enough to stem the German drive. The Allied line here may bend, but it will not break."

FOURTH ARMY ATTACKS FRONT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 29.—The Fourth German army this morning heavily attacked the Allied front in Flanders.

Prisoners captured have admitted that the German intention is to attempt to capture Ypres.

Severe fighting is reported in both the French and the British areas. The attack extends over a front of about fifteen miles.

The Belgians on the Yser front also are reported to have been attacked.

German airplanes were out in great numbers at dawn, flying low over the chain of hills behind Kemmel, attempting to attack British troops and transport trains on the roads, as is usual preliminary to a battle.

This morning's enemy stroke was delivered at Ypres, at the Scherpenberg hill and west of Bailleul, in the direction of Hazebrouck.

After resting two days in order to throw in fresh divisions and bring guns forward, the Fourth Army opened an intense bombardment at about 3 o'clock this morning. The infantry attack was launched two hours later.

TWO AMERICANS IN CANADIAN CASUALTIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) April 29.—Following names of Americans appear in tonight's casualty list:

Wounded: Lieut. A. C. Kemmis, Sand Point, Idaho; H. Dobson, Turner, Mont.

247 Rescued, Three Lost.

U-Boat Torpedo Gets Steamer with Fifty-seven Americans Aboard.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 29.—A party of fifty-seven American army Young Men's Christian Association workers, under Arthur E. Hungerford, arrived in London last night. The ship on which they sailed was torpedoed yesterday morning and sank in twelve minutes. All the passengers and all but three of the crew were saved.

The passengers were picked up in lifeboats and landed at a British port. The Americans are all safe and well. On their arrival in London they were taken in charge by the American Y.M.C.A. and Red Cross.

The number of persons on board the vessel was about 250. One of the ship's officers told the Associated Press that the Americans had conducted themselves in an admirable manner. They had spent most of their time aboard the ship in military drills and daily and nightly lifeboat drills, and every man knew his station and duties as though by instinct.

DESTROYERS TO RESCUE.

Destroyers were sent immediately to the rescue and all the lifeboats were picked up within half an hour.

The vessel was struck amidships while in a large convoy under the protection of destroyers. It was proceeding at about ten knots in bright moonlight when struck. There was an immediate heavy list, and three minutes later the boilers blew up, extinguishing the lights all over the ship.

"The Americans behaved like veterans and were of the greatest assistance in launching the lifeboats and handling them," said one of the officers of the ship.

Two of the crew who lost their lives were caught below and went down with the ship. The third man was the ship's baker, who went back for the money belt.

The discipline on board the ship was excellent. Although the time was brief, all the boats were launched successfully. Most Americans had little clothing and no baggage. Several of them lost their passports and all their money.

ANGELENO'S CLOSE CALL.

Gale Seeman of Los Angeles and E. C. Pullen of New York State had narrow escapes in getting into lifeboats. Each caught his feet in one of the ropes by which his boat was being lowered. Seeman was thrown into the water head down with his feet entangled, but was saved by Robert Peckham of Springfield, Mass., who cut the rope and dragged Seeman into the lifeboat. Pullen was able to get clear of the rope by his own efforts.

The submarine was not seen at the time the vessel was torpedoed, but several survivors told a story of a periscope appearing for a moment in the midst of the lifeboats.

"It was said the periscope was seen from near-by torpedo-boat destroyers, which, however, did not dare fire for fear of hitting the lifeboats," says the Rev. Charles Vickery of Salina, Kan. "If the periscope did appear it was only for a brief moment. While the lifeboats were being picked up one American and one British destroyer circled the spot, dropping several depth charges."

THRILLING ESCAPE.

Among the other passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thring had the most exciting experience. Mr. Thring is an Australian who was invalided from the British army several months ago. He went to Australia, where he was married, and was returning to England with his bride to settle the estate of two brothers who were killed recently in France. The torpedo struck just beneath their cabin and they were thrown from their berth and injured severely.

The stateroom door was jammed so that it could not be opened. Mr. Thring broke the partition and carried his unconscious wife to the deck, where he, too, fell unconscious. Both were carried to a lifeboat by Arthur Bogue, a Y.M.C.A. man from Chicago.

After being taken aboard the destroyers the survivors had a trip of five hours to port. A crowd gathered on the pier to meet them.

"There was a long delay in getting our destroyer into her berth," said the Rev. H. S. Mallison of Flint, Mich. "I suggested to the men that we gather at the bow and show we were in good spirits by singing. We sang 'The Star Spangled Banner,' 'God Save the King' and 'Onward Christian Soldiers,' and the crowd on shore cheered.

"I noticed an elderly man in military uniform standing on the pier, who seemed to be affected deeply by our singing. When we got ashore I was not surprised to see him take charge of us, line us up in military fashion and then shake hands with each one of us and congratulate us. He was Viscount French (commander of the homes defenses,) who happened to be in port. Hearing that some American survivors were coming in, he insisted on going down to greet them personally."

TWO ANGELENOS ABOARD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 29.—The vessel which was sunk in English waters while carrying fifty-seven Young Men's Christian Association Workers was the British steel steamship Orissa of 5436 tons gross. It was learned here today. She left an American Atlantic port April 12.

Among the Americans is Harry Holmes, who for many years has represented the Y.M.C.A. with the Australian troops. Among the Y.M.C.A. workers on the torpedoed ship were Joseph Alderson Matthews, No. 7547 Highland avenue, Hollywood, Cal., and Gale Seeman, No. 1307 Alpha street, Los Angeles, Cal.

Gale Seeman.

GALE SEAMAN VERY POPULAR ON COAST.

Y.M.C.A. MAN SAVED FROM SUNK SHIP KNOWN TO MANY THOUSANDS.

Gale Seaman has been active in Y.M.C.A. work for the past ten years and is known to thousands of college men in all of the States of the Pacific Slope. He had been, previous to starting for Europe for war work, student secretary of the International Committee of the Y.M.C.A., with headquarters at Los Angeles, and is now on leave of absence. He travelled throughout the Pacific Coast States organizing Y.M.C.A. branches among college men, especially in towns where there are colleges.

He came West about ten years ago, after graduating from Denison University, Granville, O., and the Rochester Theological School, Rochester, N. Y. He was prominent in the affairs of the First Baptist Church, of which he is a deacon. He is 37 years old.

Mr. Seaman's home is at No. 1307 Alpha street, where his wife and father received the news yesterday of what had happened to the vessel on which the Y.M.C.A. men were traveling.

The Rev. Merle Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Pasadena, was not on the torpedoed ship, although he was Gale Seaman's room-mate. He had had trouble in securing a passport and did not sail.

Serious Situation.

GOVERNMENT MAY HAVE TO BUILD HARBOR HOMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Housing conditions in Southern California, particularly around the shipbuilding centers at San Pedro, are so serious that if the problem is not settled soon by municipal authorities Federal aid is necessary, according to the report submitted today by Mark Cohn of the State Housing and Immigration Commission.

According to the report, there are 2600 houses containing 13,804 rooms at San Pedro and Terminal Island. Of these rooms, 9129 are utilized for sleeping purposes for a population of 14,864. At Wilmington, 421 houses containing 2814 rooms, 1513 of which are utilized for sleeping, are available for a population of 2020.

Only twelve houses are vacant in the district and of these not one is habitable, the report stated.

Great waste of workingmen's time results from these conditions, Mr. Cohn said. At one plant employing 5300 men, the latter travel daily between fifteen and sixty-two miles to and from work.

"If this problem is not solved by the San Pedro authorities Federal aid is necessary," the report stated. "This would be one of the most unfortunate things that could happen to Los Angeles, as the government barracks of the type that would have to be put in at San Pedro, Wilmington and Terminal Island does not make for permanancy."

Baker's Weekly Review.

MAN POWER IS ANSWER, SAYS WAR DEPARTMENT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The War Department's weekly review of the situation, issued today, says:

"The outcome of the present operations in the west depends on man power.

"The Germans are relying principally on rifles, machine guns, man power and carefully thought out methods of transporting and supplying munitions to the front of attack under all conditions, which means that they have developed mobility of offensive action that can only be met by counter measures of equal potency and flexibility.

"A battle of such magnitude as the one being fought in the west connot be decided by any single engagement, yet there arise a series of crises on which the ultimate outcome depends. These crises have, up to the present in a large measure, resulted favorably to the enemy.

"The vigorous attacks driven against the British lines were intended to paralyze the independent will power of the British command. In this, the enemy has failed.

"Ours is the imperative duty of providing replacement units for the armies in France. We must be able to put fresh men in the field, thoroughly and methodically trained. In addition to those already called to the colors and now training at our cantonments or already selected for service, very large quotas will be required in the immediate future to fill the gaps."

ADVERTISING SUPREMACY AGAIN SHOWN BY THE TIMES.

The display, classified and special advertising columns of The Times were, as usual, replete with announcements of the greatest number and the best class of advertisers on Sunday, April 28.

The total volume of advertising printed on that date in all the city's newspapers was as follows:

The Times	9,095 inches
The second newspaper	6,521 "
The third newspaper	3,566 "

In "want ads" alone, last Sunday, The Times printed 753 inches more than the two other local newspapers combined. The following is the "want-ad" record:

The Times	3,095 inches
The second newspaper	1,742 "
The third newspaper	601 "

The Times' lead in automobile display advertising over the other morning newspapers for the week ending April 20 was correspondingly high, as is indicated by the following figures, to wit:

The Times	1,068 inches
The second newspaper	826 "
The third newspaper	370 "

The persistent and constantly increasing popularity of The Times as an advertising medium is due to the fact that it has the confidence and good will of readers of stability in every walk of life. More than 124,000 copies of the big Sunday Times were printed and sold last Sunday.

The Times' reliable telegraph and local news columns, its interesting "want-ad" pages, fiction and special features, magazine and Farm and Tractor supplements, incomparable pink and automobile sections, and vivid rotogravure department, are never-ending sources of information and pleasure to a multitude of earning, industrious and intelligent men and women.

AMERICAN AND BRITISH LABOR IN WAR SESSION

CONCERTED EFFORT MADE TO STRENGTHEN MILITARY BY POLITICAD MEANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 29.—The delegates of the American Federation of Labor, who are visiting England with the American labor mission, conferred today with members of the executive body of the Trades Union congress, the Parliamentary Labor committees and the National Labor party. The object was to ascertain how far American labor was in agreement with the war aims of British labor.

Arthur Henderson, leader of the Labor party in the House of Commons, explained that the attitude of British labor was that every effort should be made to make use of the political weapon to strengthen the military, and to bring together an international labor and Socialist conference, including representatives from enemy countries, for the frank discussion of a possible peace.

The conference adjourned until tomorrow to give the Americans an opportunity to consider the points raised.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ASHINGTON, April 29.—Re-ing all amendments designed to the President's authority, the late today passed the Over-Bill, with its general grant of for the executive to co-ordi-and reorganize government de-ments and other agencies dur-the war.

The vote on the measure, which to the House, was 63 to 13, Senators who opposed the nistration in the long fight over amendments joining the when the test came on passage.

ly one Democrat, Senator Reed Missouri, voted against the bill. Republicans who voted against it Brandegee, Cummins, Dilling-m, France, Gallinger, Harding, son of California, Knox, Lodge, Sherman, Sterling and Sutherland.

AMENDMENTS REJECTED.

Administration forces apparently sulted in control in the con-sory over the bill.

In beginning to vote on amend-, the Senate rejected, 44 to 28, amendment by Senator Gallinger New Hampshire, proposing to ex-the government printing of-from the President's powers to organize government departments.

Senator Harding's amendment, signed to limit the President's ority to war matters, was de-ted, 42 to 30.

The Gallinger amendment was of-ed for Senator Smoot of Utah, Republican, who was absent. endments to exempt the Inter-State Commerce Commission and deral Reserve Board from the sident's authority were defeated turday and virtually all those sup-rting the administration then ed against the Gallinger proposal d were joined by others.

HARDING IN OPPOSITION.

Senator Harding of Ohio, speak-g today against the bill, declared t if the Senate "is to accept an ecutive mandate" and refuse every tion of an amendment to the Congress might as well delegate taxing power to the executive de-rtment and go home."

Senator Harding, urging his endment to limit the bill to func-ns "having to do directly with production or the conduct of war," said:

"I will not vote for a measure to ate a smoke screen for the re-treat from popular government to a complete dictatorship."

An amendment by Senator Cummins of Iowa, Republican, to prevent the President from interfering with jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission over rates and physical valuation of railroads was defeated, 42 to 31.

An amendment by Senator Sterling, Republican, of South Dakota, proposing to limit the bill to "executive" departments and functions, also was rejected, 46 to 24.

Nearly all of the twenty-two Republicans voting to pass the bill had, before the final roll call, supported amendments to circumscribe the President's power, generally to war functions. Those who continued their opposition to the finish based their attitude on the argument that the bill confers unnecessary autocratic powers upon the President and is unconstitutional.

Administration leaders championed the measure consistently and would not agree to any amendments limiting the President's authority.

The only amendments added in the Senate were accepted by Senator Overman. One by Senator Wadsworth, Republican, would authorize the President to centralize authority over the aviation programme, in one executive officer. Another, by Senator Jones, Republican, of Washington, limits the effect of reorganizations made under the bill to six months, instead of one year, after the war.

As passed by the Senate, the measure authorizes the President to "make such redistribution of functions among executive agencies as he may deem necessary" and to "utilize, co-ordinate and consolidate any executive or administrative commissions, bureaus, agencies, offices or officers now existing by law, to transfer any duties or powers from one existing department or to transfer the personnel thereof." These powers, however, "shall be exercised only in matters relating to the conduct of the present war."

The measure also provides that if the President believes any agency should be abolished he shall report to Congress and Congress will arrange for transfer of appropriations in any reorganization, limiting their expenditure to the purpose specified by Congress.

Early consideration of the bill in the House is planned by administration leaders. Ultimate enactment of the measure substantially as it passed the Senate is expected.

POLICE CHIEF MOBBED FOR HITTING SOLDIER.

MASON CITY (Iowa) April 29.—While Nels Oliver Overson, one of forty-six National Army recruits about to leave for Camp Dodge, stood with his arm about his mother's neck, bidding her good-by at a railroad station here late today, the band struck up the "Star Spangled Banner."

Overson failed to remove his hat—later he declared he had not recognized the air—and Chief of Police Max Gorman struck him twice, lacerating his jaw.

Nearly 2000 persons were at the station. Those nearest the Police Chief turned angrily upon him and he was struck twice before policemen could rush him away.

Mayor T. A. Potter announced shortly after that Gorman had resigned upon request. Precautions were taken tonight to avert further demonstrations.

BREST-LITOVSK PACT SCORNED.

Newest Petrograd Government Demands New Treaty.

Wants Esthonia to be Placed Under Russian Rule.

Germans, White Guards, Said to Have Viborg Doomed.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 29.—The newest Russian government in Petrograd, according to the Aftonbladet of Copenhagen, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch, has denounced the Brest-Litovsk treaty with Germany. It calls for a new treaty, with Esthonia under Russian rule.

A dispatch from Reuter's correspondent in Petrograd, dated Wednesday, April 24, and received today, contains no mention of the changes in the Russian government that have been reported from Scandinavian sources.

An Associated Press dispatch from Stockholm Sunday reporting rumors that former Grand Duke Alexis has been declared Emperor of Russia in a counter revolution, added that the new government would refuse to recognize the new treaty with Germany. Esthonia borders on the eastern coast of the Gulf of Finland and extends from the Gulf of Riga to near Petrograd. It has been reported that Emperor William was to become Duke of Esthonia and that Esthonia was to be closely allied with Germany.

ARMISTICE REFUSED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 29.—The Finnish Red Guard leaders, headed by their Premier, at noon on Sunday asked the White Guards, or government troops, for an armistice, according to an official announcement made at Vasa and transmitted by the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company. The White Guards refused. The Germans and White Guards, it is added, are closing in on Viborg on three sides.

HUNS VIOLATE TREATY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Finnish shore batteries in command of German officers opened fire on 145 Russian ships, which left Helsingfors for Kronstadt, the State Department was informed today in diplomatic dispatches. This was held to be a violation of the Brest-Litovsk treaty, which stipulated that the vessels should move unmolested.

DAILY STATEMENT OF WAR PROBABLE.

ACTIVITIES OF AMERICANS ON BATTLE LINE MAKE NECESSARY BETTER SYSTEM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The whole question of how the American public shall be kept promptly informed as to army activities both abroad and at home is under consideration at the War Department. In making this known today, Secretary Baker frankly stated that the present system has proved entirely unsatisfactory.

The Secretary of War would not say what plans are under consideration, but it is known that the issuing of some sort of a daily statement is contemplated.

This is regarded as necessary now that American soldiers not only have taken over several sectors of trenches in France as individual units, but also have been brigaded with French and British forces in Picardy, where the Germans still are trying to drive their offensive forward.

While Mr. Baker was in Europe recently he issued an order that any news regarding the American expeditionary forces in France would have to come from the headquarters of Gen. Pershing. Since then the public has had to rely upon newspaper correspondents with the American army and the French official statement for news of fighting in which American troops participated.

While these reports have been fairly complete, they sometimes have been delayed and frequently the correspondents have not been permitted to write of troop movements until many days after the soldiers have gone into the battle line. One illustration pointed to today was the news of the American soldiers joining the French in Picardy. First announcement of this came in a brief statement in the French War Office communication last week.

Another illustration cited was that of the fighting at Seicheprey, in which the Americans were driven back by the Germans, but eventually reoccupied the ground lost. The German claim that 183 Americans were made prisoners never has been definitely cleared up from American sources.

The manner of issuing casualty lists is another question which is giving officials concern. Decision of the department on recommendation of Gen. Pershing to make public only the names of the men has been criticised in Congress and elsewhere. President Wilson took up the question, but was said to have been awaiting the return of Secretary Baker, before reaching a final conclusion. No announcement of his decision has been made.

SUPREME COURT TO RUSH SPY APPEALS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The Supreme Court today agreed to expedite hearing of the first appeals from convictions under the Espionage Act and set October 14 next for arguments.

The appeals were from convictions of twenty-seven men at Sioux Falls, S. D., on charges of obstructing enlistment and of attempting to intimidate the Governor of the State in his performance of duties under the Selective Service Act.

FOOD WASTAGE UNDER PROBE IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 29.—Federal food investigators were assigned to the task of watching for wasted foodstuffs throughout the city today, in some cases even inspecting the garbage cans of wasteful families.

A. S. Adams, chief of the investigation bureau of the Food Administration, said that he had information that wealthy families who are required to buy equal amounts of substitutes with their wheat flour, let the substitute stand until it gets moldy and then throw it away.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) April 29.—Upon motion of her attorneys today in United States District Court, the trial of Miss Katherine Schmid was continued until the October term of court. Miss Schmid is under indictment charged with attempting to obtain military information from American soldiers on the border. This is a capital offense.

NEW RULES LIMIT S. P. SHIPPING MAY 1.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Shippers were reminded today by the Southern Pacific Company of new diversion and reconsignment rules which go into effect May 1, limiting changes in destination to one, whether ordered while a car is in transit or after it has reached its first destination.

The new rules do not apply to fresh fruits and vegetables.

BRAZIL CONSUL FOR BAY CITY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 29.—A decree providing for reform of the personnel of the Foreign Office and the Consular Corps has been signed. A department of economics and commerce has been created by this measure, as well as a consular inspection corps. It provides for a consulate at San Francisco.

The A. P. Summary.

dication that an immediate withdrawal from Ypres is contemplated by the Allies, at least not until they have exacted from the enemy a great sacrifice of human lives.

GAIN AT ONE POINT.

The only point at which the Germans made any gains was on the hilly section of the front back of Kemmel hill, where the French are standing. At some points the enemy was able to occupy portions of the line, but from the greater part of these he was driven out by the French, who re-established their defenses.

Frontal attacks on Ypres would seem to indicate that there is little confidence in the German General Staff that the Ypres positions can be outflanked from the south. The lines as they stand today are very strong and withstood the onset of the Germans in 1914, when the Teuton army was a much different machine than it is today. The bloody repulse of the Germans in their great plunge forward will mean much in further operations in that sector of the battle line.

DELUGE OF SHELLS.

When the struggle was going on before Ypres, the British positions from La Bassee to Houtholst wood and from Lens to Vimy were deluged with shells, but so far there has been no infantry fighting reported from that part of the front. An attack on this salient in the German lines is expected soon, however, for it stands as a constant menace to a further advance by the enemy.

Along the front in the Somme sector, part of which is being held by Americans, there has been little fighting of note. Farther south there have been only patrol encounters.

THE MILLER ESTATE MUST PAY BIG TAX.

HEIRS OF MILLIONAIRE CATTLE BARON GIVEN TEN DAYS TO PAY INHERITANCE TAX.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Notice that the government will expect the heirs of the late Henry Miller, millionaire cattle and land owner of California and Nevada, who died some time ago, to pay an inheritance tax upon the estate within ten days, was given counsel for the heirs today by Assistant United States District Attorney E. F. Jared.

Miller's estate was appraised at approximately $40,000,000. Most of this had been conveyed April 12, 1913, to his heirs in a deed of trust. The State sued immediately after Miller's death for a tax on the inheritance and won in the lower courts. The decision was appealed.

The amount of Federal inheritance tax demanded by the government has been set, according to Federal officials.

"It is a very, very large sum," was the comment of Justus S. Wardell, collector of internal revenue here.

ATTEMPTS TO WRECK TROOP TRAIN, CAUGHT.

MEXICAN, BELIEVED GERMAN TOOL, BURNS BRIDGE, MAY BE CONSPIRACY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DEL RIO (Tex.) April 29.—Eugenio Mata, a former Mexican Federal soldier charged with burning a bridge on the Southern Pacific railway at Sycamore, Tex., ten miles east of Del Rio, on April 20, at his preliminary hearing today was remanded to jail in default of $500 bond to await action by the grand jury. Cristobal Mendez, a 17-year-old Mexican, arrested as an accomplice of Mata, was released.

The bridge was destroyed about two hours before a troop train was scheduled to pass.

Special officers for the Southern Pacific company at today's hearing testified that they expected to develop that Mata was a tool of Germans or German sympathizers in Mexico, and was sent to Texas to wreck troop trains.

Detectives, working on the case, said further developments were expected, probably showing a wide conspiracy to burn bridges.

You Can't Rub It Away; Rheumatism is in the Blood

Liniments Will Never Cure.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you will never succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain, and go after that. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain.

You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has never had an equal as a blood purifier and scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all traces of the disease from their system.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drug store, and get on the right treatment to-day. If you want special medical advice, you can obtain it free by addressing Medical Director, 23 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

FIGHTER JOINS NAVY TO CONQUER KAISER.

GREAT LAKES (Ill.) April 29.—Richie Mitchell, one of the most prominent candidates for the lightweight championship of the world, will enlist in the navy tomorrow at Great Lakes. With Ensign John Kennedy, United States Navy, he toured the station today and was so impressed that he has decided to throw uppercuts at the Hun from a battleship.

Mitchel, until a few weeks ago, was detailed as a boxing instructor at Fort Sill, Okla., where Camp Doniphan, the national army cantonment, is located. The life there was too tame, so Mitchell decided that he would get into active service in the navy. When not engaged in performing the duties for which his rating calls, Mitchell will teach the sailors how to swing their arms in self-defense.

SAN JACINTO AGAIN VISITED BY TEMBLOR.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN JACINTO (Cal.) April 29.—Comparatively mild earthquake shocks continued to be felt here last night and today. One occurred at 7 p.m. last night, which rocked tables and furniture. A less severe one was felt at 5 a.m. to day. Neither did any damage.

Some persons, fearful of damage such as was done April 21 when three shocks tumbled over a score of buildings and homes here and at Hemet, still slept outdoors last night.

Today a breeze ripped off part of the canvas roof over the Southern California Telephone Company's office recently reoccupied, and heavy fog filled the building.

For Humanity's Sake.

TO AID ENEMY ALIENS' FOLK.

Americans to Co-operate, Foes to Pay the Cost.

Interned Persons Themselves are Our "Guests."

For Prisoners We Render Bill for Board Later.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—With the approval and co-operation of the American government, the legations of Switzerland and Sweden, representing respectively German and Austro-Hungarian interests, have undertaken to direct relief work among indigent enemy aliens throughout the United States. Relief will be extended to needy families of interned aliens direct from the legation funds, while, to aid lawabiding enemy aliens who have suffered on account of their status, a national committee of Americans is to be organized to cooperate with the legations and their consular office.

LANSING'S STATEMENT.

Secretary Lansing announced the arrangement today in this statement:

"In the interests of safety and welfare of this country it has been found necessary from time to time to restrict the movements and fields of employment of enemy aliens. In some cases these restrictions have worked hardships on enemy aliens who in all respects have shown themselves friendly to the United States, but who, owing to the accident of birth and war conditions, have been unable to change their status as such and have of necessity become objects of charity. Likewise, the families of those enemy aliens, whom the government deems it advisable to intern, are often deprived of their means of livelihood and they also become dependent on the charity of others.

INTERNES' RELATIVES.

"In order to meet this condition the Legation of Switzerland and the Legation of Sweden, in charge, respectively, of German and Austro-Hungarian interests in the United States, have with the approval and co-operation of this government undertaken to systematize and supervise all the relief that may be given to needy enemy aliens, wherever and however situated, throughout the country. In the case of the interned enemy aliens and their families, the legations have agreed to supply all the relief from their own funds, limiting such relief to what is found after careful investigation to be the essential minimum.

THE OTHERS.

"The case of the law-abiding enemy aliens has presented a more complex problem. This it is proposed to meet by the formation of a national committee composed of American citizens, which, in co-operation with the legations of Switzerland and Sweden and the consuls under their jurisdiction, will investigate all cases of distress among this class and will control the collection and distribution of all funds that may be subscribed for the purpose of their relief.

"It will, of course, have local committees working under it wherever the need of such committees is felt, and will render accounts of its activities to the proper authorities.

"I feel confident that the intelligent and controlled relief of enemy aliens in distress, in accordance with the proposed methods, is a humanitarian measure in accord with the spirit in which we have undertaken to carry out this war."

DISTINCTIONS EXPLAINED.

There is no obligation in existing treaties for such treatment of enemy aliens as is proposed. In Germany and Austria many such have been detained and most of them are largely dependent for support upon the food supplies sent in through the Red Cross or other organizations.

In the case of enemy aliens who are now interned, the United States is liable for the cost of their maintenance, as in the case of enemy lawbreaker or suspect. The Swiss and Swedish legations may supply them with some small articles of food not provided by the internment camps' administration.

The activities of the legations will not extend in any way to the comparatively few prisoners of war in this country. The Hague treaties provide that the cost of their maintenance shall be assessed against the enemy countries upon the conclusion of peace.

CHATTANOOGA WINS.

Chattanooga defeated Memphis, 7 to 0, in the only game played in the Southern Association. Rain halted the games in the other league cities.

Shock Troops.

Comines Canal on the east to Mont Cassel on the west, with a center group, 300 feet high, with Mont de Cats at the western and Mont Rouge at the eastern extreme, while Kemmel and Cassel are isolated hills, separated from the eastern and western ends of the chain by from one to six miles, respectively, of rolling country.

The penetration of these disconnected hills to the north, the capture of Ypres or cutting the line of communication with Calais at Poperinghe and taking Hazebrouck Junction is the German endeavor in this sector, and explains Ludendorff's persistence and the price he appears to be willing to pay.

KEMMEL NOT ESSENTIAL.

Important, however, as Kemmel is, it was not essential to Allied success. Should the Boche hold it, which is doubtful at this writing, the Allies hold other positions on the chain which oppose and will eventually halt him.

Locre is the first of these, beyond which the Boche can pass only with a heavy loss, from which even a German commander may shrink. Although it is unwise to minimize the seriousness of the loss of such an important key position in this area, it is necessary, to obtain a proper perspective of the battle, to consider the contributing elements, the price paid, the plan of the Allies, and the vantage ground which still remains in their hands.

The German encircling movements have been made possible by the greatly larger forces and the entire disregard of loss of life. The enemy secured Kemmel by advancing on the flanks and from the front in overwhelming strength and leaving his dead in almost a carpet on the hillsides, from which the French retreated only after a heroic defense and deadly execution.

Although the hills give observation over the Ypres area, the Allies are strongly placed to the west and north and are growing stronger daily as the amalgamation of the British and French improves and the American forces prepare to enter.

That the Germans were obliged to call new, fresh divisions to secure this foothold indicates the quality of the Allied resistance and the speed with which the Germans are using up their reserves.

The Allies' plan: to make the Germans pay the highest price for every mile they advance, at a minimum cost to themselves, should be weighed in the balance with all local Boche successes.

Despite such gains, those who are in a position to judge with some accuracy, feel that the German flood is spending itself on the Allies' bayonets and that, although even heavier onslaughts are certain and, perhaps, further local success possible, it is not too optimistic, after a month's stupendous effort, to say that its rage is unavailing to reach the main objective.

DESPERATE TO GET A DECISION.

That the Boches are willing to sacrifice life so ruthlessly both in the line and behind it, throughout the Allies' valor on the ground and their daring and consummate skill in the air, suggests the enemy's desperate determination on a decision, and the bringing nearer of the day of his exhaustion, and the disclosure of Foch's stroke with a strategical reserve army practically intact.

Yet, the gravity of the situation is not to be blinked at. The Germans still have many reserve divisions, which will last a long time, even at the rate they are being used at present. More and more the question of the hour becomes one of man power, as the battle settles to exhausting the foe and yet surviving with enough strength to deliver a knockout in this term of endurance.

On this basis the Allies' campaign is being conducted. In the final effort, victory will go to the side with the last reserves, and on America now rests the responsibility of putting that last smashing blow within the power of the Allies.

TO INTERN CATTLE POISONER SUSPECT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RENO (Nev.) April 29.—Max Tillig, an enemy alien, suspected by Federal officers of being connected with the poisoning of cattle belonging to the Nevada Packing Company at Fernley, for which William G. Willis, a saloon-keeper of Fernley, was arrested by Federal officers last night, is being held in the Lyon County Jail pending orders from Washington to intern him. His internment was recommended by United States Attorney Woodburn.

Willis is also in the Lyon County Jail and it is thought now by Federal officials that he will be prosecuted under State laws, as the "sabotage" act was not in force at the time the cattle were poisoned.

NOMINATING PETITION DENIED SEDITIONIST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL, April 29.—Julius A. Schmahl, Secretary of State, announced today that he would not accept the nominating petition of J. O. Bentall, Socialist candidate for Governor, unless instructed by court order to do so.

Bentall recently was convicted of making seditious utterances and was sentenced to five years at Leavenworth.

SHIPBUILDERS RESPOND NOBLY

Forty Thousand Tonnage in the Week Just Ended.

Nearly Million and Half Tons Since Task Began.

Applications are Being Made for Training Ship.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—American shipbuilders have responded to the Shipping Board's urgent demand for speed in production. In the week ending today they launched 41,105 tons, making a total of 1,405,000 tons since the building programme got under way. Nearly 50,000 tons of completed ships were delivered during the week.

Three steel ships aggregating 18,305 tons and one wooden ship of 3500 tons were launched in one day.

One of the four wooden ships put into the water during the week, the Caponka, of 3500 tons, was launched by the Grant, Smith & Porter company, Portland, Or., in fifty days from the time the keel was laid, the shortest time ever recorded for launching a hull of that size. The other wooden hulls are: Accoma, 3500 tons, Newark, N. J.; Sturgeon Bay, 3500 tons, Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and Astoria, 3500 tons, Astoria, Or.

The launchings were divided evenly between steel and wooden vessels, the steel hulls being the tanker Flagler, 11,375 tons, Newport News, Va., and three freighters, West Bridge, 8800 tons, Portland, Or.; Piqua, 4000 tons, Wilmington, Del., and Lake Chelan, 2930 tons, Toledo, O.

All of the deliveries were ships that were requisitioned on the stocks, including one tanker, the Overbrook, 9000 tons, built at Chester, Pa., and six freighters, Lake Charles and Lake Como, 3100 tons each, Lorain, O.; Yellowstone, 9400 tons, San Francisco; Westgate, 8800 tons, Portland, Or.; Western Queen, 8800 tons, Seattle, and Bremerton, 7500 tons, Seattle.

SEEK BERTHS ON IRIS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Applications for places on the United States Shipping Board's training ship Iris, which is expected to receive its first class of student mariners within five weeks, were being received here today, according to announcement of Capt. I. N. Hiberd, chief of the Shipping Board's Pacific Coast training bureau.

The Iris is being reconstructed at a Pacific port. Capt. Ryland Drennan, who will command her, is on his way to Boston to confer with Henry Howard, chief of the recruiting service.

American citizens between 21 and 30 years of age are eligible for training, and will be exempted from military service while in the American Merchant Marine, in which they must agree to serve for the duration of the war. Students' pay rate is $30 monthly. The course is six weeks. The Iris will be at sea most of this time and will visit all American Pacific Coast ports. Upon graduation the class of 400 will be placed on American merchant ships; another 400 will be put on the Iris.

COAST-BUILT SHIP SUNK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 29.—The American steamship Westerly, one of the first of the new ships built by the Emergency Fleet Corporation, was sunk in a collision yesterday off the French coast, according to information received in shipping circles here today. All aboard were saved.

The Westerly, a vessel of about 5000 tons, launched on the Pacific Coast in February, was returning to the United States after having completed the first half of her maiden trip to Europe. No details of the collision were received.

LAUNCHED IN SEATTLE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE, April 29.—The Westerly was launched at the Seattle shipyard of the Ames Shipbuilding Corporation, February 27, 1918.

LINER FIGHTS U-BOAT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

AN ATLANTIC PORT, April 29.—A large French trans-Atlantic liner which arrived here today was unsuccessfully attacked by a submarine when two days out from a French port. The torpedo passed astern and the merchantman gave battle. Cruisers convoying the liner joined in the fight and the U-boat fled, with several of the warships in pursuit.

OKLAHOMA REPORTS MEN FOR TRAINING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 29.—Every local board in Oklohoma is reporting today to the adjutant-general's office the number of men available who can be sent to training camps at short notice.

The call for information was made at the request of the War Department, according to Adjt.-Gen. Gipson.

Rev. Smith Reported Safe.

PASADENA, April 30.—Rev. Dr. Merle N. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Pasadena, did not sail on the ship which was sunk while carrying Y.M.C.A. war workers, according to Mrs. Smith, who yesterday said that she had a letter from her husband from an Atlantic port, stating that he had not sailed on the ship which he was to have taken, and which was the one sunk by a torpedo.

The letter said that Rev. Smith was to have occupied a state room with Joseph A. Matthews, of No. 7547 Highton avenue, Hollywood, but that Rev. Smith's passport had been delayed until after the sailing date of the illfated ship. Rev. Smith is now on the Atlantic on another ship, Mrs. Smith said.

CHICAGO BARS BISMARCK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 29.—Bismarck, the Iron Chancellor of Germany, was banished from Chicago public schools today by the Board of Education. The action came in an order for the removal of all statues, pictures or representation of any man responsible for the present military system in Germany.

GREAT NEWS RECEIVED.

News from around Amiens is setting wild what few American fighters there are left in the capital here. As for some marooned correspondents and other marooned but hopeful correspondents—hopeful of getting to the front "in a few days," they are delirious with long-suppressed patriotism.

Our fellow-citizens went into battle in pitch darkness, save for what illumination was furnished them by the constantly working artillery of the enemy. (Some virtue in kultur, after all.)

Our boys said: "Thanks for the light," and with an unprecedented record for top efficiency in getting their guns into position and action and blazed the return compliment of a hellish fire from the Huns.

AROUND TOUL.

Around Toul, which is becoming as well known by reputation in Los Angeles as some other summer resorts, they harried, but never hurried us; but what the American soldier, perhaps, a year ago selling shoes, is standing up before these last few days in keeping the German back is a subject for patriotic orations a hundred years hence. We knew they would; they marched up to the Germans singing, and they're still singing as they try to jab the bayonet just below the fifth rib on the left side or jump on the Hun so as to drive his floating ribs back neatly, nicely, and cut his lungs out.

They marched, in some cases, fifty miles, and the nearer they got to the enemy guns the harder the U.S.A. were to hold back in line. Pretty good, for Hindenburg's despised "dollar worshippers."

TRIBUTE TO FAR WEST.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, April 27.—(Delayed.) "France cherishes deeply the alliance with America as furnishing the greatest military structure for war on Germany and looks to the United States for economic structure while furnishing men. The combination is invincible. We hope the alliance continues as a purely commercial and economic union after the war," declared a French official.

"France commercially was handicapped before the war by Germany's ruthless business system backed by militarism and she had not recovered from Germany's other assault on her rights. In alliance with America she can win back her rights."

The interest and loyalty of The Times is appreciated. An official at a dinner attended by many prominent people said:

"We have had the East and Middle West with us, but we have waited a long time for a representative from the Far West. This is the first time during the war that a Pacific Coast paper has had a man in France.

"It is another link in the golden chain of amity and enduring good will. We want the people of the great Pacific Coast to be told what we are doing in the world war for humanity and to know us for what we are."

WEATHER ELSEWHERE.

All Middle West Colder and Drizzling Rains are General. Temperatures South Drop.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 29.—All the Middle West was colder today and drizzling rains were general, although light in volume. Eastern States also were colder, with sporadic rainfall. Southern States slumped off an average of ten degrees, with heavy rains in Texas, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi. Maximum temperature in Chicago was 50 deg., minimum 46 deg. The Ohio Valley witnessed a drop of 34 degrees during the night.

WOMAN KILLED ON TRIP TO SEE SON.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OAKLAND, April 29.—Mrs. Susan Tregay of Los Angeles died in a hospital at Pleasanton today from injuries received last night when an automobile in which she was riding with her son and daughter, bound for American Lake, overturned in a ditch. Mrs. Tregay was accompanied by her son, W. G. Tregay, who drove the automobile, and her daughter. They were on their way to visit her other son at Camp Lewis.

ENEMY RAID REPULSED IN VOSGES DISTRICT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 29.—The War Office announcement tonight says:

"Both artilleries are active north and south of the Avre in the region of Piemont. An enemy detachment, which attempted to cross the Oise east of Varesnes, was dispersed.

"In the Vosges we repulsed a raid on one of our small posts in the Linge sector.

"Two enemy airplanes were brought down April 27. The same day our bombing planes dropped 6000 kilos of projectiles on establishments in the enemy zone.

"Eastern theater, April 28: The artillery was active east of the Vardar and at the Cerna Bend. On Dobropolje a Serbian detachment penetrated an enemy work and after an engagement with grenades drove out the garrison. Bulgarian attempts at two surprise attacks in the same sector were repulsed.

"British aviators bombed enemy encampments around Demir Hissar and Seres."

tunity offers, may continue for some time.

Unofficial reports from Paris have indicated three weeks as the time that might elapse before the Allies could regain the initiative. So far as known, however, there is nothing of official nature to indicate what Gen. Foch, supreme commander, looks forward to in this regard.

WELCOME NEWS.

Official announcement that American troops are in the trenches in the Amiens region was welcomed by officials here. It has been known for some time that a considerable force had been assembled in that vicinity, but the fact that Americans were actually confronting the German army at this point, where the final battle is being waged, had not been communicated.

The only statement as to the ground occupied by the American forces is that it is east of Amiens. Since unofficial dispatches describe the sector as not directly involved in present fighting at Villers-Bretonneux and Villers-Bretonneux, however, it is assumed that the newcomers have been placed somewhere along the line to the southeast of Hangard en Santerre and Noyon.

If so, officers here believe that these Americans will share in the ultimate triumph of the Allies' armies directed at it from this flank of the recently battlefield that has already been anticipated and the counter movement will be launched.

RELIEVE VETERANS.

The number of American troops in this part of the line and their organization has not been revealed, though the presence of American artillery indicates tactical units of considerable size. The force serves to relieve veteran French troops employment by Gen. Foch as a mobile reserve to back up hard-pressed sectors of the French or British fronts, or to be used in readiness for counter lines.

GERMAN CANARD IS EXPOSED BY BRITISH

LONDON, April 27.—A dispatch from Stockholm says the Aftonbladet publishes one or two other papers report a stream from Zurich, by way of Berlin, to the effect that the fleet of British transports returning in the channel to take the army home in case of defeat.

On inquiry of the American Press Bureau, the Press Bureau's agency was informed that the statement contained in the above mentioned telegram "is entirely devoid of any foundation."

CONVICTED SLACKER GIVES U. S. WORK

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 29.—H. Fadler, a capitalist, who was sentenced in Federal Court here to a fine of $5000 and imprisonment in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., for five years, having obstructed the Liberty Bonds, today paid the fine and subscribed for bonds in the sum of $12,000.

In a statement he says that in having made provision for his wife he places practically all of his remaining wealth at the disposal of the government to enable it to win the war.

Too Much Meat For the Kidneys

Most of us eat more meat than our systems require. It creates uric acid, overworks and weakens the kidneys and brings on attacks of backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and a dull, drowsy tired or worn-out condition. If you are in this condition start right now to help flush the kidney poisons down stairs, lighten the duties of these overworked organs, and assist the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands praise this well-known remedy for quick, satisfactory results.

Another Los Angeles Case

Henry Marshal, 221 N. Alvarado St., Los Angeles, Cal., says: "Six months ago my kidneys began to give me an awful lot of trouble. At my work I had to stoop and my feet a great deal and that only made my suffering worse. I could scarcely bear the sharp twinges in my back and half the time I had my kidneys pressed on my back trying to relieve the pain. I had to get up nearly every night to pass the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me."

BOY RECITES WAR BRUTALITY

Fought with the Canadians in Battle of Ypres.

Saw Sergeant Crucified by Brutes of Kaiser.

Enemy Prisoners Bayoneted After Horrible Sight.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 30.—The brutal incident giving rise to the deadly hatred existing between Canadian and German soldiers was recited to friends of the Hotel Maryland today by L. F. Berteau, now a bell boy there, who served two years and three months in France before he was given a disability discharge by reason of shell shock, having been the sole surviving member of eleven ambulance attaches who were killed by shell fire. He went over the top nine times, and proudly wears his ribbon over his heart.

"It was after the battle of Ypres had continued four days. Out of the 800 of the Third Battalion there were 173 left. It was nothing but hand and bayonets. Five thousand Canadian troops had fought 20,000 Germans to a finish during those four days. The Germans didn't know how many there were against them, or we couldn't have lasted.

"The battle opened on April 22, 1915. The first shell of the German bombardment killed eleven children who were playing in the main square of the town. The second knocked the cornice off the Town Hall. After that it was the fiercest kind of fighting.

"After fighting to exhaustion we were relieved from the trenches by the Durham Light Infantry. We had fifty prisoners we were taking back with us on the way to the billets. The fighting was continuing that night with battle flares. It was light enough to see to pick up a pin.

"Suddenly there was a shout ahead. A hundred yards away in the German trench a shutter was pulled up to view. On it was crucified one of our sergeants—a bayonet through each of his hands and one through his throat. He was still struggling in agony.

"The men forgot they were tired and exhausted. They went crazy. Part of them fired on their own sergeant to end his torture. The others attended to the German prisoners with bayonets. After that there was no quarter on either side."

"No I didn't bayonet any of them—I couldn't get close enough," he said in answer to the question.

Berteau is of French-Irish parentage. He served as dispatch rider to a major of a division supply company after his infantry regiment was reorganized and was in the hospital nine months before recovering from the paralysis caused by shell shock. He came to Pasadena from Montreal.

BONDS ARE TOO FEW.

The discovery that there were 4000 persons in Pasadena, Altadena, Lamanda Park, La Canyada, and Linda Vista who have not subscribed to Liberty Bonds and who are able to do so has given the campaign an additional personal impetus, according to J. B. Coulston, head of the Liberty Bond Committee.

"Not only have there been many who have not subscribed, but there is too many who have not finally signed-up at the banks. We have $2,400,000 in subscribers and only $1,900,000 in signers. Of course, we are over the minimum quota, but that is no particular credit to Pasadena.

"In this town there has been only 7000 subscribers and we have a population in our territory of over 50,000, about 14 per cent. have shown that they are real citizens. It makes a better citizen to sell him a Liberty Bond. Immediately he has a personal responsibility in the war. Other towns average 25 per cent. of their population.

"Little San Gabriel with 1500 population and bank deposits of only $82,000, has 500 subscribers to the extent of $130,000. This speaks well for San Gabriel," said Mr. Coulston before calling his committee together yesterday afternoon to map out plans for a more rigorous finish to the campaign.

MAY DAY TODAY.

Pasadena school children will have their May Day festivities today at Tournament Park instead of waiting for tomorrow when a circus is to come to town. It was feared by the Board of Education that they could not hold a holiday and enter successfully into competition with the wild animal attractions. Folk dances, drills and games with a gigantic Maypole and band will make up the afternoon programme.

VENICE DOUBLES BOND QUOTA; STILL GOING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, April 29.—Venice has not only doubled its Liberty Loan quota and thus is entitled to a Liberty Loan flag with an honor star of blue added, but Chairman John S. Moore of the Venice Loan Committee is undertaking a trebling or even a quadrupling of the city's quota of $37,900 as his goal. The figures are now well over $100,000, and still going strong.

Venice Boy Scouts, Troop No. 1, are now in camp on the ocean front, from where they are conducting a vigorous and active Liberty Bond and Thrift Stamps sales campaign. To date they have disposed of bonds to the value of $2800 and War Savings Stamps amounting to $176.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA, DECLARES MARUSCH.

HARBOR FISH DEALERS DENY ALLEGED ATTEMPTS AT PROFITEERING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 29.—Denying that they made attempts at profiteering in the fish business by combining to force fishermen to sell them their catches at 1 cent a pound, local fish dealers today strenuously denied the reports circulated to that effect.

The statements were not directed at any one dealer or company in particular, but were to the effect that a meeting was called among the dealers wherein they took action to force a certain fisherman, Tony Zankich, to sell a catch of twenty tons of barracuda at 1 cent a pound.

A. H. Finch of the San Pedro Fish Company said he knew the story to be absolutely false, saying that his company bought 1500 pounds from Zankich and paid 5 cents a pound for it.

"The statement that the dealers held a meeting to cut down prices yesterday is absolutely false and sounds like German propaganda," said A. K. Marusch of the American-Union Fish Company. "We were completely sold out of barracuda yesterday and had to order from San Diego, for which we paid 4½ cents a pound. Why would we not pay that much here?"

Zankich is quoted as saying he was unable to sell more than a few tons before the dealers met and combined to force him to sell at 1 cent a pound. Refusing to do this, he said he gave his fish to charitable establishments rather than sell so cheap. All the local fish dealers regarded the story as ridiculous.

HOUSE WAS BOOZELESS, BUT NOT THE GARDEN.

OFFICIALS DIG UP CACHE AND THEN TAKE WOMAN TO JAIL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, April 29.—When Sheriff Jackson and Under Sheriff Iman climbed a fence and raided the home of Mrs. Camilla Moreno, near Anaheim, it was with full faith that they would find a large quantity of beer there. The woman was charged with running a blind pig, but there was no booze in the house. Iman conceived the idea that it was buried somewhere near. He prodded around the garden until he found a soft spot, into which he dug and unearthed two gunny sacks filled with bottled beer. The woman is in jail.

CANYON ROAD COST.

According to estimates submitted by County Surveyor J. L. McBride today, it will cost between $55,000 and $85,000 for Orange county to put in a permanent roadway up the Santa Ana Canyon from Olive to the Riverside county line. Practically all of the road is built and most of it is paved, but there remains a section of several scores of yards where the river has washed out the road to the cliffs. Whether to build along the river edge by trestles and cutting into the mountainside, or to go over the ridge to avoid the treacherous river edge is to be decided by the Board of Supervisors. A consulting engineer is to be employed.

SANTA MONICA BURGLARS BUSY.

Heroism of a Printer Saves Little Girl's Life.

Two Hundred Thousand is Third Subscription.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, April 29.—Four business blocks on as many corners of Third street and Santa Monica boulevard and thirteen offices were entered some time between Saturday evening and this morning by persons unknown, who got away with two $50 Liberty Bonds, $81.75 in War Savings Stamps, $3 in postage stamps and $8.50 in cash, a total of $193.25, as a result of their dexterity with a jimmy and a good ear for safe tumblers.

The losses were reported early this morning by Elmer M. Smashey, the janitor of the buildings entered. According to the investigation made by Chief F. W. Ferguson, Capt. Clarence Webb and Detective Jack Annin, the wholesale breaks are the work of an expert, judging from the careful forcing of the doors, which shows almost no trace, and the fact that two small safes were opened without resort to forcing.

A safe in the office of Moe Fogel, attorney and chairman of the Board of Education, yielded the marauders a $50 Liberty Bond, $50 in War Savings Stamps, and $1 in cash. Another office in the same building, the Bank of Santa Monica Building, occupied by the Ramona Corporation, lost the postage stamps. A peculiarity of the burglar's work is that everything that had been disturbed in the course of the robbery was carefully put back in its place, except the things actually taken. In both places where Thrift Stamps were pilfered, the envelope which contained them was put back exactly where it had been first seen, hence many of those who suffered small losses were unaware of the robbery until the police began a careful investigation.

In the Juniper Building, the office of Dr. Lynn H. Case was entered and another $50 Liberty Bond taken, as well as $7.50 in cash. The office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in this building, where the theft was first discovered, lost five $5 War Savings Stamps and twenty-seven of the 25-cent denomination. In addition to the entering of several other offices in this structure, most of them used by doctors and dentists, who report no loss, offices in the Butler Building and the Dudley Block showed evidences that the thieves had tried to effect an entrance. The police are of the opinion the work was done at night, as several empty offices were broken into.

PRINTER RESCUES CHILD.

A thrilling rescue of a 2-year-old girl from almost certain death was made late today by G. A. Clawson, a printer employed by the Sawtelle Tribune. The latter, at the risk of his own life, jumped aboard a light delivery truck which was traveling down the Cherry street hill at a speed estimated at little short of sixty miles an hour, and succeeded in bringing it to a stop just short of a ditch. Clawson's heroism is accented by the fact that he knew nothing whatever about automobiles or how to stop them, but by rare good fortune put his feet down on the brake, thus bringing the hurtling vehicle to an abrupt stop.

The little girl, Carrie Grayson, daughter of Charles Grayson, had been riding with her father while he was making deliveries in the truck. He got out at the top of the hill for this purpose, and when he came out he saw the vehicle slowly starting down the steep incline. In vain he hastened after it, too late to catch up. Clawson, who was going up the hill, saw the truck approaching, and hearing the father's cries, made a flying leap from the curb as the car went by, landing on the running board.

The engine in the truck was not going, and the cause of the runaway is believed to be due to the failure of the brakes to hold or carelessness in setting them.

HONOR FLAG FLYING.

Santa Monica is well over the top in the Liberty Loan drive, in token of which the flag with the blue double stripe today proudly floats from the City Hall. The city's quota is $162,400, but it is believed that the figure subscribed is now well over $200,000. Chairman Henry J. Englebrecht of the Santa Monica Loan Drive Committee refuses to give the exact amount, as he is exerting every nerve to give everyone a big surprise when the drive closes.

VISALIA, April 29.—A. R. Orr, representing the Visalia Board of Trade, has been appointed to have charge of the plans for equipment at Hyde Park of a free camping ground for automobile tourists.

Camp stoves, space for tents, tables for lunches, and other conveniences of a similar nature are to be provided, and the grounds will be kept in shape by the park employees.

STRIVING FOR MILLION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EL CENTRO, April 29.—With the valley's total subscriptions $760,000, or $50,000 over the quota, all cities of the prosperous Wonderland Valley have received honor flags. There is no let up in the canvass for more subscriptions, however, and a million dollars will be Imperial Valley's total of subscriptions before she is through.

WHITTIER LIBRARY BOOKS TO SOLDIERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, April 29.—Almost 2000 volumes is the result of the recent drive for books for the army camps, as reported by the Whittier library authorities. Seven consignments of books left for various camps today, and two had been sent previously. The drive will continue.

Miss Elizabeth Burnside, an eastern library worker, who is spending a few months with relatives here, has assisted in the local drive, and says that the donations should continue during the war. "We must continually replace the books that are wearing out," says Miss Burnside. All books sent to the camps from Whittier have been as carefully catalogued as if they were to be placed in the public library here. Typewriting students at the high school have been of much service in the cataloguing work.

THRIFT STAMPS AS TICKETS; NET $61.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, April 29.—A thrift stamp entertainment put on by the war savings societies of the intermediate school where the entire 250 children constitute a federation of seven branch societies, netted $61 in thrift stamp sales. Tickets of admittance were thrift stamps pasted in the book of each child.

Miss Clara Midcalf of the school was the principal speaker. The affair was under the supervision of Miss C. M. Noble, secretary of the combined organizations in the school, and Superintendent of Schools, Richardson D. White. Miss Elizabeth Jackson was chairman for the day. The programme included patriotic music by the children, a number by the girls' glee club entitled "Knitting," and a musical reading by Miss Bertha Jackson.

FRENCH PARTIES BUY THREE MOTORSHPS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 29.—Three big motorships of the Charles R. McCormick fleet were reported sold this week to French parties at high prices. The vessels were all taken over recently by the government, but the rate was fixed so low that the owners decided to sell them. The vessels figuring in the deal were the City of Portland, City of St. Helens and S. I. Allard.

COUNTERFEITER PASSES BOGUS MONEY.

RAISES DOLLAR BILL TO TEN, THEN GETS CASH FOR IT AT REDONDO.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, April 29.—A cunning counterfeiter has made his appearance in Redondo Beach and the police are keeping a sharp lookout for him. Thus far only one victim has been reported. Capt. F. H. Walters cashed one of his bogus $10 bills yesterday, but it was not discovered until this morning. The bogus paper was originally a $1 bill very artfully trimmed up to look like $10. Certain parts of the original bill were erased and painted over in such a manner that it could be detected only by close examination. The No. 10 was drawn on very thin paper and pasted over the original 1.

Ernest Heath, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, discovered that the bill was bogus. The fact that $10 bills have no eagles on them was what attracted his attention. It is thought that the person who passed this bill is a professional counterfeiter and an investigation is being made to ascertain if others fell victims to his art.

HIGHWAYMAN ROBS EL SEGUNDO WOMAN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EL SEGUNDO, April 29.—Mrs. T. B. Dinwoody of this city was held up at 9:30 o'clock this morning as she was returning from a visit to Hermosa Beach and robbed of $4.25. The robbery took place almost within the city limits of El Segundo. The robber stopped Mrs. Dinwoody by seizing her by the arm and asked if she had any money. The highwayman was asked how much he wanted and he said, "50 cents." Mrs. Dinwoody opened her purse and gave him $1. Seeing that she had more money he immediately pulled a revolver and compelled her to give him all she had. He then fled over the hills.

The police of the neighboring cities were at once notified of the robbery and furnished an accurate description of the man. It is said that they have a few clues. The man was about 21 years old, almost six feet tall, and slender. He wore a dark slouch hat and gray trousers, no coat, and a dark shirt. He was of a medium complexion, dark hair.

DROUTH THREATENS TULARE GRAIN CROP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, April 29.—Unless there is a heavy rain within the week there will be little grain in Tulare county. Warm weather accompanied by light winds for the past several days has rapidly dried out the grain land and except for irrigated tracts the crop will be ruined in another week.

In the Tulare Lake district the output promises to be good generally, with some of the larger tracts, notably that on the Harvester ranch, promising to make a bumper crop.

In the upper Tule and other river bottom districts the grain will make good hay and probably will average a ton and one-half to the acre.

Official Summary.

tunity offers, may continue for some time.

Unofficial reports from France have indicated three weeks as the time that might elapse before the Allies could regain the initiative. So far as known, however, there is nothing of an official nature to indicate what Gen. Foch, supreme commander, looks forward to in this regard.

WELCOME NEWS.

Official announcement that American troops are in the trenches in the Amiens region was welcomed by officials here. It has been known for some time that a considerable force had been assembled in that vicinity, but the fact that the Americans were actually in the line facing the German army at this point, where the final battle is being waged, had not been communicated.

The only statement as to the ground occupied by the American forces is that it is east of Amiens. Since unofficial dispatches describe the sector as not directly involved in the present fighting at Hangard and Villers-Bretonneux, however, it is assumed that the newcomers have been placed somewhere along the line to the southeast of Hangard, toward Noyon.

If so, officers here believe that these American units may share in the ultimate triumph of the Allies' armies directly, as it is from this flank of the Picardy battlefield that it has always been anticipated any great counter movement would be launched.

RELIEVE VETERANS.

The number of American troops in this part of the line and their organization has not been revealed, though the presence of American artillery indicates tactical units of considerable size. The force serves to relieve veteran French units for employment by Gen. Foch as a mobile reserve to back up hard-pressed sectors of the French or British fronts, or to be held in readiness for counter blows.

GERMAN CANARD IS EXPOSED BY BRITISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 29.—A Reuter dispatch from Stockholm says that the Aftonbladet publishes, and so do two other papers repeat, a telegram from Zurich, by way of Berlin, to the effect that "an entire fleet of British transports is waiting in the channel to take the British army home in case of need."

On inquiry of the Admiralty, Reuters' Agency was informed that the statement contained in the aforementioned telegram "is absolutely devoid of any foundation whatever."

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 29.—W. H. Fadler, a capitalist of this city, sentenced in Federal Court today to a fine of $5000 and imprisonment in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., for five years for having obstructed the sale of Liberty Bonds, today paid his fine and subscribed for bonds in the sum of $12,000.

In a statement he says that after having made provision for his wife, he places practically all of his remaining wealth at the disposal of the government to enable it to win the war.

Too Much Meat Bad For the Kidneys

Most of us eat more meat than our systems require. It creates uric acid, overworks and weakens the kidneys and brings on attacks of backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and a dull, drowsy tired or nervous condition. If you are in this run-down state, lighten the diet a bit and assist the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands praise Doan's for quick, satisfactory results.

Calomel Loses You a Day's Work!
Take Dodson's Liver Tone Instead

Read my guarantee! If bilious, constipated or headachy you need not take nasty, sickening, dangerous calomel to get straightened up.

Every druggist in town — your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much, but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

DEMPSEY WILL FIGHT FRIDAY.

Coast Heavyweight to Meet Billy Miske.

The Battle is Scheduled to go Ten Rounds.

Scrapper from California is the Favorite.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 29.—Fight fans in this section of the country are turning their attention to St. Paul this week. On Friday night Jack Dempsey, the sensational Coast heavyweight, will meet Billy Miske, the St. Paul mauler, in a ten-round bout. It looks like such a good fight that many fans from Chicago will make the journey to the ringside.

Here in Chicago, Dempsey is the favorite. Up north the fans are stringing along with Miske. Both factions are ready and eager to get their coin down, with the result that much gold will be wagered by the time the men enter the ring.

Dempsey, who is trying every known method of inducing Fred Fulton to meet him, has a royal chance of forcing the long Minnesota plasterer into an engagement through the Miske battle.

Billy recently went ten rounds with Fred and was credited in some quarters with having stopped him. Fulton knocked out Cowler in four rounds after being knocked down himself. Miske knocked out Cowler in seven rounds. If Dempsey should land a haymaker on Miske, the Fulton faction would have to notice the Coast scrapper.

MARINES PREPARING ROWING PROGRAMME.

Rowing, which has always been a spontaneous sport at the naval stations, is being organized among 100,000 enlisted men for the first time by the Commission on Training Camp Activities, and the longest and most formal set of races ever held in this country by marines will take place this summer. Except for racing at Annapolis, the sport has been subjected to practically no development in the navy.

YESTERDAY'S GAME.

Long Beach, 2; Jefferson, 0.

Long Beach High mounted another notch toward the prep baseball title yesterday afternoon by trouncing Jefferson, 2 to 0, on the grounds of the latter. The Long Beach Mermen have gobbled all seven of their league games this season for a percentage of 1.000, and figure that the pennant is about as good as theirs already.

The effective "Jim" battery of Jim Buckley and Jim Lawson handled the chucking and receiving, respectively, for the Mermen yesterday, Buckley holding the Democrats down to three scattered bingles. Schall, Long Beach's third baseman, and Andrews, shortstop, galloped over the plate with the two tallies of the day, both runs being registered in the seventh.

Two rounds of play remain to be observed before the decease of the season. On Friday, Pasadena and Hollywood meet at Hollywood, Poly and Manual at Manual and L. A. and Jefferson at Jefferson, Whittier and Long Beach holding byes.

BASEBALL GAME IS RAISIN DAY FEATURE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, April 29.—Raisin day tomorrow will take on a military aspect. Floats representing cooperation, "war savings" and "food conservation," will be conspicuous in the parade. There will be 350 former Fresno soldiers, now on duty at various camps. The queen will be Miss Geraldine Riggs, who will represent "The Goddess of Liberty," W. L. Matleck will be grand marshal. The afternoon will be devoted to military details, a band concert, a ball game between Camp Kearny team and the Marines, and military ball in the evening.

BOXERS TO FIGHT FOR LIBERTY BONDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) April 29.—A boxing contest calling for 60 per cent. of the gross receipts in Liberty Bonds to be divided between the contestants, is offered by Tom Andrews, local promoter, for a ten-round bout between Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, and Charley White, to be staged in Milwaukee in May or June.

A title match for the flyweight championship between "Zulu Kid" and Frankie Izzo is proposed as a semi-final bout.

STADIUM MAY BEAR SHERIDAN'S NAME.

The movement started several weeks ago to have the National Athletic Stadium soon to be erected in Washington, D. C., named in memory of Martin J. Sheridan, the great amateur athlete of New York, whose performances over a period of ten years earned a world-wide reputation, is meeting with popular approval.

UNIQUE AUTOGRAPH GOLF BOOK REVIVES MEMORIES.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

SCOTT CHISHOLM, the visiting Scottish golf chieftain, who wears his own clan tartan to strike terror into the hearts of his opponents on the links, is the proud possessor of a most precious autograph golf score book, in which the great golfers of the world have set down what they consider the best score they ever made, with their signatures appended.

For instance, the very first in the book is a 76, signed by James Braid, five times champion of the world, which he made on the St. Andrew's links in the open championship of the world in June, 1910. Then comes H. H. Barker, thrice amateur champion of Ireland, with a 68, on the Graden City links in 1910—Barker, who is now in the thick of it in France. Harold H. Hilton, several times amateur world champion, has autographed his Apawamis score of 74 with which he won the qualifying round in this country in 1911, later winning the United States championship. Harry Lauder is there for sentimental reasons with an 80 on the Van Cortlandt links. John Ball, famous multiple amateur champion, is there with a 73, make at Holyoke. And Harry Vardon, the prince of all the golfers, stands affectionately pledged to a 72, made on the Sandwich course in a tie for the world championship. Alexander Herd, cousin of Scott Chisholm, and famous veteran champion, signs for a 72 at Sandwich in 1911, and Finlay S. Douglas, first amateur champion of the United States, records a 71 in that year, made at Apawamis. Edward Ray, Vardon's co-famous partner, brags of a 71 at Muirfield in 1912, as his pet chef d'oevres. And Chick Evans stands forth for a 68 at the Chicago Golf Club in 1912.

GEORGE DUNCAN.

George Duncan, open champion of 1910, records his St. Andrew's score of 71—Duncan, who is regarded as the sensational golfer of the world, since he never won a championship, but hovered on the brink for lo, these many years. Such a dazzling long game, so impatient on the greens.

And J. H. Taylor is there, O five times world champion, the master of the mashie shot. Under his own signature he records his best score as that made at Sandwich in 1904 in the world championship—a 68. Frances Ouimet, open championship of 1913, signs for his score of 72, made at Brookline Country Club in that event. Ouimet is now in France. Arnaud Massey, the French champion, has the best score in the galaxy with a 62, made on the Scottish links at Archpeld in June, 1914—just before he went to war for France. J. Laurence Jenkins, who held the amateur title when the war broke out, signs for a 70, made on the old Troon course in that fatal summer, 1914—he lost his life with the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders three months later.

Cecil Hutchinson, English champion, wounded several times in this war and still going on, vouches for a 71 at Mid-Surrey in 1909 as his chef d'oeuvre. Lord Charles Hope, also a wounded hero now, French champion in 1913, stands recorded with a 75. Edward Balckwell, the longest driver of his day, signs a St. Andrew's score of 73, and Tom Fernie, the brilliant young Scottish profession champion of 1910, signs for a wonderful 65 in that event. He, too, has paid the price of war and was last heard of as going insane from his wounds. Kirkaldy is in that record for a 68 at St. Andrew's in 1913, and David Watt, the left-handed champion of the world, has a 64 in 1913 at Mortonhall. The antique score in the precious book is that autographed by "Old Man Hunter," dated 1873, a 51, made on the old twelve-hole course with a feather ball at Prestwich. William Fernie signed for a 79 in the open championship of 1883, with a gutty ball, and Harry K. B. Davis of "ours" is included with a 67, made in Oregon in 1913. Bob Macdonald, proclaimed the best pro. in this country, stands for a 64 at Palm Beach in 1914. Walter Ragen's Panama-Pacific exhibition score is there for Ingleside in 1915—that 66 that gave him the laurels. Louis Tellier's score made in the professional championship at Baden-Baden, Germany, in February, 1915—63—is duly autographed.

J. M. Barnes, who is winning everything in the East just now, records a 65 at Tacoma in 1912. Jerome Travers autographs a 68 at Montclair in 1912, during his amateur and open championship efflorescence. And Walter J. Travis, United States open and amateur champion of the past, gives a 69 at the Chicago Golf Club as his pet score.

Mr. Chisholm has room for plenty more dazzling scores in that priceless record, so, messieurs, hurry up and get into that Hall of Fame.

WOMEN'S TOURNEY.

The women's Southern California golf championship will take place on the Los Angeles Country Club links on May 6-10, inclusive. Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mrs. John C. Black and Mrs. Charles A. Perley are the committee in charge. There will be an eighteen-hole qualifying round on Monday at 1 p.m.—16 to qualify for the championship and the rest in flights of eight. Special events will be staged for the latter part of the week, with the finals and mixed foursomes on Friday, the 10th.

WITH THE ANGLERS.

THREATENING weather has held down the "run" of trout to the egg-taking station in Bear Valley the last few days, but the State "strippers" have already collected over 3,000,000 rainbow eggs and have assured the capacity of the hatchery at Green Spot, above Baldwin Lake. Nearly half the total "eyeing" capacity of the increased North Creek station is already in the troughs at that point, with the best of the "run" probably still to come.

Cool, foggy mornings are not the most favorable weather conditions for early-season trout fishing at the "opening" Wednesday, and experts with the worm probably will have all the best of it, with good spoon anglers making nice catches in the faster watera.

Yesterday's business in licensing anglers as totaled by the Fish and Game Commission, which supplies these needed "permits" through an elaborate system of resale agents who receive a 10 per cent. commission for their work of retailing angling and hunting licenses, indicates that even the combination of the first of the month with a mid-week business day will not materially reduce the turnout of sportsmen Wednesday. If half go who are preparing the creeks will look like Redondo wharves on a Sunday when the mackerel are running.

The Automobile Club reported Saturday that the road up the San Jacinto mountains by way of Banning was not passable. Yesterday it was learned that the Idyllwild grade, going up from Hemet, could be negotiated. As a result, quite a few anglers will resume their first plans and fish the San Jacinto or Strawberry this week.

Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner H. I. Pritchard reports that fencing the creeks in Bear Valley to exclude "spawners" from streams insufficient for nature's purposes has cut the loss of fish to forty-six, as against hundreds in previous years. He looks for the best sport with the smaller fish at the upper end of the lake for a few days after the opening. There are no fish in any of the creeks except North Creek, where they are being artifically stripped of their eggs, as a preliminary to saving the previous loss and investing it in better fishing for everybody through the State's scientific hatchery work. Big fish are now coming to the trap in North Creek, where Expert Louis Phillips "spawns" them—a unique and interesting sight.

The weather in Bear Valley has been cool, frosty at night, but pleasant enough in the daytime, and the experts believe some of the first-stripped "spawners" will be back "on the job" biting by the "first."

FOWLER IN FINE TRIM FOR FIGHT.

SAILOR SHOULD GIVE BENJAMIN TOUGH TIME IN VERNON RING.

Sailor Monk Fowler and Joe Benjamin, from Portland, will clash in what promises to be the best bout on the card at Jack Doyle's arena tonight. There is much interest in this event as both boys have boxed here a number of times and neither has lost a decision. Benjamin has made three starts and won them all while Fowler worked seven straight weeks and won every bout but one and that was called a draw. Fowler has been out of the game for about three months, but has been training daily at the naval training station at San Pedro, and should be in fine trim when he enters the ring.

A return match between Charlie Roselli and Ted Frenchie will be staged in the semi-windup. Both are 116-pounders. Elmer Brown, the heavy hitting middleweight, will tackle Ray Lincoln in the special event. Lincoln is enlisted at Fort MacArthur.

The balance of the programme follows: Kid Midget vs. Johnny Cordova, 122 pounds, Eddie Hanlon vs. Battling Frankie, 125 pounds, Sailor Swigart vs. Joe Perello, 126 pounds, Dick Donald will referee.

Opportunity knocks, and not in vain, for those who carefully, day after day, read and take advantage of the countless bargains advertised in the "Business Chances" columns in The Times' "liner" section.

UNIONS MOVE FOR RECALL OF JUDGE.

A movement to recall Superior Judge Frank G. Finlayson has been started by the Metal Trades Council of Los Angeles, supported by the Central Council of Labor. The reason for the recall movement is the recent granting by Judge Finlayson of a permanent injunction restraining Golden Gate Lodge No. 3 of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers from picketing in the vicinity of the plant of the Southern California Iron and Steel works at Fourth and San Mateo streets.

An appeal from Judge Finlayson's decision is also contemplated by the unions.

FISH IN PLENTY IN MALIBU CREEK.

So little of the Malibu Creek is open to the general public that the State has not stocked that stream, but it gets a heavy natural run of steelheads every winter, and when patrolled last week was found full of all sizes of fish. The Rindge estate, which controls all of the lower Malibu, allows no fishing except under permit, and various other private owners control the most of the upper creek. There is some open fishing about the Crater ranch, reached via Calabasas.

Big Rock Creek and streams on the north slopes generally are naturally later; these will come to their best with midsummer.

War Tax on Lyceum Courses.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Federal decrees holding that Lyceum courses are taxable under the War Revenue Act were in effect sustained today by the Supreme Court, which refused to review proceedings brought by the government against the Redpath Lyceum Bureau.

ROWDY ELLIOTT TO JOIN NAVY.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 29.—Rowdy Elliott, Cub second string catcher, has decided to enlist in the navy and expects to leave for California some time this week, where he will join Duffy Lewis at Mare Island. While Elliott was in California with the Cubs this spring, Lewis talked to the Cub backstop regarding his joining the navy.

Elliott is in the draft and it is only a matter of a few months when he will be called.

MAY DAY MEET FOR SOLDIERS PLANNED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NAVAL TRAINING CAMP, BALBOA PARK, SAN DIEGO, April 28.—Hundreds of former college track and field stars will again have an opportunity to show their prowess on the cinderpath before they leave for "over there," and will compete in the big military May Day festivities, which will be held in the large city stadium Wednesday afternoon.

The entire programme, which will include exhibition drills by the naval training camp, Sunshine Division, Twenty-first Infantry and Harbor Patrol, is under the direction of military officers and it is expected that more than 25,000 people will attend.

The affair is entirely free to the public and all expenses will be paid by the city Playground Commission and military camps.

ASSOCIATION OPENS SEASON TOMORROW.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 29.—American Association magnates will start their regular schedule on Wednesday, and the fans on the circuit are more up in the air in doping out the strength of the various teams than they have ever been before. Many players are youngsters and the draft is hitting them heavy, resulting in a wholesale shifting around of the line-ups.

Kansas City looks to be less hit than some of the others, as none of the fielders are within the draft age, although its pitching staff is in bad shape from the prospective draft. The opening round on Wednesday is as follows: Indianapolis at Columbus; Louisville at Toledo; St. Paul at Milwaukee; Minneapolis at Kansas City.

MAJOR CLUBS WILL PLAY IN NEWARK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 29.—Regular championship games of the National and American League games will be played every Sunday hereafter at the former Newark Federal League grounds at Harrison, N. J., it was announced today. A weekly game schedule at the Polo Grounds, New York, or at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, will be transferred to the Harrison Park each Sunday.

President Tener of the National League admitted tonight that it was necessary so that the major leagues could get back some of the money which they must pay for rental of the park under the terms of the Federal League peace agreement.

CHAMPION MERMAIDS COMPETE MAY 9.

FAMOUS SWIMMERS WILL CONTEST AT THE LOS ANGELES ATHLETIC CLUB.

The next big swimming event for the South will be held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Thursday night, May 9. Chairman Les Henry of the Swimming Committee believes he has lined u pas good an attraction as he had i nthe 220-yard national championship, only it will be the other sex that will do the entertaining this time.

Miss Claire Galligan and Miss Charlotte Boyle, both of New York, will be here to try and wrest a few titles from Miss Dorothy Burns, the greatest woman swimmer ever developed in Southern California. Miss Burns, it is reported, will return here to live after the meet on May 5 at Oakland, and it is also reported that Miss Galligan will not return East after her present trip. Miss Galligan recently married Ed Finney, a well-known Los Angeles boy, who is at present in the Navy, and while he is away she is to spend her time in Southern California until he returns. Mr. Finney was quite a swimmer himself, having been a member of the Ocean Park Life Saving corps since its organization.

EARL CADDOCK TO TACKLE ZBYSZKO.

SERGEANT AND THE POLISH CHAMPION MATCHED TO WRESTLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 29.—Sergt. Earl Caddock of the National Army, who is stationed at Camp Dodge, was matched tonight to meet Wladek Zbyszko, the Polish champion, in a finished match at the Coliseum on May 9. It will be the big match of the wrestling season in Chicago, as the tip has gone forth that Caddock will leave within thirty days for service overseas. It also will be Caddock's first match in Chicago since he became a professional.

Joe Coffey, matchmaker of the Coliseum Athletic Club, considers himself fortunate in landing the match, as promoters in Sioux City, Iowa, had offered a purse of $40,000. They wanted to stage the contest, however, on July, but Caddock could not accept, as he is certain to be in training in France by that time.

The champion has been guaranteed $7000 if he defeats the Pole and $3000 if he loses.

Zbyszko will wrestle on a percentage basis.

TEXAS LEAGUERS NOW ON MIDDIES' NINE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NAVAL TRAIN CAMP BALBOA PARK, SAN DIEGO, April 29.—Glenn Myatt and Tel Allison, formerly members of the Houston and Waco teams, respectively, in the Texas League, joined the training camp last Thursday and were immediately given places on the camp baseball team. Myatt is a catcher of ability and was captain of the Ann Arbor College nine for two seasons.

Allison is the most promising of the two men and will be placed at second base, which position was made vacant when Art Shafer, former New York Giant was ordered to North Island. Hillmon, who has been playing second, will take his old stand in center field.

Myatt will have considerable difficulty to pass Louis Sepulveda, former San Francisco catcher, who is going strong for the naval nine. The former Seal is catching in his old style and is pounding the ball for an average far above the .300 mark.

The test of patriotism is before us all. Now is the opportunity to show your true colors.

Our country needs money. Every American—foreign born or otherwise—must help her raise it. Will your purse strings be tied in America's hour of need, or will you loan your money freely? It matters not how many other Liberty Bonds you have bought—you must buy more Liberty Bonds and buy them now.

Our fighters must be equipped and fed. We must have ships, guns, ammunition, aeroplanes—all the tremendous armament of war. We must have money!

The purchase of Liberty Bonds by every one of us at home will enable Uncle Sam to supply every need.

Every man or woman who enjoys the blessings of American citizenship must heed this call. It is plainly up to you—either you are with us or against us. Prove your patriotism by buying that Liberty Bond today!

Facts About the Third Liberty Loan

If you are a wage earner the banks will assist you to save and buy by accepting your order for Third Liberty Loan Bonds and permit you to pay for them in 10 equal monthly installments on subscriptions of $50 and $100 at the rate of interest earned by the bonds. Your bond will be delivered to you at its face value upon the completion of the installment payments.

Following are the general terms of payment of bonds:

5 per cent. on initial payment,
20 per cent. May 28th,
35 per cent. July 18th,
40 per cent. August 15th.

SIGNAL CORPS MEN REACH RIVERSIDE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, April 29.—A squadron of Signal Corps men arrived from North Island this afternoon en route to March Field. The squadron comprises 120 men and are the ground men and mechanicians who precede the fliers, the first of whom are expected to arrive from Berkeley within two or three weeks. The Signal Corps men are in charge of Lieut. Joseph H. Thompson of New York and on their arrival were escorted to White Park for a rest and later enjoyed a swim in the Y.M.C.A. plunge.

WAR FINANCE BODY'S POWER

Wilson Names Men to Run Vast Corporation.

Their Job is to Loan Money to Hasten Victory.

Two Californians Hold Very Important Posts.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The first step in the organization of the $500,000,000 government War finance Corporation, the biggest institution of its kind ever attempted, was taken today, when President Wilson nominated four directors who, with Secretary McAdoo, will conduct the work of aiding and financing essential war enterprises.

As soon as the directors are confirmed by the Senate, they will establish the corporation on an operating basis, and indications are that it will be ready to make loans within two or three weeks. A number of informal applications for advances already are on file.

At the same time the President nominated seven members of the new Capital Issues Committee, which will replace the Federal Reserve Board's Capital Issues Committee, in exercising a voluntary regulation of securities issues of more than $100,000.

THE DIRECTORS.

The finance corporation directors nominated by the President are W. P. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board; Albert Forbes, New York, private banker and securities dealer, member of the present Capital Issues Committee's advisory subcommittee; Eugene Meyer, Jr., New York banker and business man, member of the National War Savings Committee and connected with the War Industries Board, and Angus W. McLean, banker and lawyer of Wilmington, N. C.

Members of the new Capital Issues Committee were named as follows:

Charles H. Hamlin, member of the Federal Reserve Board, former assistant treasurer of the treasury; John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency and director of finances and purchases of the railroad Administration; Frederic A. Delano, member of the Federal Reserve Board; Henry C. Frew, Kansas City banker; Frederick Goff, Cleveland banker; James J. Brown, banker of Louisville, Ky., and John S. Drum, San Francisco banker and lawyer.

Mr. Hamlin and Mr. Delano are members of the present Capital Issues Committee, and Mr. Frew and Mr. Goff are members of the advisory subcommittee. Paul M. Warburg, now a member of the Capital Issues Committee, will be given a place on the new board, so that his time may be free to serve the affairs of the Federal Reserve Board, much of whose work will fall on him as vice-governor because of Gov. Harding's appointment in the War Finance Corporation.

All the nominations were agreed to by the Senate executive session, and the Finance Committee, which is expected to take action within a few days.

The organization of the War Corporation with a half billion dollars capital furnished by the government, and with authority to issue $3,000,000,000 bonds is considered the most important development in the financial history of the country since formation of the Federal Reserve Board a few years ago. It will establish virtually a pool of the nation's investment resources, which may be drawn upon to maintain war industries and businesses.

FEATURES OF PLAN.

Loans may be made to banks, trust companies for not more than five years, in sums amounting to 80 per cent. of the face value of paper made by the banks to any borrower "whose operations shall be necessary or contributory to the prosecution of the war," taking the banks' notes secured by adequate collateral. This applies also to banks' purchases of bonds of essential war borrowers. One hundred per cent. of the face value of the banks' loans may be made if the banks deposit 20 per cent. additional collateral.

Savings banks and building and loan associations may borrow from the corporation for not more than one year, under certain circumstances.

Direct loans to essential industries or businesses may be made by the corporation if the directors determine the advance is necessary to maintain the business, and if it has been unable to obtain a loan from the banks. In these cases, 125 per cent. of collateral is required.

The total amount loaned by the corporation direct to business is limited to 12½ per cent. of the corporation's total capital stock and outstanding bonds. Loans to any one bank or business may not exceed more than $50,000,000, except to a railroad under government control.

TWO CALIFORNIANS.

Two Californian men will wield great power in the financial affairs of America during the war. One of the four directors of the War Finance Corporation named today was a resident of Los Angeles. The other Californian, John S. Drum of San Francisco, is well known in business circles of California, and was here the greater part of today in behalf of the California Bankers' Association, in company with Mr. A. F. Sartori of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, who was made a member of the new Capital Issues Committee and will represent the West has its due.

LOS ANGELES MAN.

Eugene Meyer, Jr., who is only 42, is the Angeleno who will have a hand in directing the destiny of a three billion-and-a-half organization to finance the country through the present war financing. He was educated in the public schools of San Francisco, the University of California and was graduated from Yale University in the class of 1895 with honors in political economy.

After graduation he spent a year in the banking business in New York, and then spent two years in study in banks and banking houses in Europe, obtaining an intimate knowledge of international commercial and banking conditions.

SAN FRANCISCAN.

Mr. Drum, who is 46 years old, was admitted to the bar in 1894 and practiced law in California until 1909. He has been president of the Savings Union Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco since 1910 and is a director in a number of public utilities companies.

Kelly-Springfield

BIG—STURDY—OVERSIZED

CORD TIRES

You expect more mileage from a Kelly-Springfield Tire. That's why we did not put out this cord tire until we had found out exactly what mileage it would give.

We took 500 Kelly-Springfield Cords and put them on cars loaded to weigh 5200 pounds. We sent those cars out in mid-winter to travel day and night over rough, frozen roads. As thousands after thousands of miles rolled up, the drivers reported back, anxious to quit. We repeated our orders: "Go on till your tires give out." They said, "They won't give out. We can't wear them out." But they did, finally. It took 11,725 miles for rear wheels; 14,000 miles for front wheels, a general average of more than 12,000 miles. It wore out the drivers, wore out the cars, and nearly wore out the roads.

That's why we know that Kelly-Springfield Cords are the greatest improvement since pneumatic tires were invented.

It will establish virtually a pool of the nation's investment resources, to be drawn upon to maintain war industries and businesses.

FEATURES OF PLAN.

Loans may be made to banks or trust companies for not more than 75 per cent. of the face value of loans made by the banks to any business "whose operations shall be necessary or contributory to the prosecution of the war," taking the banks' notes secured by adequate collateral. This applies also to banks' purchases of bonds of essential war businesses. One hundred per cent. of the face value of the banks' loan may be made of the banks deposit 31 per cent. additional collateral.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

To Present Opera.

The opera, "Pierrette Among the Shepherds," is to be repeated by the Glee Club of the Polytechnic High School for the benefit of the United States Naval Reserve Training Camp Study Hall, tomorrow evening, in the school auditorium.

For Gallery Tour.

Miss Alma May Cook, lecturer for the California Art Club and also lecturer on art appreciation in the University of Southern California, will conduct her fifth and last gallery tour at the Exposition Park art gallery at 3 p.m., today, in connection with the spring exhibition of the Art Club.

Missionary to Speak.

George Rhoad, a returned missionary from Africa, will speak at a meeting of the Graded Union of Sunday-school Workers at 9:30 a.m., tomorrow, in Berean Hall, Temple Auditorium building. "Promotions" will be discussed at a meeting of superintendents at 11 a.m.

In Lincoln Park.

A Maypole dance and sports, also drills by 1000 Lincoln High School girls, will be given in Lincoln Park tomorrow. Gregory's Marine Band will also play. Mrs. Leslie Sloan Orcutt of the Park Commission will be the principal speaker. Miss Ethel Andrus, principal of Lincoln High School, will give an address.

"The Place of Prophecy."

"The Place of Prophecy in the Christian Life" will be the subject of an address by Dr. G. A. Briegleb, pastor of the Westlake Presbyterian Church, at a meeting of the Southern California Pre-Millenniel Prophetic Association, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the lower auditorium of the Bible Institute. The public is invited.

For Best Gardens.

Prizes offered for the best gardens made by the boys of the Strickland Home will be awarded at 3 p.m., today at the home. The first prize is a suit of clothes donated by M. C. Adler, who, with a committee of which F. B. Silverwood is the head, instituted the competition. Some of the prizes will be given in Thrift Stamps, in lieu of cash. The Germain Seed and Plant Company donated the seed for the gardens.

On Fruit Conservation.

An address on the conservation of fruit as it is practiced in Canada will be given at the British ambulance headquarters in the Westminster Hotel at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Douglas Storms of Hamilton, Ont. Mr. Storms will give an interesting account as to how, from a small beginning, a gigantic industry has been developed which has resulted in the preservation of tons of fruit which are sent to the Canadian expeditionary forces in Europe.

Flag Raising Ceremony.

The United States Daughters of the War of 1812 will hold a flag-raising ceremony next Saturday at noon at the Fort Moore flagpole above the Broadway tunnel. Orra E. Monnette, president of the Sons of the Revolution, will be the principal speaker for the ceremonies. Rev. I. B. Davis will give the invocation. There will be singing and a band will be on hand to furnish the incidental music. The Boy Scouts will act as escorts and guards. The public is invited.

To Open New Quarters.

A lunch and bazaar will formally open the new quarters of the Los Angeles Federation of Parent-Teachers' Emergency Department at No. 311 New High street today. The department has moved from Normay Hill Center. The county, through Supervisor Delorey, will furnish the new quarters free of charge. The members of the federation will form voluntary charity workers for the county. Their assistance will materially help the County Charities Department in its increased work, without necessitating the employment of additional paid workers.

Ready for Benefit.

Full arrangements will be made today and the programme completed for the Camp Kearny entertainment fund benefit concert and dance to be given next Friday night in Shrine Auditorium. The affair promises to be even larger and more brilliant than was anticipated. Much surprise was expressed yesterday when it became known that these men of the Sunshine Division, who probably have but a few months between them and the battle front in Europe, are having practically all work and no play because no fund has ever been provided to care for the expenses of those singers and others who would gladly go down and entertain them.

FOR STANFORD'S UNIT.

Funds will be Raised Here to Send Women to France for Relief Work.

A campaign will be started in Los Angeles this week by Stanford Alumni to raise funds for the Stanford Women's unit, organized to do relief work in France among the civilian population under the direction of the Red Cross. Fourteen Stanford women who are well known in their various professions have been selected for service abroad. Los Angeles will send two of these women, Dr. Placida Gardner, City Bacteriologist, and her sister, Miss Margaret Gardner, Deputy City Prosecuter.

The Stanford Men's Club of Los Angeles has arranged for a meeting at the Broadway Department Store Cafe tomorrow at 12:15 p.m. At that time they will organize, and captains of teams will be chosen for a big one-day drive. Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe will preside at the meeting. The committee on arrangements is composed of Charles S. Burnell, George W. Dryer, Laurance L. Hill, Fulton Lane, Edward D. Lyman, Glenn Marks, W. P. Mealey, Stuart M. Salisbury, W. C. Shelton, W. I. Treager and Roy V. Reppy.

OVERCOME BY GAS WHILE TAKING BATH.

Overcome by gas fumes while taking a bath in his home early yesterday, A. Hill, 34, living on West Eighth street, was rescued by the prompt action of his mother, Mrs. Georgiana Hill, who hearing the labored breathing of her son, broke down the door of the bathroom, gave first aid treatment and summoned an ambulance from the Receiving Hospital.

Earlier in the day a small fire had been discovered in the house, and it is thought that it caused a leak in the gas pipe. At the hospital it is said that Hill has a good chance to recover.

Frustrated.

BALK ATTEMPT AT JAIL BREAK.

County Prisoners' Plot to Escape is Foiled.

Try to Saw Bars and Flee to Temple Street.

Master Forger is Alleged to Have Conceived Plan.

Three prisoners were placed in side cells and closely guarded, following an unsuccessful attempt at escape at the County Jail early yesterday morning. They are Carl DuVey, so-callled master forger; William Dunn, self-confessed boy bandit, and Frank Muncie, sailor and reputed ex-convict, awaiting trial on a grand larceny charge.

A fourth prisoner, Joseph Fredericks, awaiting trial on a charge of auto theft, was also implicated. No charges will be placed against the men with respect to the damaging of jail property, according to Chief Jailor George Gallagher.

That DuVey was the guiding spirit of the attempted break, which was intended to release four prisoners occupying a cell on the Temple street side of the jail, was the story told the jail attaches by one of the participants yesterday. The officials refused to divulge the name of this prisoner, as threats have been made to "get" him in the event that the "squeals" on the others. Up till yesterday DuVey, who seemingly has considerable money available from the outside, occupied a cell in the boarder's section of the jail. He was removed to an ordinary cell upon the discovery of the attempted break.

Who smuggled steel saws into the prisoners remains a mystery to the officials, but it is believed that a certain young woman who has been visiting DuVey at frequent intervals may have had something to do with it.

DuVey is considered one of the really few clever forgers of the country. He changed his plea to guilty last week and will appear for sentence today before Judge Willis for mulcting $10,000 from the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles by passing two cleverly forged checks drawn on a Long Beach bank. It is believed by the authorities that he still has some of this money safely cached in or near Los Angeles.

HEINOUS OFFENSE.

Man who Virtually Caused Young Girl's Death Sentenced on Statutory Charge.

From one to fifty years at San Quentin was the sentence imposed on George Boring by Judge Craig yesterday after entering a plea of guilty to a statutory offense against Lena Helbach, aged 15 years, on October 25, 1917.

Shortly entered the life of the young girl, it was disclosed, following her meeting with Boring in a restaurant at Seventh street and Central avenue, at which her mother was employed as waitress. Following the birth of an illegitimate child the young woman died from an attack of tuberculosis two weeks after the preliminary examination of Boring. Physicians declared that death was brought on prematurely because of childbirth and her weak physical condition.

He was denied probation because of the seriousness of the offense.

MINING MAN TAKEN.

Body of John Morehouse, for Many Years Resident of this City Sent to Salt Lake.

The remains of John Morehouse, prominent mining man and for many years a resident of Los Angeles, who died in El Paso, last Thursday. The body passed though this city yesterday on its way to Salt Lake, for burial at his old home. A son, Frank Morehouse, of this city accompanied the body. Death was caused by paralysis.

As a mining man and prospector, Mr. Morehouse was widely known throughout the Southwest. He had extensive holdings here and in Mexico. Morehouse Canyon was named for him.

Besides the son Frank, he leaves another son and two daughters, living in Salt Lake. He had made that city his home for the past several years.

SWIMMING TAUGHT SOLDIERS IN CAMPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Swimming is to be taught soldiers in the training camps this summer as a military requirement under plans announced today by the Commission on Training Camp Activities.

Competent instructors will be provided at each cantonment and where adequate water facilities do not exist, they will be provided.

WE CURE
Piles, Fistula
And All Rectal Diseases
Without an Operation
For twenty-five years we have been curing diseases of the rectum and lower bowel. During that time our experience has enabled us to develop a method that is superior to others. We cure without surgery, and our patients are not confined in bed and seldom lose a moment's time from their business.
Our method is not a "home cure" nor a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatments administered under the most rigid antiseptic conditions in our office.
Drs. White and Wainwright:
Put me down as a real friend of your treatment of Hemorrhoids. I suffered for twenty years. I came to a point where I could not do justice to my business as a jeweler. I was almost down and out. Now I am well and feel elastic and contented. I can now do my work with pleasure. I am happy. For all this I give you the credit.
3511 Central Ave., Los Angeles, Cal. MAX SPITZER, JR.
"302 Union Labor Temple, Los Angeles, Cal."
We solicit old, severe and obstinate cases of fistula, proiapsus, fissure and ulceration that have heretofore resisted all treatments employed. If you are a sufferer from rectal trouble, we invite you to investigate our method thoroughly by talking or writing to any of our cured patients. If you will call at our office we shall be pleased to give you the names and addresses of many well-known Los Angeles people we have cured, whom you may interview in regard to our treatment.

NAPOLEON ONCE SAID
"A Footsore Army Is An Army Half Defeated." Men in Training Camps, in Cantonments, in the Army and Navy suffer from blisters and sore spots on their feet. Every "Comfort Kit" should contain one or more boxes of Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to shake into the shoes. It freshens the tired, aching, smarting feet and heals blisters and sore spots. The Plattsburg Camp Manual advises men in training to make daily use of Foot-Ease. Sold everywhere, 25c.

NEW MEXICAN CONSUL COMING.

Nephew of Carranza Says He's on Way Here to Take the Post.

Los Angeles is to have a new Mexican Consul, according to reports from El Paso last night. Gen. Emilio Salinas arrived there yesterday and made the announcement that he had been assigned to the position of Consul at this place. He is a nephew of President Carranza.

The new Consul, it is presumed, comes here to take the place of J. M. Carpio, of No. 3106 West Twenty-ninth place. Mr. Carpio could not be reached last night for confirmation or denial of Gen. Salinas's appointment.

ONLY TAKING A WALK, SAYS BOMB SUSPECT.

HUNGARIAN DENIES ATTEMPT TO DAMAGE THE HALL OF RECORDS.

"I was taking a walk when the police arrested me," declared Abd Tellas, 46 years old, a Hungarian, in the County Jail, yesterday following his arrest on suspicion of attempting to damage the Hall of Records and county Courthouse late Sunday night.

Federal officials yesterday put Tellas through a thorough course of questioning with the assistance of an interpreter. The case has been placed entirely in the hands of the government authorities, no charge having yet been placed against Tellas pending further investigation.

Tellas told the officers he resided at No. 362 Buena Vista avenue, alone. A search of his room brought to light a gun and a flashlight. Guns are forbidden by the United States government in possession of enemy aliens. Tellas claims to have arrived in this country about three years ago. He has been in Los Angeles about one year, having been employed, he said, with an automobile truck manufacturing company here.

Mrs. Barton, matron in the County Jail, first noticed Tellas in the grounds of the courthouse, carrying a box and acting strangely. This was at 8:45 o'clock Sunday night. She noticed the Hungarian pass the box, which according to the authorities may have contained explosives, in a niche of a window after he had climbed up and peered inside for some time.

A complete search of the neighborhood failed to show any trace of the box said to have been in the possession of the Hungarian earlier in the evening.

TOUR FOR LOAN.

Life Insurance Officials Arrive on Boosting Trip for Liberty Bonds.

Five officials of the New York Life Insurance Company arrived from the East last night on an inspection tour of the Coast branches of the concern as well as for the purpose of boosting the Liberty Loan. In the party are Walter Buckner, second vice-president of the company, from New York; T. J. Buckner, third vice-president, of New York, and Division Managers W. H. Woods of Chicago, E. G. Andrews of Cleveland, and J. J. Parker of Memphis.

In commenting on the Liberty Loan, Walter Buckner declared that at present his company held more than $900,000,000 in its treasury, the entire sum of which is being held in trust for the United States.

He declared that the first three Liberty Loans had hardly dented the country's financial strength, but deplored the fact that the bonds are not scattered more instead of being held by such a few persons.

BID FAREWELL TO EMBRYO FIGHTERS.

Daily farewell receptions are being given by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare Commission to Los Angeles and Southern California men leaving for service with the army and navy. Yesterday at 2 o'clock seven men left from the navy recruiting station; at 5 o'clock nineteen men left from the army recruiting station, and again at 7:15 o'clock five more left for service in the navy.

The commission was represented by Mrs. L. U. McClure and a committee of women.

PAINT GERMAN SIGN YELLOW.

Turnverein Asked to Remove Writing Offensive to Angelenos.

That patriotic Angelenos will not tolerate anything Germanic, even if it is only a sign in the Teutonic language, was indicated when it was discovered that the name plate of the Turnverein Germania, located in front of the gymnasium at No. 1345 South Figueroa street had been coated with yellow paint.

The identity of those who did the job is unknown, it having been accomplished some time between sunset and dawn, but it is said that officials of the organization making up the Turnverein Germania have been asked to take the sign down. Ernest Rudolph is president of the Turnverein Germania Society.

VOL. XXXVII. TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 30, 1918.—PART II: 8 PAGES. POPULATION By the Federal Census (1910)—319,198 By the City Directory (1917)—590,594

LET'S MAKE IT FORTY MILLION DOLLARS NOW AND SET A CITY RECORD!

Goal.

TO PUSH OUR LOAN TOTAL FAR BEYOND THE QUOTA.

Minimum Figures in Sight; Ambition Now to Put This City in Lead of Those of Her Own Class.

WHILE Los Angeles is nearing its quota of $23,370,000 in the third Liberty Loan campaign, and while every possible effort is to be made to reach this amount as speedily as possible, this will not be sufficient. We should make a record for Los Angeles, so that she may stand supreme among the cities of her class in the United States and also surpass all the cities of the Pacific Coast.

No one should feel satisfied to have Los Angeles simply raise the quota assigned to her. That is a compelling duty. Citizens must take a civic pride in making the list of subscriptions here one that will attest our willingness to do not only our prescribed duty but to go far on beyond the set mark.

Numerous Southern California cities have set the example. Some of them have made notable records, going 600 per cent. over their quotas, while their committees are still working with their utmost vim. This should be an inspiration to Los Angeles. Every subscription counts big in these final days of the campaign. There are thousands of people in this city who have not yet subscribed and who could, at the very least, take one $50 bond. There are hundreds of others who could double their present subscriptions.

This is a matter in which civic pride must figure, as well as the knowledge that a big oversubscription here will have a very stimulating effect on our own men who have gone into service under the flag, and that it is a practical help towards the more speedy winning of the war and the crushing out of the unspeakable Hun and his devilish works.

Do your duty today, whether it be the making of your first subscription to the third Liberty Loan or the doubling of the subscription you have already made. Don't wait until the very last days of the campaign; DO IT NOW.

Los Angeles is approaching its maximum quota of $23,370,000 set for it in the third Liberty Loan drive. It has just five more days to finish this work, and every committee in the campaign is determined that this city shall go not only "over the top," but well on beyond. The other Southern California cities are made a splendid showing, and they are still keeping at their task of piling up subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan; and Los Angeles does not propose to let them carry any of her own burden.

For Southern California the total quota was placed at $38,457,500, and the total subscriptions from the district show $29,614,650.

The churches of Los Angeles made a fine record Sunday, and the report of their activities yesterday showed a total of $121,950, with several not yet reporting.

The house-to-house canvassing section reported $53,200, and the teams of the industrial organization made a report of $201,650. This showed: Hotels and restaurants, $66,500; wholesalers and jobbers, $21,000; trades councils, $18,450; real estate division, $17,100; retailers' division, $16,100; clubs and societies, $15,900; professions, $14,850; county offices, $9600; manufacturing and factory agents, $8300;

Cretonnes at 35c

—They are qualities that have never been known, in the history of the cretonne weaving industry, to sell for anything approaching so little a price as they are offered for in this "Year-After" sale. They could not, under any circumstances, be turned out at the mill to retail for less than from two to three times the money. This being the fact, thrifty housewives will certainly realize their opportunity.

—An unlimited range of attractive patterns and colorings to select from. There are floral, conventional and beautiful verdure effects, that will appeal to most any woman, for spring and summer draperies.

—We strongly urge everyone anticipating all their needs in this line because it is a known fact that even the regular prices on cretonnes are steadily advancing.

Curtain Rods at 10c

—Regulation size extension rods with neat ball and made of heavy tubing—complete with brackets ready to install. Ask for these early, as it would be unreasonable to expect them to last more than an hour or so.

TEN YEARS FOR FILM PRODUCER.

Goldstein Must Also Pay Five-Thousand-Dollar Fine.

Gives Notice of Appeal as a New Trial is Denied.

"Spirit of '76" is Scored as Pro-German by Bledsoe.

Robert Goldstein, who was convicted on two counts of a Federal indictment charging him with violation of the Espionage Act in the exhibition of the motion picture, "The Spirit of '76," was sentenced by United States District Judge Bledsoe yesterday afternoon to ten years in the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island and today a fine of $5000 on the first count and two years at the same institution on the second count, with no fine. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Notice of an appeal to the United States Circuit Court was given by Goldstein's counsel, and a ten-day stay of execution was allowed by the court for counsel to prepare such an appeal.

When Goldstein stood up to hear the judgment of the court, he shook like an aspen as Judge Bledsoe verbally excoriated him for his unpatriotic conduct. Judge Bledsoe told Goldstein that he had not only lied on the stand when he testified in his own behalf, but that his conduct on that occasion was most despicable. He congratulated the prisoner that he had not committed his treasonable act in some other country where he would not have had the benefit of a trial before a jury of his countrymen.

IS ENEMY PROPAGANDA.

Judge Bledsoe declared the film was one of the most potent German propagandas of which he had any knowledge, and asserted that he had no doubt it had been presented with that idea in view. It had been a "close case," the court stated, and the question was one largely of intent on the part of Goldstein—whether he wanted to arouse enmity against our ally, England, or whether he was after the almighty dollar, and neglected no effort to gather them in. The jury had found that Goldstein was guilty of a violation of the Espionage Act in giving aid and comfort to the enemy, he continued, and in that judgment he was in hearty accord. Unusual pains had been taken by the court to see that the jury was free of prejudice, Judge Bledsoe declared.

The testimony, the court stated, showed that Goldstein had sought to arouse enmity against our ally, Great Britain, by seeking to prove that, 100 years ago, that nation had been guilty of the same class of atrocities as are now charged against the detestible Huns.

"In this hour of our national crucifixion, when the question of our ability to whip the imperial government of Germany is in the balance, Judge Bledsoe asserted that he was in favor of a common-sense adjudication of our national statutes calculated to shut off our enemies at home. It was not a time for fine spun theories, he stated, and judgments based on sentiment, but for a hewing to the line, and this the court proposed to do.

Judge Bledsoe went over the evidence bit by bit, and showed where in his opinion, the verdict of the jury was fully justified.

RYCKMAN'S REASONS.

J. H. Ryckman, in his motion for a new trial, set out a number of grounds. He thought the indictment should have stated how close to Clune's Auditorium were members of the army and navy, the night the picture was put on, November 28, 1917; he claimed that as they were all at Fort MacArthur they could not be influenced by the exhibition. Judge Bledsoe brushed that aside as without merit. Another reason argued for a new trial was that the film had not been shown with an orchestra at the Federal Building, the argument being that if there had been good music accompanying the presentation, patriotic people might have become enthusiastic and forgotten all about the vicious scenes in the picture, but that was denied by the court.

The mention of Franz Bopp and Ambassador Von Bernstorff's names was claimed to be prejudicial conduct on the part of the government, and finally Assistant United States District Attorney Lawson was denounced for some alleged ill-tempered remarks he made in his address to the jury, when he said that the jury ought to "label" Goldstein, and place him either in the traitor or the patriot class. Another reason argued for a new trial was

Police Judge Edict.

SANDWICH "MEAL" GOOD FOR ONLY LITTLE BOOZE.

A LITTLE of each! This, in effect, is the answer of the police judges to the question put before them in the shape of a test case to determine whether a sandwich is sufficient to constitute a meal for the purpose of serving liquor in hotels, clubs and restaurants.

After three weeks of concentrated consideration by the five police judges and after stringing through four closely typewritten pages, an opinion signed by Judge Thomas P. White and concurred in by the other four magistrates, George S. Richardson, Ray L. Chesebro, Hugh J. Crawford and William Fredrickson, yesterday stated that a sandwich is and is not a meal—all according to how hungry a person is and whether he orders it in good faith, actually eats it and finally pays for it.

MARY PICKFORD WILL GO INTO TOTAL RETIREMENT.

Worn Out by Loan Labors and Gossip, She will not Even See Her Family.

WORN out by her labors in behalf of the Liberty Loan and greatly affected by the gossip recently given wide circulation through the statement of Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks that she and her husband have separated, Mary Pickford, film idol of the world, will at once go into total retirement and will see no one, not even members of her family, for at least three weeks. This statement was given out last evening by Miss Lottie Pickford, sister of the motion-picture star.

Miss Lottie refused to state where her sister, Mary, was, but declared she was not in California.

"I have promised Mary not to tell where she is," said Miss Lottie, "but she is not in this State. My sister is on the verge of nervous prostration, not only on account of notoriety she has recently received in the papers in relation to a certain other star, but because she is worn out with her work on behalf of the Liberty Loan.

"She sold $48,000,000 worth of Liberty Bonds by her single efforts, and was so engrossed in the work that, while she needed on many occasions to speak only ten minutes, she kept right on at it, speaking as long as half an hour at a time."

"Mary will not see anyone during the next three weeks at least. She is to make another picture for Lasky, according to her agreement, but she will not be able to work for at least that time. Mary wishes to be entirely alone for a while."

Another rumor of interest relates to the attitude of Miss Pickford's husband, Owen Moore. On this subject Mr. Moore refused to commit himself yesterday.

"How do I know what fate will bring?" he answered rather sadly. "I do not know, and I prefer to say nothing."

Douglas Fairbanks, who has been spending a week in the mountains of Montana and Wyoming, roughing it and resting, is expected to return to this city tomorrow.

SCHOOLS TO BE SUMMER TRAINING CANTONMENTS.

TO turn the schools of the city, for the most part idle during the summer months, into practical cantonments for training enlisted men in the mechanic arts, is the essence of a plan formulated last evening by the Board of Education. Under it bodies of men will probably be sent here from near-by training camps, and will be given the same training they receive at eastern technical schools and colleges. While no definite steps have yet been made, it was said last night by board members and Supt. Shiels that interesting developments may follow advices from Washington.

Should the proposed plan succeed it will mean that the full mechanical equipment of the schools, reputed to be on a par with the finest in the country, will be at the disposal of the government during the vacation months. This will include the use of the woodshops, repair plants, laboratories, blacksmith shops, foundries and latherooms. It is expected that the men will be quartered in the available portions of the school buildings, and that the cafeterias, located in every high and intermediate school, will be employed as mess halls for the soldiers.

"We'll go the limit with the government in this, as in any other war measure," declared Dr. Shiels last night. "The plan was proposed by a special representative from the War Department at Washington who came to us last Saturday. All the teachers likely will be furnished by the government and skilled mechanics from all walks of industry, in addition to such of our own instructors as may be designated, will probably teach the men. Attendance at all classes will be 100 per cent., they being under military regime.

"The entire advantage of such training schools is that the transportation of the men to the Boston School of Technology and other institutions in the East and North will be saved. There are exactly the same facilities here and there is no reason why they should not be utilized during the summer months."

INTREPID FIRST FIFTEEN START OUT TOMORROW

Epochal Experiment of Woman's Land Army to be Made at Elsinore.

FIFTEEN recruits of the first unit of the Woman's Land Army of America will, according to present plans, leave the Chamber of Commerce Building at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to take up actual field service at Elsinore, where the whole community, led by the Mayor and the local Chamber of Commerce, promises literally to meet them with a brass band. There will also be speeches and general gala celebration by the citizens.

That the spirit of welcome may be felt without mistake, the city of Elsinore will send a big truck to Los Angeles especially to conduct these women and their chaperon, Miss Margaret St. Claire, to the field of their labors. A twenty-room furnished house has been prepared for their coming, where the expense of living will be moderate. The unit is taking its own cook.

Miss St. Claire, who will be the "mother" of the party throughout the season, is a graduate of the Sargent School for Physical Education at Cambridge, Mass., and has taught physical education in several schools, including the Normal School at Superior, Wis., and the Cumnock School in Los Angeles. She is serving entirely from patriotic motives, as a volunteer without pay.

PHYSICAL BENEFITS.

Miss St. Claire will have personal oversight over the physical condition of each of her unit, assuring the proper adjustment of the work to the strength of each. This will be the plan in sending out each unit. Each applicant must take a physical examination before being sent to actual work, and Miss St. Claire feels that the out-of-door life and exercise should prove of inestimable value from a health standpoint.

Mrs. Orpha Eastman, who has been appointed chairman of organization for Southern California, and who is chairman of the local Red Cross shop at Elsinore, will go out personally with the first unit. Mrs. Eastman also is a patriotic volunteer for the cause, having given up her business and her office in the Story Building to give her entire time for the next six months to the work of army organization, entirely without remuneration.

Mrs. William Richel, wife of a well-known marine painter of New York City, who will go as a member of this first unit, will also give her time wholly from patriotic motives. The income she will receive from her work as engineer of the seventy-five-horse-power tractor will be devoted entirely to the Red Cross.

Big Project.

PREPARE TO CREATE NEW PORT INDUSTRIAL SITES.

Council will be Asked to Lend Huge Sum for Improvements.

A PLAN proposed yesterday by the Harbor Commission will result in the creation of 140 acres of industrial sites in Fish Harbor, valued at $2,500,000, if the Council approves the project.

To carry out the plan it will be necessary for the Council to lend the Harbor Commission $300,000, the money to be paid back as soon as the people will authorize a bond issue covering that amount.

Because of the urgent necessity of providing more building sites at the harbor and because the progress of the city depends so much upon harbor development, the Harbor Commission yesterday expressed the opinion that the Council will not hesitate in its decision to provide the money.

It is proposed to use the silt from the main channel which is to be widened from 500 to 1000 feet by the government at a cost of $626,000 in making the fill in Fish Harbor.

The commission's plan calls for a bulkhead to cost $125,000, a wharf costing the same and $50,000 for improving the new land.

The wharf would take the place of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway wharves.

It is estimated by harbor engineers that the new site would be completed within one year.

Mayor Woodman said last night he thoroughly approves the proposed plan of improvement but believes other means should be applied to secure the money. The proposition will be presented to the Council this morning.

SUSPECTED SPY LEADER CAUGHT

Former Submarine Officer Arrested Here.

Sensational Sequel to His Rescue from Mob.

Men in High Financial Circles may be Involved.

A man believed by the members of the War Squad of the Los Angeles police department and the United States Military Intelligence Bureau to be an important part of the German espionage system on the Pacific Coast and in Mexico was caught yesterday, when George Mohr, a German bookkeeper formerly employed in a Main-street bank, was rescued from an infuriated mob after he is alleged to have grossly insulted a woman in his former place of employment.

Yesterday morning, when Mohr went to work he was given notice that his services were no longer desired, and it is said that he then stationed himself near the paying teller's window and talked in an undertone to all patrons who came in. A woman with a child in her arms approached the window and Mohr is said to have remarked: "When the Germans come over, you will have a nice German child."

This was overheard by a number of men who immediately pounced on the man. A crowd gathered and cries of "Lynch him" were heard. Mohr pleaded for mercy, but only for the timely arrival of members of the war squad and several Liberty Loan speakers it is probable that he would have received serious injuries.

A FORMER OFFICER.

Documents, letters and photographs found in his possession proved Mohr to be a banker, expert draughtsman, former officer of a German submarine, an artist and a man of high education, it was stated.

When questioned at police headquarters Mohr admitted that he was a former commander in the German mercantile marine and that he was one of the men who came over on the Deutschland, the German submarine said to have brought a cargo of dyes valued at $1,000,000 to this country.

WOMEN LOAN WORKERS IN GREAT RALLY TODAY.

Meeting at the Alexandria is Expected to Boost Liberty Total.

SEVERAL thousand patriotic women of Los Angeles city and county will participate this afternoon in a big rally at the Alexandria Hotel in celebration of women's Liberty Loan day. According to Mrs. J. T. Anderson, city and county chairman, it will be one of the greatest sessions of its kind ever held here. The meeting is an open one, to which every woman is invited, and men also are given an invitation to drop in and see what the women are doing in behalf of the third Liberty Loan.

The session will open at 1 o'clock and the hotel management has turned over the lower floors, the mezzanine and lobby, to the women, while the ballroom will be a center of special interest. Many interesting features are planned for the afternoon and the meeting is expected to result in the Women's Liberty Loan Committee making a material advance in its grand total, which last night's report gave as approximating $1,250,000.

Some 200 tables are to be placed conveniently about in the hotel parlors and hallways and a vigorous campaign for bond sales will be carried on as an important side issue of the meeting.

At one end of the ballroom a large screen will be placed and upon this will be shown the reports of many of the units and organizations which are actively participating in the big drive. One-minute talks will be given by several of the committee women, citing interesting experiences in connection with their campaigning.

Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, State chairman; Mrs. A. S. Baldwin, women's Liberty Loan chairman, Twelfth Federal District, and Marie Dressler, star of the stage and screen, will return from their northern speaking engagement in time to participate in the afternoon's rally. Miss Dressler will give one of her "famous talks" which she has made clear across the continent in the boosting of Liberty Bonds.

Madame Marinka Aldrich Davis and Mrs. Estelle Heartt Dreyfus will contribute to the entertainment with vocal numbers. Dainty Mary Miles Minter has come down from Santa Barbara to do her share, and she will sign, personally, the largest of the Liberty Bonds purchased.

"We want every woman in Los Angeles city and county to accept this announcement as a personal invitation to attend our big gathering at the Alexandria," said Mrs. Anderson last night. "We want every woman who can to come prepared to buy bonds, or more bonds, but we want them to come anyhow, and the men, too, are cordially invited. We women want to boost our grand total and to show that we, also, can 'go over the top' when it comes to helping the Liberty Bond Loan."

Among the reports turned into the women's headquarters yesterday was one recording the sale of a $100 bond to four lads living in precinct 635, of which Mrs. N. E. Schoenansgrueber is chairman. These boys, ranging from 9 to 13 years of age, invested in this bond all their savings, garnered from the sale of Boston brown bread which they carry about to neighborhood customers.

The physicians' and surgeons' division forged to the front yesterday with a total of $150,200 of subscriptions, and the real estate division showed a total of $144,500.

SETS NEW RECORD.

A new record was set at the big tank in Central Park Saturday night, when the bond selling kept up until nearly 1 o'clock. With Clara Kimball Young in command, the total subscriptions reached $101,050. There were many stirring events during the evening, and numerous short patriotic speeches interspersed with the active work of the bond sellers. At 11 o'clock Maj.-Gen. E. D. Swinton, the British officer who invented the tanks, climbed to the top of this war engine and made a strong plea for the support of everyone in this campaign. He joined Miss Young in autographing receipts for subscriptions, and kept up this task for more than an hour.

During the past week the subscriptions taken at the tank have reached $215,100. Each night popular moving picture stars have been in charge, and there has been much rivalry as to who would make the best records. It is predicted that through this source the tank subscriptions will be brought to more than $400,000 before this week closes.

Last night the tank campaign was in charge of Mary Miles Minter, William Russell and Margarita Fisher, of the American Studios at Santa Barbara. They had twenty co-workers with them as aides. Tonight the campaign was to have been in charge of Roscoe Arbuckle and his company, but owing to an unforeseen event this will be impossible, and the tank campaign will be in charge of the Peralta stars—Louise Glaum, Clara Williams, Jack Karrigan and Henry Walthall, and Directors R. Reginald Barker, Raymond West and Wallace Worsley.

Mae Murray, moving picture actress of the Universal films, will be at Central Park at 4 o'clock next Saturday afternoon and will take 1000 $1 subscriptions on a $1000 Liberty Bond, which will go to some fortunate persons that same afternoon for only $1.

Dr. George H. Kress, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Bancroft Beeman memorial fund, yesterday sent to James S. Riley, director of industrial organizations in the third Liberty Loan campaign $5000, a trust fund bequeathed by the late Bancroft Beeman, to help carry on the war against tuberculosis, and which will ultimately be used to erect a recreation building in the new Los Angeles County Hospital tuberculosis sanatorium near San Fernando. In the meantime it is invested in the third Liberty Loan bonds.

OVERSUBSCRIBE!

R. H. Ballard, a director of the third Liberty Loan Campaign Committee, yesterday issued the following appeal, urging that Los Angeles must not stop when it simply has reached its quota:

"Los Angeles should not be content in subscribing simply the minimum amount to the third Liberty Loan. Secretary McAdoo has repeatedly stated that the total subscription should reach $5,000,000,000, and the general understanding among eastern financial men is that if this amount is subscribed it will not be necessary to have another campaign during the present year. Income and war profits taxes are going to return the government much more than was estimated, and the system of short-time government certificates placed with the banks, now successfully in effect, finances the government's requirements several months ahead of each Liberty Loan.

"On the basis of total bond sales of $5,000,000,000, Los Angeles's proportion is about $40,000,000. As compared to present subscriptions, this seems like a large amount, but it will be remembered that the last loan was oversubscribed to $35,500,000, a large part of which came in in the last week. Surely we can do as well this time.

"Secretary McAdoo is also anxious to demonstrate to Germany and the Central Powers that the people of the United States are unitedly standing behind the government in this war, and to make this demonstration, has asked for 20,000,000 individual subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan. Los Angeles' proportion of this amount is 100,000 subscribers, only about 50,000 of which have so far subscribed. We are, therefore, both as to amount and number of subscriptions, only one-half in the war, but we have a week within which to make up the other half. If all the people in Los Angeles could take a trip to Washington at this time, there would be no hesitancy in subscribing to the loan, and we would be assured of rolling up the full number of subscribers and amount of our quota and oversubscription, getting all the way 100 per cent. into the war.

"In this last week, we need a number of large subscriptions, as well as many thousands of small ones, and I am sure there is to be no letting down of the active campaigning of our large organization. We came through before, and we can do it again."

May Sixth.

THRIFT-STAMP DAY WILL BE BIG EVENT AT STORES.

"THRIFT STAMP DAY," recently announced throughout the United States for observance on May 1, has been advanced to May 6 in order to avoid conflicting with the close of the Liberty Loan drive, which ends May 4, following instructions issued last night to all National War-Savings Committees.

The observance has been planned for retail stores, everywhere and in every line of business. All customers are expected to take a part of their change in Thrift Stamps. Many business men have declared that every person must accept at least one Thrift Stamp in change on every purchase made that day, and have further urged that the public make as many purchases as possible.

Special thrift sales have been planned for most of the stores in Los Angeles, and here and throughout the United States it is predicted that the biggest total retail business of any single day in business history will be done.

G. A. Davidson, director of the National War Savings Committee for Southern California, said yesterday that the Thrift Stamp Day should not only help every merchant in California, but, most important of all, furnish Uncle Sam with a splendid accretion of funds for war and victory.

A. E. Adams, secretary of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association, stated yesterday that the stores in Los Angeles are prepared to make special displays and special sales to stimulate the purchase of Thrift Stamps.

Rounded Up.

ARREST MORE AS DISLOYAL.

Nine Now in Custody for Distributing Book.

"Kingdom News" Ranks with "Finished Mystery."

Federal Official Says Cult will be "Cleaned Out."

That the agents of the government are determined to ferret out the nests of pacifists masquerading as followers of the International Bible Students' Association, inaugarated by the late Pastor Russell, was indicated yesterday by another raid on the headquarters of the cult at No. 1050 South Grand avenue. Two more men were taken into custody by the Federal authorities, charged with circulating the Kingdom News, a paper of the International Bible Students' Association, which defended the publication of "The Finished Mystery," the last work of Pastor Russell, which has been ordered suppressed by the government.

Walter Manney and Fred Gallagher are the men arrested. They were taken into custody by Fred C. Boden, investigator for the Department of Justice, and are held for investigation at the Central Station, pending the issuance of a Federal warrant charging violation of the Espionage Act.

With the arrest of these men the number now apprehended for scattering thousands of copies of the Kingdom News over Hollywood and Boyle Heights, totals nine. When the arrest was made yesterday officials of the Bible Students' Association admitted that they had destroyed the list of men who had been employed to distribute the pamphlet.

WOMEN SING HYMNS.

E. M. Slaughter of the police war squad and Special Agent Webb of the Department of Justice also composed the raiding squad which swooped down on the outfit. W. B. Housel was found on guard, while a number of women were in possession of the place, singing hymns and conducting a semi-religious service.

The premises were searched, but nothing was found except several thousand copies of the Kingdom News, which seems to have for its mission an "explanation" of why the government is moving against the women and men engaged in peddling "The Finished Mystery." The copies of the Kingdom News were confiscated and taken to the Federal Building.

Assistant United States District Attorney Palmer, who has charge of the prosecution of the persons already under arrest, charged with violation of the Espionage Act in selling copies of "The Finished Mystery," said yesterday that complaints would be made today against those rounded up by the police on Sunday. They include Julius and Alex Festus, Fred Pletsch, G. L. Defreese, Edward McCleary, Garfield Boose and Russell Siglin. They are now in custody of the Federal authorities and will be arraigned this morning before United States Commissioner Long.

TO "CLEAN THEM OUT."

In speaking of the prosecution of all the individuals associated in the Pastor Russell propaganda, Mr. Palmer said they would be "cleaned out of the city," if there is any law that applies to their cases, and he thinks there is.

"They are making the same sort of an appeal to the people that undermined Italy last year—to religious prejudices—by attempting to show that they are being persecuted for the reason that they stand for a certain alleged religion," he said. "They are the most malign enemies of the country, and prosecution will follow unrelentingly. They cannot camouflage their traitorous intents under the cloak of religion."

"Membership in the association will not be sufficient to prosecute, but pernicious activity will," said United States District Attorney O'Connor.

Abel Tollas, an Austrian engineer, 45 years old, captured yesterday by Frank Daly, night watchman at the Hall of Records, has been turned over to the Federal authorities. It is said that Tollas was seeking to gain entrance to the engine-room of the Hall of Records. He lives at No. 562 Buena Vista street, it is said.

LOOKING INTO IT AT SANTA BARBARA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SANTA BARBARA, April 29.—Authorities here today are investigating the distribution of a large quantity of pamphlets entitled "Kingdom News" containing a defense of the International Bible Students' Association and a petition to President Wilson to remove a ban on the circulation of "The Finished Mystery." The pamphlets were widely distributed around the city, small boys being used to do the work. Up to this afternoon the authorities had no clew to the employer of the boys.

It is today perhaps the most familiar check in the state. It is backed by the largest and strongest branch banking system in Western America. It represents an organization that has established an improved banking service in fourteen of the largest and richest counties of California.

That nearly 150,000 people sign Bank of Italy checks, is in itself an overwhelming endorsement of the character, strength and broad service-giving ability of this institution.

Let Us First Settle the Hun!

War Needs Come First

THE WAR INDUSTRIES BOARD, National Council of Defense, noting that certain cities were planning costly public improvements, has served notice that it will oppose "all new undertakings not contributing toward winning the War which involve the utilization of labor, material and capital required in the production, supply or distribution of direct or indirect War Needs"—notwithstanding they may be "of local importance and of a character which should in normal times meet with every encouragement."

It threatens to "withhold from such projects priority assistance, without which new construction will frequently be found impracticable." Cities are warned that they "will embark upon such enterprises at their peril."

Burden Is Heavy

IN LINE with the War Board's policy, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce has declared that "the increase of costs and the unusually onerous conditions of operation brought about by the war seriously threaten the ability of Street Railways and other utilities to continue the furnishing of the necessary services they perform." It recommends that State and local authorities recognize these unusual conditions, and that in the interest of the Nation, they "give prompt and sympathetic hearing to the petitions of such utilities for assistance and relief."

Sharp Warning

UTILITIES COMMISSIONS in various States vigorously back these two national bodies, opposing Street Railway improvements "involving any considerable expenditure, except in cases where the necessity for immediate action is urgent."

They take this position "in accord with the policy of the Government," which recognizes that "under present conditions it is necessary in every way to conserve materials and labor to the end that ALL the resources of the Nation may contribute to the successful prosecution of the War, and further because present costs of materials and labor are abnormally high"—if obtainable at any price.

Uncle Sam May Need EVERY Dollar

CALIFORNIA'S State Railroad Commission, in a recent decision, declares that " . . . Street Railways, as well as other public utilities, should not be required, at this time, to live up to such of their franchise stipulations as necessitate otherwise uncalled-for new construction."

All of which means that if, under the tremendous handicap of increased cost of material and increased wages, with the rate of fare remaining the same, your Street Railway is to maintain an efficient service, no unnecessary burdens should be imposed upon it.

The maintenance of your Street Railway in a position adequately to meet the requirements of the War situation has become a matter of deep concern to the Government. The financial condition of your Street Railway is intimately associated with the ability of the Nation to finance the War.

Every dollar that can be saved in expense of operation, construction and maintenance is a dollar available for War purposes—and every dollar may be urgently needed before we get through with the Unspeakable Hun!

A breakfast was served to members of the wedding party following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Mumper will reside at No. 612 St. Paul avenue.

Misses Johnston Entertain.

Misses Florence and Margaret May Johnston entertained a company of twelve at dinner Saturday evening at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Johnston of No. 527 South Kingsley drive. The affair was in honor of Eugene Hawkins, stationed at Camp Lewis in the officers' training camp, but in Los Angeles on short furlough.

By Mrs. Ballou.

The Flower Fete to be given in Central Park on Saturday by the Needle Word Guild is to be the setting for a supper party at which Mrs. Sidney Ballou will entertain thirty guests. Quite a large number of society people are planning to give parties there and all reservations should be made through Mrs. E. P. Johnson of Twenty-eighth street.

Chief of Chisholm Clan.

Scott Chisholm, chief of the Chisholm clan of Scotland, and Mrs. Chisholm, who have been guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Cameron in Pasadena are leaving today for New York. They will stop en route in San Francisco, where they will be entertained no doubt as lavishly as they have been here. Mr. Chisholm is a golf aristocrat and in company with his hosts and Mrs. Chisholm was seen on the links in Los Angeles and Pasadena quite often, winning a handsome trophy at Annandale.

Engagement Announced.

Of interest to a large circle of Los Angeles and Pasadena friends is the news of the engagement of Miss Marie Goodman of San Francisco and Napa to Lieut. Arthur K. Wylde, U.S.R., which was told in the Bay City on Saturday.

Miss Goodman is a niece of Mr. Louis F. Gottschalk of Los Angeles, composer of the music in "The Tik Tok Man of Oz," and has visited in his home often. She is also a favorite in Pasadena, where she has attended many house parties. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Goodman, Jr., and a granddaughter of the late George E. Goodman, head of banking affairs in Napa for many years. She is a most attractive girl of the demi blondé type and was educated in New York and Paris. She is talented musically, the gift of composition being a heritage from her maternal grandfather, Harrison Millard, who a decade ago was composer of "Waiting" and "When the Flowing Tide Comes In." Lieut. Wylde is the son of Samuel Wylde, prominent business man of Seattle, and was himself in business there before entering the second training camp at the Presidio. He is now stationed at Camp Fremont. The wedding will be an event of late spring.

May Day Wedding.

Big oak trees on the Savage ranch at Duarte will serve as an altar at the wedding of Mrs. Ada B. Winslow of No. 956 South Park View avenue, this city, and William J. Booth of Oxnard. The marriage will take place at 6 o'clock in the afternoon on May Day and will be witnessed by a few relatives who will also be present at the dinner, which will follow the ceremony.

Dancing Party.

Misses Anna and Frances Westcott entertained a bevy of friends at a jolly dancing party Saturday evening at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Westcott.

Their guests included Misses Julia and Catherine Manning, Hazel Hamilton, Margaret Berry, Mildred Prichard, Margaret Manning, Margaret Walton, Helen Kitchen, Hazel Richards, Irene Trossen, Lois Clark, Anita Delaney, Getrude Gilligan, Zeta Gilligan, Agnes Morris, Catherine Coyte, Julia Buckley, May McNearny, Mabel Cole, Flora Neusser, Irma Spaeth, and Mrs. Howard Houghton, Messrs. William Monaham, Harry Roxstrom, Clayton Clark, Edward Clark, William Cunningham, Phil Connors, Howard Houghton, Gene Carey, Howard Campbell, Jack Gilligan, Walter Stertz, Clayton Minert, Louis Babcock, Ernest Bromley, Edward O'Neil, Frank Mead, John Walker, Todd Blake, George Houck, John Blackman, Russell Bassatt, James Fitzsimmons, Edward Dolseau, L. Malone and Sergt. L. Downs and John Crawford from Camp Lewis.

Personals.

After a cruise of three months in South American waters, Ensign Jack Winston arrived in Los Angeles unexpectedly for a short furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Winston, and his sisters, Misses Carolina and Margueritta Winston. They were guests of relatives at tea in the new Red Cross tea house on the Palisades on Sunday afternoon, and that evening Ensign Winston left for the Presidio, where he is to report for duty.

David Lindsay Gillispie, a Pittsburgh magnate who is devoting all his time to the Red Cross, is in Los Angeles for a brief rest and is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wylie, of No. 17 Chester place. Mr. Gillispie has spent two or three winters here at the Beverly Hills Hotel and has many friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Maier and Mrs. George Stegmaier, mother of Mrs. Maier, are leaving in a day or two for a stay of several weeks on the Maier ranch at Santa Susana.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

The Presidents' Council.

A presidents' council of the district federation was held at the Echo Park Mothers' Club yesterday under informal circumstances, and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, district president, was gratified with an attendance of fifty club presidents.

Instead of a formal programme, Mrs. Jones introduced the question-box idea and an animated discussion of numerous small questions took place. For instance, Mrs. Ralph Burdick of Hollywood has stirred up quite a controversy in her suggestion that the clubs should give up most of their routine section work and programmes and concentrate on war service. The presidents seemed to be pretty unanimous to the contrary, for the national federation is supported by the enthusiasm of the clubs and the strong organization has proved a highly valuable asset in mobilizing women for service. And, since war service can take a hundred different forms, not excluding literature, music and the arts, the shelving of these interests at this time would not but tend to weaken the national organization. That was the trend of the numerous contributions to the discussion.

Then came the vexed question of pro-Germanism. This called forth some warm arguments. Mrs. Catherine Pierce, for instance, while insisting upon her firm loyalty and unqualified support, positively declined to hate the Germans. Mrs. W. A. Galentine, who raised the question, regretted such petty quibbling as to whether the word, "Ebell," for instance, was of German origin, and silly discussions about German music—we should, she said, be regarding the use of Christmas trees as pro-German soon—and would prefer to see the women putting their time into more valuable activities. Mrs. Jones herself spoke for a "little less 'sympathy' and a lot more work."

That famous art banquet at the State convention also came in for some criticism—the gratuitious ridicule of Roosevelt, for instance, had incensed Mrs. French Aldrich of Sawtelle (the lady whom Sawtelle once tried to make Mayor of that city,) and she put up a fine defense of the ex-President, which brought forth responsive applause.

The Echo Park Mothers' Club has 'personality.' Mrs. L. A. Beebe, its attractive president, is district chairman of home economics—and she lives up to her laurels with conspicuous success. She has a perfect genius for providing 50-cent luncheons at a net cost of 15 cents, by which the profits swell the war service funds—and in a highly practical preliminary speech at the luncheon she told them how it was done.

The newspaper women were luncheon guests of the occasion and were given an excellent opportunity to show what very imperfect speakers they are. The audience treated them with good natured tolerance, not necessarily deserved.

Woman's City Club.

Dr. John Willis Baer spoke before the Woman's City Club yesterday on "The Menace of the Present Crisis"—red-hot patriotism, served neat, and one of the best speeches the club has had the pleasure of hearing for some time. Dr. Baer considers the chief menace of the present crisis the "yellow patriotism" right here at home and he exposed a variety of brands with ruthless precision. Dr. Baer has no use for the pacifists or a tainted peace and he set forth his very good reasons with scholarly forcefulness.

When Mrs. R. L. Cresey was able to announce that the club had purchased $15,000 Liberty Bonds, it was a fitting climax to the wave of patriotism evoked.

Queen's Daughters.

The Queen's Daughters have transferred their headquarters to No. 715 Fay Building, Third and Hill streets. Members are desired to report at headquarters without delay and a new membership drive is to be undertaken.

LASKY RETURNS.

CLOSETED WITH HIS CHIEF AIDES AT STUDIO.

By Grace Kingsley.

Lasky Returns.

Jesse Lasky, vice-president of the Lasky-Famous Players Company, returned from New York yesterday, and was closeted with Cecil de Mille and Frank Woods for some time, talking over the company's plans for the future.

Free Seats to View Chaplin.

Fifty dollars seems like a good deal to pay for a theater ticket even to see Charlie Chaplin, but when each ticket at this price is accompanied by a Liberty Bond, the proposition is fair enough. This is the plan to be followed out at Tally's Broadway this week, where pretty picture stars will appear each evening and dispense free loge tickets with every $50 bond subscription, the party holding one of these tickets being entitled to the further privilege of passing into the show ahead of the long line.

Orpheum.

The bill at the Orpheum this week is so well arranged it would create a pleasant ensemble impression even though it were not the real top-notcher it is. Even plus the war tax you will be spending your money wisely.

It is quite the fashion nowadays for our favorite comediennes to bring with them to the stage for entertainment purposes a stud of good-looking and musical young men, especially now that, because of the war, good-looking youths are so scarce. Blossom Seeley follows the fashion, dropping some of 'em into the orchestra and surrounding herself with others on the stage. They render some pleasing harmony (though, it must be confessed, in these sturdy war days the sound of a healthy young tenor warbling a baby song does jar some,) and they serve as a nice background for the vivacious Miss Seeley's pepful dances. The oriental number is an especially torrid one, and one isn't at all surprised at the use of fans in the next song! Miss Seeley wears a shiny make-up on lips and eyelids which is oddly effective. Such a hit was the act yesterday that Miss Seeley had to come and speak right out in front of the curtain.

Returning with their trick Fordlet are Thomas Dugan and Babette Raymond, whose educated machine has learned some new and very funny stunts since they were here last. The Ford now bucks, dances and lies down and plays dead.

With a murder committed in the dark as the curtain goes up, and with the audience suspecting everybody in the playlet, in turn, of being the murderer, and everybody in the playlet in turn accusing everybody else, "In the Dark" shades off from trilly melodrama to near-comedy, and then to—but why give away the corking surprise finish?

Not at all one's idea of a restful domestic evening is the act performed by the La Zier-Worth company, entitled "An Evening at Home," in which three nifty boys make a hit with an athletic casting act of crisp and novel sort.

Sincere colored boys are Cooper and Robinson, and they have a very smart side-walk act which gets over in the hit class.

A clever man and a dog are Brodean and Silvermoon—one doesn't know which is which—with the dog, a beautiful white Spitz doing some undogly but fascinating contortionist stuff, and thereby winning a big hand for both.

The only holdovers are last week's headliners, Fradkin and Jean Tell, and Kalmer and Brown in their delicate phantasy, "Nurseryland."

FILMS.

Grauman's.

"LA TOSCA."

SARDOU'S MASTERPIECE NOW SHOWN IN FILMS.

By Antony Anderson.

Victorien Sardou was one of the modern masters of the dramaturgic art. All his plays—"Theodora," "Fedora," Cleopatra," "Gismonda," "La Tosca"—were eminently actable. Sardou was Bernhardt's director, and his plays "made" her—or was it she who made Sardou? His plays also film to great advantage, as is proved by the photoplay of "La Tosca" now runnning at Grauman's.

The films make no mention of Sardou in connection with "La Tosca," and the name of Puccini is also omitted, though one of the attractions at Grauman's is a bona fide aria from the opera, beautifully sung by a genuine tenor. No doubt Lasky's scenario writer considers us all so cultivated that we need no enlightenment as to original sources. He has not miscalculated our erudition.

The film production is indeed a notable one, in that it misses very few of the finest points in the drama, and at the same time gives us scenes whose beauty cannot be approached on the stage. The great climax at the story's end does not follow Sardou's play very closely, but is—if I remember correctly—more like Puccinis opera. Whatever its model, it is thrillingly, gruesomely effective, and here Pauline Frederick, who plays La Tosca, displays art of a high dramatic order. I thought her rather ineffective and inexpressive in the scene directly after the murder of Scarpia, and rejoiced when I saw her begin to "pick up" and redeem herself. She is a lovely woman, an excellent actress, and the gowns she gives La Tosca are as sumptuous as the vaulted corridors through which she trails them.

Her support could hardly be bettered—Frank Losee as Scarpia, Jules Roucourt as Marie.

The Grauman bill is packed to overflowing with good things. "La Tosca," a rattling Sennett comedy; a farce showing Douglas Fairbanks in the role of Democracy fighting with Kultur and throwing him into hell—from whence the monster is promptly ejected by the devil; the wonderfully graceful and artistic dancers, and so on.

"Paying His Debt."

We of the West are as tame as anybody, and our hides are as smooth as Jacob's, but it pleases us mightily to be called wild and woolly, and we rush to see the plays and pictures in which we are thus depicted. Every Puritan hankers for a bad-man reputation. It is the human longing for the unattainable.

Another of those corking western plays from the studios of the Triangle is now showing at the Riviera. This is "Paying His Debt," in which Roy Stewart is featured, with a most capable supporting cast, including Josie Sedgwick. It bears the usual Triangle hallmark of careful craftsmanship, with no loose ends lying round anywhere.

The probabilities are violated in "Paying His Debt." But you and I, and assuredly our eastern cousins, don't look for probabilities in a western play. We demand romance, adventure, hold-ups and shootings. In "Paying His Debt," Pete Morton, a bandit, discovers that he has a double in Frank Borden, a lunger. He cures the lunger, cuts his hero clothes him in a belt stuffed with cartridges, and thus establishes a permanent alibi. Frank is in town when Pete is on the road. Nothing could be simpler. Out of gratitude for past benefit, Frank cannot decline the proffered partnership in crime, though he is an honest fellow and doesn't like it.

Roy Stewart is one of the most capable actors on the screen. In these two opposing roles he demonstrates his versatility, he attains to subtleties in expression that hold you through their finesse. Keep your eye on Roy. He's getting there with some considerable speed, and his goal is somewhere over the top.

"Woman and Wife."

This week on the Rialto witnesses a renaissance of the lachrymosal period of literature. From the title you may not recognize the play at Tally's as Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre"—but I'll wager your grandmother would recall it—yea, and shed a tear or two for remembrance.

To be a "best seller" in the 50's a novel had to assay at least a gill of tears to the chapter. Jane Eyre's appearance before a romantic and crinolined public created a furore in literary circles. Gentle maidens read it curled deliciously in cosy cretonned corners—and wept coplously.

Alice Brady is Jane, the mistreated and disliked orphan who "wanted so much to be loved," and who finally was, after she emerged from her brown-gingham cocoon as dignified and lovely as a Robert W. Chambers heroine. A better actress for this part than "Diamond Jim's" daughter could not be imagined.

This story was a pioneer, in a way, and by the way, it was the original "Daddy-long-legs." And Rochester, the hero, was a sort of forerunner of our refined modern caveman. How rough he must have seemed in those gentle days! The part is played excellently by Mr. Marie Doro (I do not remember his maiden name.)

DRAMA.

Mason.

"MARY'S ANKLE."

EXPOSITION IS GIVEN BELOW, SO PREPARE TO BLUSH.

By Henry Christeen Warnack.

At first blush one might not think of viewing "Mary's Ankle" in public. On second blush, you do not blush at all, and accept with a sigh the unfortunate fact that a public view is your only chance. On third blush, and this time you owe it to yourself and your family, you are grateful to have the chance at all.

"Mary's Ankle" gleams at the Mason this week. To be downright honest, it glows softly under the treatment of the present tolerably clever cast, and it would shine brilliantly if reflected by stage lights themselves a trifle more brilliant. It is the sort of a play that really fine acting could turn into the very velvet and plush of comedy.

This is not to say that the young people who have "Mary's Ankle" in hand miss all of the saliency, delicacy or possible speed of the situation, nor that they do not give the audience its money's worth of laughter. On the contrary, they make it excellent summer night entertainment, and a great relaxation after two week's of Shakespeare.

To go further in fairness to the company, it must be admitted that an overflow audience at the Mason laughed heartly through the performance, and went away satisfied. At the same time, the cast had its faults, which is not at all the fault of Mary or her ankle, for they were both all that they were cracked up to be. This is not slang. It is only a very bad pun. You see, or you would have seen, had you been there last night, Mary's ankle is sprained in the second act. It happens in an automobile accident. It is an ill automobile accident that blows nobody good. Mary's car is wrecked, Mary's ankle is sprained, and then the plot is revealed. All of the rest of the play is acted with too much noise, but Mary's ankle is silently eloquent, and eloquently silent. Some of our best ankles are inarticulate, you know. Ankles twinkle as at dances, and in our best fiction, but of a speaking ankle no one ever heard. Speaking ankles are in the same class with purple cows.

To be quite serious—and an ankle out of place is always a serious subject—this little comedy is like a bad boy who must be liked despite his faults. It seems to have borrowed something from a great number of plays—and all of them comparatively recent plays, at that—but this cheerful juggling of borrowed ideas, by some strange alchemy becomes entertainment of the most agreeable sort. I give you my word the only new twist in the play is the one that Mary's ankle gets, but it is also a pleasure to inform you that this painful twist will delight you as much as it hurts Mary and that you will have an evening of high fun if you will go to see "Mary's Ankle."

It ought not to be played as a farce at all, in spite of the fact that it is billed that way, and if the young people in charge of Mary's ankle will tone it down a bit—the acting, not the ankle—they will enhance it greatly, again meaning the play and not the display.

MUSICAL.

Long Programme.

EBELL AFTERNOON.

INTERPRETATION OF HADLEY'S NEW OPERA, "AZORA."

By Jeanne Redman.

The musical programme for yesterday afternoon at the Ebell was threatened with immersion by the number of war topics which had to be mentioned, and the announcement of war work to be done. Jane Anderson made a speech about her recent experiences at the front, and the president took occasion to welcome Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, ex-president, who has just returned from a five months' visit at Camp Lewis. Mrs. Bartlett, however, could not be induced, to make more than the briefest of remarks, and then made way for Ethel Graham Lynde, who presented Henry Hadley's new opera, "Azora," with Mrs. Hennion Robinson at the piano, and Mrs. Howard assisting with an admirable interpretation of Azora's chief aria. Mrs. Howard has a well managed soprano voice, and her singing of the difficult and sustained song was well received.

Mrs. Lynde gave a verbal interpretation of the opera, and explained its main themes and general conception. She has an alert and interesting manner of setting forth her ideas and those of the composer, and her short talk which preceded the actual demonstration was clever and unusual in attitude. She made her point about American music clear and concise, and in three minutes she had the assembly with her. She deplored our tendency to depreciate our own talents, and to give every European, of no matter what ability, precedence over our own men of art. She pointed out that the German ascendency in music has been gained by conquest and assumption, and she stated positively that we have as good a chance to produce music as any other nation, providing only we can be relieved of our spurious humility about our artistic place on the globe. Mrs. Lynde is very vigorous, and, it is to be hoped, equally convincing, for she has the argument with her and the mental equipment to carry her and her convictions far.

Mrs. Robinson gave as much of the poetry of the music as was possible without the aid of the orchestra.

Lewis Curtis Opera.

"Pierrette Among the Shepherds," the pastoral opera written by Lewis Woodson Curtis of this city, which the Polytechnic High School produced with immense success on three occasions last week, will be given again at the Polytechnic Auditorium on Wednesday evening. This time the students will perform for the benefit of the entertainment hall for the soldiers and sailors at Fort MacArthur.

ON THE LEVEL.

Even the rich man, like the poor man, must take off his shoe if he wants to scratch his foot. So it has been; so it will be until the end of time.

CAN'T TELL.

It is hardly possible to obtain a definite forecast of the fate of national prohibition. In many States the Legislatures do not meet this year. The decisive campaign will occur in 1919. Prohibition leaders are counting on the ratification of the amendments by the "dry" States; but the chickens are not hatched as yet.

THE OLD FELLOWS NEEDED.

There is a shortage of cowboys on the ranges. On account of the attractions of film life and the army cattlemen are yelling for assistance. The buckaroo is wanted. Camp Lewis is crowded with cowboys and so are the new cavalry regiments that are being formed along the Mexican border. No wonder the southwestern cattlemen are calling back as many of the superannuated riders as they can get.

WHY MONEY?

Trotzky has outlined his scheme to run Russian industry for the benefit of the workers. By his plan, capital is to receive a very small share and neither capital nor capitalists shall be allowed to leave the country. Why, what do they want with capital or capitalists? Why can't the workers directly exchange the products of their labor for all necessities, each woman take in her sister's washing and leave money out of the transactions entirely?

WASTED WORK.

Is it not time to call a halt on the expenditure of several millions of dollars annually for an indefinite term on work that admittedly is of no value? We refer to the physical valuation of American railroads, which has been going on for five years and which, it is stated, cannot be completed for three or four years more. It is agreed that by the time the work is completed the figures will be absolutely worthless and out of date. The expert accountants on the job might be sent to France. Some figuring is needed there.

A DEITY OF DARKNESS.

Dr. Locke must have struck the right idea. It has been suspected for some time, but it seemed to require the verdict of an orthodox clergyman to make it substantial. The good doctor says that there is no doubt whatever that the Gott to whom the Kaiser so frequently refers as his partner is really our devil. When he boasts so blatantly of the prowess of "Me und Gott" the other half of the sketch is none other than the disreputable character to whom we carelessly refer as Lucifer J. Satan. After all, the gods are what people make them. If the heathen build theirs of wood we cannot be surprised if Wilhelm goes to hell for his. Now if he would only stay there!

"HEADS, I WIN."

An Associated Press dispatch states that the Kaiser has proposed to Russia an exchange of prisoners. Russia to return all Germans that are well and able-bodied and retain and care for all who are sick and disabled. Germany to return all ill and disabled Russians and retain all who are able to work.

Liberal old Beast of Berlin! The proposition is analogous to that of the white man who went hunting with an Indian. The products of the chase were a turkey and a crow. "We will divide fairly," said the Caucasian to the aborigine. "You take the crow and I will take the turkey or I will take the turkey and you can have the crow."

EX-SENATOR CARTWRIGHT'S BOOK.

"American Liberty versus German Efficiency" is a "Message to Garcia" which appears in a new book entitled "Mutual Interests of Capital and Labor," by ex-Senator George W. Cartwright, author of the Cartwright anti-trust law. Mr. Cartwright has a message to deliver alike to capital and to labor and he states it with lucidity and energy in the chapter just referred to. For several years Mr. Cartwright was a member of the California Senate; he is an authority on political and industrial conditions in the West. In his book on "Labor and Capital" he outlines a plan in which co-ordination replaces confiscation; he proposes to keep business out of politics and politics out of business. But his most striking chapter sets forth the difference between American and German methods. He points out that state Socialism is a German product, developed for the purpose of making the individual wholly subservient to the bureaucrat; and he urges that whenever efficiency interferes with democracy and human liberty it is the efficiency and not the liberty that should be subordinated. While The Times is not in sympathy with all of Mr. Cartwright's ideas, we recognize that he has a message to deliver and that he has made a genuine contribution to industry in the publication of his "Capital and Labor." One who has read "Progress and Poverty" will recognize that Mr. Cartwright has taken of the questions Henry George raised given a much more practical solu- offered in the gospel of the

A GRIM SITUATION.

CABLES from the Western Front reveal that the progress of the Hun has not yet been effectually stayed in Flanders. Last week the bloody spawn of the barbarian covered Mont Kemmel and Messines ridge. Another offensive has been launched to capture the town of Ypres and drive a wedge into the Anglo-French line that may necessitate the abandonment of Dunkirk and possibly of Calais. Despite the heroic defense of the Allied forces and a slaughter of Huns that would have wiped out the whole of any army ever engaged in a former war, the tidal wave of the invasion has not yet begun to recede. Divisions are annihilated but others emerge from the cloud of gas and smoke that envelops the German frontier, and throw themselves with barbaric fury into the fray. Apparently not the Junkers alone but the whole German people are mad with the lust of battle.

Gen. Foch continues his flexible defense to the rushes of Von Hindenburg. The strategy of the opposing commanders might be likened to that of the matador and the bull. The rushes of the Hun carry him far afield but he has failed to impale his agile tormenter. He captures position after position, at a frightful cost, to find that he has won only a pile of smoking ruins that has lost even its tactical value. He resembles a marauder seeking for food, who can capture nothing but the contents of the garbage cans.

II.

BUT IT IS futile to permit our unshaken confidence in the ultimate triumph of the Allied cause to blind us to the fact that our British and French compatriots are themselves paying a terrible price for victory. The onrush of the Hun found them only partly prepared. AMERICA HAS NOT YET BEEN ABLE TO FILL THE BREACH in the Allied line caused by the defection of Russia. During the last five weeks the Allied forces have fought almost without respite to preserve the territory of Northern France from the withering blight of invasion. There has never been a time when they could not have shortened their northern line by withdrawing from Arras and Ypres and establishing their left wing solidly on the south bank of the Somme from Amiens to the sea. This line of defense would be impregnable to a frontal attack and a flanking movement from the west would be impossible. But to establish this new line would mean the abandonment of the whole of Flanders to the ravages of the "Sale Boche." It would be heralded by the Central Powers as a famous victory and it might have a depressing effect on the defenders of the "home front" in France and Italy. The German attack in Flanders has been pushed to the point, however, when a continued defense may be more costly to the Allies than to the Huns. Under such conditions a withdrawal to the Amiens-Abbeville line would be the saner policy.

During the whole of the great offensive the Allied commanders have been exacting a heavy toll for every position they have abandoned. Their conservation of man power has reflected the highest type of strategy; while the German commanders have been as reckless of life as though human beings were inanimate things to be piled into a bloody gulf like so much refuse filling a ditch. The German loss of men in the great offensive is one that cannot be replaced; if von Hindenburg fails in this prime purpose to crush the British and French resistance before America becomes an important factor in the struggle, his failure will mark the rapid decline of the Central Powers. But the prospects of ending the war this year by an Allied triumph become more remote as the German advance continues. Military strategists are now of the opinion that the great sacrifice must endure for at least another year before the forces of autocracy are finally vanquished and the world is made a safe place to live in.

III.

DEVELOPMENTS of the present offensive have a tremendous importance for the American people. Before civilization is entrusted to the hands of democracy we must prove our power to defend it against all comers. One fact has been demonstrated beyond successful contradiction; there is not now on the western front an Allied force sufficient to crush the war machine of the Junkers, release the little peoples held in bondage and compel Germany and Austria to accept a democratic peace. England and France are not strong enough to accomplish this herculean task alone. Victory must await the arrival of the reserves of the American Liberty Army. While our resources in men and raw material are greater than those of Germany, we have not yet succeeded in converting them into a liquid asset for military purposes. EVERY MAN AND EVERY DOLLAR WE CAN SEND WILL BE NEEDED. The Third Liberty Loan must be oversubscribed and then followed by a fourth. Victims of our own false policy of non-preparedness, we are in the position of a manager teaching his men the rudiments of baseball and team work after the season opens. The duration of the war can be measured by the length of time that must elapse before America can throw its full fighting force, its last reserves of men and material, into the fray.

For a year we have talked about speeding up our war machinery; but Congressional investigations have revealed that we have been too prone to take the will for the deed. The administration has admitted that months have been wasted both in our aviation programme and in our shipbuilding. Men and money were raised almost by magic; but training the men, equipping them and shipping them to the western front in the shortest possible time are problems that have not yet been correctly solved. The present is no time for recriminations; but we must beware of the mistakes of the past if we are to do our best in the present. The proposed campaign to convert the German masses through argumentation has not succeeded. Our efforts in that line have fared little better than those of the Bolsheviki. It has been fairly demonstrated that a state of mind exists in Germany and Austria that cannot be changed by words. Force is the one weapon the barbarian fears and the only argument that will now appeal to the populations of the Central Powers is an Allied victory. Are we doing our best to hasten that victory? Aye, there is the rub!

IV.

CONSERVATION of resources is absolutely essential to a successful campaign. We have talked conservation and concentration; individuals have been practicing almost every known economy; they have observed the wheatless days and the meatless days; they have eaten unwholesome, black bread and have accepted substitutes for butter and cheese to save more for the Allies. They have bought Liberty bonds and thrift stamps, supported the Red Cross and Red Star; they have gone cold and hungry that the needy among the Allies might be clothed and fed. But there is no evidence that this spirit of sacrifice has permeated the intellects of municipal, county, State and Federal bureaucrats.

There has been no saving of municipal funds to increase the total of the war budget; there are just as many city and county sinecures as there were before the war started, and they are costing more than ever before. The extravagances of the State administration have become a national scandal. Strict economy and an administration limited to a war basis would result in a saving of $1,000,000 a month in State money alone. But have you observed any indications of such economy? The State commissions are exceeding the limits with their extravagances. In a list of 100 useless commissioners but a single one has resigned. Last year the city, county and State governments of California spent $185,000,000. ESTIMATES OF THE EXPENSE FOR THIS YEAR EXCEED $200,000,000. The office-holding class boasts that it is supreme, that no organization among the masses can be made efficient enough to break the strangle-hold of the bureaucrats on the State, county and municipal finances. They are as arrogant and as adamant to moral suasion as the Junkers themselves. As the war progresses it becomes more visibly apparent that, unless we are strong enough to break the chains of these political Junkers at home we shall not win a victory for democracy abroad. To go into the conflict with the whole burden of State, county and municipal extravagances on our shoulders is to insure that we shall fall from financial exhaustion before the Hun drops from loss of blood. OUR PEOPLE CANNOT STAND THIS DRAIN FOREVER.

V.

WE HAVE given our sons and our treasure as individuals, offered them as sacrifices on the altars of democracy. But we have stopped when we paid out our money and saw our sons entrained for the service camps. The great sources of public waste have not been checked. The faucets are all open. The spouts are running without surcease. Every day the drain on our resources goes on unchecked. Among all the candidates for Governor, not one has dared to come forward with a platform in opposition to the forty fat commissions.

Our boys are marching cheerfully to their heroic sacrifice; they march along the road to France as jauntily as though death in a thousand forms were not awaiting them "over there." But what are we doing on the home front? Some of the revelations of frittering away of funds collected for patriotic purposes are shocking. The greater the patriotism displayed by our sons and brothers, the more blinded we seem to become to the encroachments of greed and petty ambition about us. As long as we permit a waste of $50,000,000 a year in State, county and municipal funds in California we are not keeping faith with those gallant lads, blood of our blood and bone of our bone, who have gone farther than any generation of Americans before them to fight the battles to make the world safe for decency. We must face this grim situation grimly. We must work harder and save more. We must shut off the great leaking spouts of official incompetency and waste.

The Intensive War Garden.

STEFFENS.

Protests have come to The Times because, under the guise of giving a patriotic address, Lincoln Steffens has been permitted to deliver in a number of smaller California municipalities a Bolshevik lecture which approaches very closely the frontiers of sedition. Steffens was in Petrograd while the revolution was at its apogee; when its star began to wane he hot-footed it back to the United States and is now engaged in organizing an American section of the Russian Soviet. Col. Charles H. Graves, former Ambassador to Sweden, attended a lecture which Steffens delivered before the Cosmopolitan Club in Santa Barbara. At the close Col. Graves sent a statement to the press to the effect that the Steffens lecture was pro-German and un-American and calculated to create opposition to the country's war programme. The colonel asserts that Steffens said the present world war is an economic struggle; that no one nation could be blamed for starting it, and that the working classes of all nations, including Germany and Austria, should meet and arrange a negotiated peace. Steffens has already been refused permission to speak in San Diego and it would be well if the police would get active in other places where he is billed to lecture and order him to move on. California is amply able to do its part in helping to win the present war without any advice from Mr. Steffens. If he is so enamored of the Bolsheviki he should take an early boat for Petrograd; he is only consuming food here that might otherwise fill a patriotic stomach.

THE ENLISTED MEN'S CLUB.

All men know the value of a club rendezvous even in their own city—those social havens where men do congregate, where friendships are fostered, where material comforts are enjoyed, where views are exchanged and sociable intercourse with his fellow-man is assured. And the enlisted man, far from his own friendly circles, must doubly appreciate such a social headquarters.

And it was the women of Los Angeles, particularly that hard-working coterie affectionately known as "the birdcage bunch" on account of their activities at the Alexandria birdcage shop, who bethought them of this crying need for the enlisted men who come up to this city for their brief leave from the strenuous training at the outlying camps.

When the idea was first mooted by Mrs. Michael Connell and Mrs. Dan Murphy last December the undertaking seemed almost too prodigious to put through; but once the real need of such a club was understood these intrepid ladies were dauntless in materializing the enterprise. And the management of the men's club is no sinecure, even when the quarters are generously donated and liberal contributors of other essentials are forthcoming. Yet this coterie of women who, before the war, were classed as our "social leaders" have tackled this undertaking with almost uncanny efficiency and today the Enlisted Men's Club, occupying a whole floor of the Trinity Hotel Building, is a flourishing social rendezvous for more than 300 appreciative men over the week-ends.

There was no self-advertising about this enterprise. The popularity of the club has come about on its own sheer merits, the men themselves spreading the glad tidings. Run by women, it is nevertheless essentially a masculine club, the ladies devoting themselves exclusively to the work and the management, even restricting their own presence to one remote end of the club quarters.

It is essentially a labor of love, with an accent on the labor. Each day different ladies are in charge and they stick on the job for their prescribed number of hours with even more conscientious industry than if they were paid managers. Thus Mrs. Harry Holliday may be seen bearing full responsibility on Mondays, Mrs. Homer Laughlin on Tuesdays, Mrs. W. A. Clark, Jr., on Wednesdays, Mrs. Walter Wallace on Thursdays, Mrs. Russell Taylor on Fridays, Mrs. Dan Murphy on Saturdays and Mrs. Michael Connell on Sundays, aided by a willing coterie of hard-working assistants. First-class meals are provided at minimum cost, as are refreshments, tobacco and soft drinks, and in the spacious library all the current newspapers and magazines are furnished, as well as technical books. All sorts of wholesome indoor sports are available—in fact, the club enjoys the advantages of the expensive private men's clubs.

The social aptitude of these ladies has denuded the scheme of all patronage. There is no fussy interference and supervision; no precious schemes of "uplift" or "moral suasion." In fact, the whole idea of a men's social club is faithfully adhered to—a fact which the men strongly appreciate. The ladies cannot be too highly commended, not alone for the enterprise, but for the manner in which it is carried out. The steady increase in attendance is the best proof of their unqualified success. And the deportment of the men has entirely warranted the patriotic confidence placed in them.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

A BIRTHDAY.

Some umpty years ago today I showed up on this planet, where northern streamlets dash their way between tall hills of granite. I'm growing old in count of years, that much I am allowing; but I am chipper as the steer that Adam used for plowing. If you'd convince me I am old, you'd have to bring the papers; for I am gay, my step is bold and I cut fancy capers. Men often say, "You look so young! Your youth is scarcely civil; the rest of us by age are stung—why don't you bend and shrivel?" And I reply, "The world's a joke, and life a transient flurry, and all our troubles end in smoke, so I refuse to worry. To me care looks like twenty cents, I throw it to the foxes; it's worry ages dames and gents and puts them in their boxes. Oh, worry will not heal a sore, there is no balm in weeping; so while you fellows walk the floor, I put in nine hours sleeping. And here I am all sound and hale, and fit and pert and able; I take a bullock by the tail and throw it o'er the stable." Today I celebrate my birth with flares and Roman candles, while sighs re-echo round the earth, brought forth by Teuton vandals. If tears would down a single foe I'd make a moist beginning; but not an ill is healed by woe, and so I keep on grinning.

The Sergeant Is Demoted.

Captain: What became of that pacifist who was kicking around here?

Sergeant (colored:) He wah convicted of high treason and dey put him in de guardhouse foh two weeks.

Captain: Well, he was lucky. That's mighty small punishment for high treason.

Sergeant: Yass! He wah lucky. Aftah de two weeks was up dey took him out and shot him.—[Chicago Herald.

HITS AND MISSES BY OTHER PAPERS.

Man for man, our soldiers are unexcelled. Those already in France are maintaining America's traditions and enriching them. The fighting so far indicates that one American soldier is equal in fighting qualities to about five Germans when it comes to a test of individual prowess. Put on the plains of Picardy a million American soldiers like those whose deeds have just begun to attract the attention of the world and Europe would see such fighting as it had never seen before.—[San Antonio Light.

The seven New York Socialist Aldermen who in a moment of emotion recently voted for a resolution indorsing the Liberty Loan have been rebuked by the Kings County Committee of their party for reprehensible conduct. It appears that here, as in Petrograd, support of government is a crime unless it has first been authorized by the sanction of all the Soviets.—[New York World.

Some time American troops may constitute the main force in Armageddon. If and when that day comes we may be sure that British and French and Belgians and Italians who are able will gladly merge themselves with the Sammies to "carry on" to the end. True glory lies too deep these days to be visualized in uniforms or mere fabrics of flags. It shines from the faces and burns in the hearts of men who are captains of their souls.—[Minneapolis Tribune.

We are able to see from recent disclosures how calculated the effort was to Germanize this country. Considering the progress that had been made in our educational institutions there was some warrant for the assurance given the Kaiser by resident Huns that the country would never go against him.—[Oakland Tribune.

Germany, at this moment seeing very red, or quite blinded by blood and passion, may now take little note of what we do. But her accounting with us will come. It might be better for Berlin to take some thought about it even while German armies are beating their heads against the wall of British and French resistance. Gen. Pershing spoke for a hundred million Americans when he promised Gen. Foch that all the help in our power to give was at his command.—[New York Times.

It was pathetic but fitting that when the bill to admit women to the legal profession came up in the House of Lords it should have been most stoutly opposed by Lord Halsbury, 92 years of age. He is too old to visit the United States and observe how far the world has left his ancient prejudices behind in this matter.—[Springfield Republican.

In the town of Newton, Mass., a cat is on the city pay roll. A special appropriation of eight cents a day is paid for services as official rat catcher. We have men on our city pay rolls, not as efficient as cats, drawing pay as official vote catcher. Between the two we prefer the rat catcher of Newton.—[Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

Sinking ten German trawlers, the British rescued the crews. Deep as the resentment of the British seaman is at the atrocities of submarine warfare, firmly resolved as he is to refuse to sail after the war in a ship bound for a German port or carrying German goods, he still is true to the best traditions of his calling.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

If Willard and Fulton, the fighters, want to do something worth while let them imitate the example set by Jack Monroe, the boxer, who began by knocking out Jim Jeffries and is now engaged in the work of bayoneting Huns on the Canadian heroes.

There is no reason why conversations conferred by foreign governments should not be permitted to Americans without the formality of a special act of Congress. The present law on that subject should be repealed. Whatever its original object, there is no longer any reason for it.

In spite of the increase in prices the American dollar stands as it is worth one hundred cents. The rubles, francs and pounds of Europe may depreciate, but the dollar retains its full value. It has the prosperity of a great nation behind it. The dollar has not shrunk; it has swelled.

YOUR BOY IS MY BOY.

I wonder if it were not best
Once in a while to cease the fight
And breathe a prayer
For all the brave and gallant men
Who fight for freedom and the right
Far over there?

Do you not think that if they could
Thus to their memory we would
'Twould cheer each heart
Fighting, dying, that we might be free
Would it not courage to them give
To do their part?

I cannot boast that boy of mine
Fights in the far-flung battle line
Or on the sea.
Yet still I feel each warrior lad
Whether in blue or khaki clad Belongs to me.

What though the boy be not my own
The cause for which he fights is mine,
That ALL be free.
Know, then, each youth, who reads my verse,
dares,
That all my faith, my hopes, my prayers
Shall follow thee.

If Russia did know what she wanted she wouldn't know how to get it.

In some instances, of which we wot, they also serve who only stand and knock.

What Russia needs is a little red schoolhouse in every township. They have a wonderful effect.

The Germans are coming West to blow up with the country. Horace Greeley's advice, somewhat twisted.

The bathing season is on at the local beaches and a strong west wind is said to constitute a sufficient costume.

Things are clearing up as the war demands are taking shape. The American people do not in any measure lack fiber or courage.

The Angels, too, have their backs up against the cellar wall. About time for them to begin to imitate Mark Twain's "Jumping Frog of Calaveras."

One of the missions of some of the fashion magazines appears to be to aggravate the poor. It is hard to look at the pictures and retain one's composure.

Wonder if Uncle Josephus Daniels would have taken refuge in a Paris wine cellar if the bombs had dropped dangerously near? There are two sides to the argument.

If there is a friend of Germany in this town who rejoices at the advances being made by the German army something besides flags ought to be hung in our public places.

Some folks are poking fun at Secretary Baker because he sought refuge in a Paris wine cellar during a bombardment. Wonder where William Jennings Bryan would have gone?

It has been estimated that the per capita expenditure of American women for hats is about $10 a year. Here is where a handy young woman capable of making an old headgear look as well as new ought to come in. There used to be such.

The temporary success of the Germans on the western front should not be permitted to discourage the American people. If Paris should fall and the channel ports be taken America would still be in the war and determined to win at any cost.

If Willard and Fulton, the prize fighters, want to do something worth while let them imitate the example set by Jack Monroe, the Butte miner, who began by knocking down Jim Jeffries and is now engaged in the work of bayoneting Huns with the Canadian heroes.

RED STAR WILL BUILD STATION.

... to be Adjunct of Kearny Veterinary Hospital.

... Eight Thousand Horses are in Use at Camp.

... ior League Collects Large Sum for Animal Work.

Mrs. Anita M. Baldwin, chairman of the local chapter of the American Red Star Society, announced Saturday that the organization will erect a supply station at Camp Kearny immediately. Mrs. Baldwin will leave for Camp Kearny Thursday morning, taking with her a contractor, to rush the work, as the improvement is sorely needed.

Maj.-Gen. Strong, in command at the camp, made the request that the Red Star office have the supply station built. The matter of getting such an improvement through the government means waiting an indefinite length of time for formalities to be complied with, so Gen. Strong took his request to the one where he knew quick action could be obtained.

The Red Star will construct at the Kearny a supply station consisting of an office, a stockroom and a waiting room," said Mrs. Baldwin yesterday. "We will provide all the surgical instruments, the bandages and other supplies to be used in connection with the veterinary hospital, which the government will probably erect at the camp this year.

"In addition to the supply station we will also provide an ambulance for horses and a side car for the accommodation of the veterinary surgeons who are called to attend cases. The investment for all of this will not be great. The principal thing about it is that it will provide immediate relief."

Speaking of the demand for a veterinary hospital at the camp, Mrs. Baldwin stated that more than 8000 horses are in use there. The remount station has a base hospital, but it is said to be not equal to the emergencies which are constantly arising.

Mrs. Baldwin reported yesterday that 32,124 children in this district now belong to the Red Star Junior League, and that these youthful members have succeeded in turning $7538.87 into the organization's treasury since November. This was collected by giving parties, dances and other entertainments, and by soliciting memberships among adults.

RELIEF COMMITTEE WILL MEET TODAY.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of sending food and other supplies to France scheduled for yesterday afternoon was postponed until this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. At that time further reports of subcommittees will be heard and additional details of the campaign determined.

The ladies' auxiliary committee, of which Mrs. Willoughby Rodman is chairman, will also meet today and arrange for the division of work.

MAYOR WRITES CRAIG AND COLE

Criticises Commissioners for Resignations.

Time for All to Aid Public Service, He Says.

Charles H. Langmuir Offered One of Positions.

In accepting the resignations of W. T. Craig and Louis M. Cole as members of the Civil Service Commission, Mayor Woodman yesterday criticised them for getting "het up" over a resolution which merely calls upon the commissioners to carry out one of the important provisions of the charter.

To Mr. Cole the Mayor said he deplored the fact that he had resigned. To Mr. Craig he said he was in hope that "you might continue in the place you occupied, because I believe at this time that every man should give the best in himself to the public service."

Before mailing his answers to Messrs. Craig and Cole, the Mayor sent a letter to Charles H. Langmuir, president of the Municipal League, tendering him one of the positions.

Following is the Mayor's letter to Mr. Craig:

Your letter of April 26, containing your resignation from the Civil Service Board, received.

I accept this resignation, but believe at this time every man should give the best that is in him to the public service, and I was in hope that you might continue in the place you occupied on the Civil Service Commission.

In your statement you say that the commission struck down one of the fundamental principles in civil service—secrecy in examinations—by requiring that the questions shall be referred by the chief examiner to the commissioners before the examination. I did not know that the commission was violating the city charter in not controlling the examinations; I had an idea that they were procuring suitable assistants to aid them in the formation of questions and in the conduct of such examinations, as directed by the charter.

I cannot understand why such a resolution as you mention is necessary, nor why any commissioner should take a position in direct violation of the charter of the city of Los Angeles, as a reason for resigning.

Sections 234 and 256 of the charter specifically direct that the commission shall be responsible for the examinations held by the commission, and that they may employ a person or persons to assist them in the conduct of the examinations.

There is a responsibility resting upon the commission of which they cannot relieve themselves.

In the conduct of the business of the city, and especially of the Civil Service work, a man must feel that he can conduct it fairly and impartially, without fear or favor to anyone; and I believe that is what is contemplated by the charter.

The position of Civil Service Commissioner is one of great importance to the city, and the charter, I believe, plainly indicates that the authority delegated by the people of the city to the commission shall not be delegated by them to anybody for the purpose of shirking responsibility.

With respect to the maintaining of the secrecy of the examinations, it is my purpose to have commissioners, so far as it lies within my power, above reproach, and who will accept the full responsibility of the office.

TO MOVE SEVEN INCHES.

E. L. Doheny Must Change Location of Wire Fence Separating Property.

The legal battle between L. E. F. Miller and E. L. Doheny over a seven-inch strip of land, which involved the erection of a wire fence, and the alleged inability of Mr. Miller to use an alley between their respective properties, was decided in favor of Mr. Miller by Judge Avery yesterday.

While the court gave judgment in favor of Mr. Miller as to the strip, it gave him no easement of the alley. Under the decision the wire fence will be moved back seven inches.

FIGURES SHOW SOBER CITY.

Thousand Fewer Arrests for Drunkenness During the Present Month.

Interesting statistics relative to closing of saloons in Los Angeles, as showed by the arrests by the police, will be given in Chief of Police Butler's report for April. Since April 1, there have been approximately 1000 fewer cases of drunkenness than in the preceding month of March and 1100 less than the corresponding month for 1917.

Other cases have increased, however. The total member of arrests will be slightly over 4000 men and women, while in April, 1917, 3060 were booked on all charges. This increase is said to be caused by the more rigid enforcement of the traffic regulations, raids on disorderly houses and gambling cases.

Gets Ten Years.

that C. L. Keep, special agent of the Department of Justice, had not been fully cross-examined by counsel for the defense.

The new trial was denied, and a motion in arrest of judgment was also turned down by the court. Then Le Compte Davis, who appeared in behalf of Goldstein for the first time, asked that he be allowed ten days to prepare an appeal to the higher court, and this was granted.

After sentence was imposed, Mr. Davis inquired if his client could be released pending the disposition of the appeal, and the court fixed the bond at $25,000. Goldstein has been in the County Jail since last November, in default of $10,000 bond

FREE SOCIALIST ON CHARGE OF SLAYING.

LACK OF EVIDENCE FORCES STATE'S ATTORNEY TO ASK DISMISSAL.

In dismissing the charge of murder against Raul Palma, young Mexican orator and idealist, yesterday Judge Willis took occasion to comment on the contradictory evidence introduced at the first trial which had a tendency to show that Palma was in two places at the same time.

"Two reputable witnesses testified to having seen Palma run away from the neighborhood of Twenty-third avenue and Compton street following the shooting of Peter Fetters," said the court. "Two others swore he was present at a birthday dinner party the night of the Fetters murder.

"In weighing this evidence I have every reason to believe the former two witnesses as against the others. However, the doctrine of the reasonable doubt exists in the case and there is nothing I can do but to dismiss the action against the defendant."

Deputy District Attorney Doran in moving for a dismissal of the case explained that this action had been taken by Dist.-Atty. Woolwine solely because of lack of sufficient evidence to convict and not because of agitation on the part of Palma's Socialist friends, who have from time to time interceded in his behalf with the District Attorney. A second trial, he said, would inevitably result in another jury disagreement.

Consolidation.

MERGER OF BRITISH WAR WORK BODIES PLANNED.

REPRESENTATIVES of the ten British war work organizations here will meet at the British Ambulance Society's headquarters in the Westminster Hotel this evening, to discuss plans for reorganizing the work of the Ambulance Society and the combining of all British war work here under one head.

The principal speaker will be Arthur Letts, who has been prominently mentioned for the office of president of the new organization, in case the amalgamation plan meets with favor. Andrew Chaffee, who also has been prominently identified with British war relief work here, will be another speaker.

Representatives of the following organizations have been invited to attend the meeting: British Ambulance Society, Allies' Aid, Overseas Club, Caledonian Society, Sons of St. George, Nester Society, Canadian Prisoners of War Society, Canadian Society of Southern California, Canadian Women's Club, Celtic Club, and the several chapters of the Daughters of the British Empire.

Those who attend the meeting will report back to committees representing their respective societies, and in case their reports are favorable the organizations will, it is believed, be combined without delay, after which the mother society will work in closer harmony with the American Red Cross chapter here.

PLEDGE A DAY'S WAGES.

Union Delegates Vote Step to Help Pay Heavy Debt on Labor Temple.

Delegations from each of the labor unions in the city met at the Labor Temple last night and voted that the members should each give one day's wages sometime between now and June 1, to pay off the debt on the building.

Many of the unionists expressed themselves as being willing to give a day's wages providing they had wages to give. Some of them said they were out of work. Others said they already had stock in the building.

It is asserted that there are about 5000 union men in the community. If they all "come through," the net amount would only be $25,000, whereas the debt is said to be over $100,000 and the interest $7000 per annum.

There is considerable talk of giving up the building and moving into smaller quarters. The impression seems to prevail that it would be better to pay rent than pay interest.

STUDENTS WILL HIKE.

The Harvard Military School has chartered three Pacific Electric cars to convey the students of that institution to Upland, from which point the boys will hike into the mountains for ten days' encampment. The special cars will leave the school tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock.

LIBERTY LOAN NOTES.

Among the Liberty Loan meetings to be held toady are the following: Hyde Park schoolhouse, 8 p.m.; Foreman & Clark's Broadway store, 8:45 p.m.; Sisters' Hospital, 7:30 p.m.; Retail Credit Men's Association, at Sierra Madre Club, noon; Water Department employees, room 502, Knickerbocker Building, 3:30 p.m.; Wilshire Guild Auxiliary, Third street and Western avenue, 1:30 p.m.

Reports received at the women's headquarters yesterday showed that Saugus, with Mrs. Charles H. Kellogg as chairman, made a record of $5850 for the day; Burbank, Emma G. Fischer, chairman, $5250; Sawtelle, $2000, and South Pasadena $3300.

The women of Boyle Heights district are planning a great patriotic rally on behalf of the Liberty Bonds for Friday night at the branch Public Library, First and Chicago streets. Representatives of five nationalities will speak and there will be other interesting features.

The latest reports from the Southern Pacific Company in Southern California show a total subscription of $1,026,050, and of this Los Angeles is credited with a total of $279,500. The Santa Fe Railway employees of the Western Division report $695,400. California is credited with $583,650, and of this $130,450 stands to the credit of Los Angeles.

San Gabriel has gone 600 per cent. over its quota of $12,650. It has subscriptions from 450 individuals, totaling $82,000, and before it closes the campaign it expects to have subscriptions from at least one-third of its population.

Pasadena, San Bernardino and San Diego went "over the top" yesterday, but in neither city will there be any lessening of effort in the campaign.

Hynes, Clearwater and Bellflower have each doubled their Liberty Loan quotas and are still going ahead, says a statement issued yesterday by the First National Bank of Hynes.

The Pacific Electric employees exceeded the mark that they had set for themselves for the third Liberty Loan campaign when yesterday they found their total subscriptions amounted to $300,000. They had determined to reach the $300,000 mark. Now they will go right ahead, with the expectation of raising several thousand dollars worth of additional subscriptions. Their record at present is subscriptions from 97 per cent. of the employees, and the list represents 3850 subscriptions.

BILLS STOLEN.

Mrs. Emma Newcomb of No. 1908 Estrella avenue reported to the University police last night that she left the door to her apartment unlocked for a few minutes while she was absent and when she returned to the rooms discovered that some one had entered and stolen $370 in bills from her handbag.

LOW PRICED POOLS SAVE MARKET FROM INERTIA.

Trade Conditions Depend Much on Quicker Deliveries in Near Future.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 29.—The spasmodic activity of pools in low-priced specialties saved today's stock market from absolute inertia. Trading in the usual leaders was of the most slender proportions, rails being relegated to the background. Overnight war bulletins and those received during the day were in themselves sufficient to restrain speculative ardor, and domestic advices offered only partial encouragement.

Reports from leading railroad terminals differed as to business prospects, tonnage showing little change from the corresponding period last year. Trade conditions, it was indicated, depend largely upon the quickening of deliveries in the immediate future.

United States Steel, which led the list so far as it displayed any leadership, was watched for some intimation of tomorrow's action on the dividend. Steel made an extreme advance of a large fraction, all of which was forfeited later.

Early gains of 1¼ points in Bethlehem Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Central Leather, Studebaker and Atlantic-Gulf were mostly cancelled in the sagging trend which marked the final dealings. New Haven was the only railway issue to show even temporary strength, despite the interstate Commerce Commission's severe arraignment. Persistent heaviness was manifested by the American Telephone and Sumatra Tobacco. Sales amounted to 185,000 shares.

Lire, or Italian exchange, declined to low record of 9.00, or nine lire to the American dollar.

Bonds were irregular, Liberty issues reacting, with nominal changes in internationals. Total sales (par value) aggregated $6,335,000. United States bonds, old issues, were unchanged on call.

United Eastern reached a new low, selling 12½ points below Saturday's close, selling down to 3.80, the highest sale being at 3.90 in the morning session, and closing at 3.75 bid, with 3.85 asked. One sale made at 3.75 was the result of a misunderstanding, and was not allowed. Gold Road Bonanza sold at 3 cents in both morning and afternoon sessions. Tom Reed opened at 2.20 and closed at 2.23½.

In the oil list Union Oil sold at 102.50, and five Union $1000 bonds at 89½. Mascot Oil sold at 1.35 and 30; General Petroleum at 94.

President Pettengell of the Stock Exchange received a letter yesterday from Congressman Osborne stating that he is heartily in sympathy with a change of mining laws as proposed by Senator Henderson's bill relative to the "apex" laws, and will support the measure to the best of his ability.

Business on the exchange continued quiet yesterday, as for some time past, but showed signs of picking up with the close of the Liberty Loan drive. While little trading is being done the market is firmer, with advances in a few instances.

STOCK EXCHANGE VETERAN RESIGNS.

Louis F. Parsons, for twelve years manager and director of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, under whose regime the institution grew and prospered, has sold his seat, it became known yesterday, and resigned from the board to give his undivided attention to a new venture.

Mr. Parsons has just returned from the East, where he financed a copper property near Merced, in this State, most of the money coming from Pittsburgh. The company is a closed corporation, and one of the specifications of the agreement between Mr. Parsons and his new company, it is said, is that he is to give his entire time and attention to the enterprise.

"It is with sincere regret," Mr. Parsons said yesterday, "that I leave the exchange after being so closely identified with it for so many years."

Sergt. Albert G. Ralphs.

BIRTHDAY AND WEDDING CELEBRATED BY SOLDIER.

YESTERDAY marked not only the twenty-first birthday, but also the wedding day of Sergt. Albert G. Ralphs, son of the late George A. Ralphs, millionaire moneyman of Los Angeles. In addition, none of the many guests invited to a ball given by Miss Annabelle Ralphs, the groom's sister, was aware that they were to witness a wedding ceremony when they commenced dancing, and it was not until the lively strains of a one-step changed to the more solemn wedding march that any of them had any idea of what was to happen. The ball, given in honor of Mr. Ralphs and his fiancee, Miss Ava Richards, took place last evening at the Hollywood Woman's Club House, Hollywood boulevard and La Brea avenue, and was attended by about 100 members of the Hollywood younger set, together with a number of soldiers from Fort MacArthur, comrades of Mr. Ralphs, who is a member of Company 5 of the Coast Artillery.

Promptly at 10 o'clock, in the midst of a dance, the orchestra suddenly stopped playing a popular "jazz" number, commencing a slow rendition of the wedding march. Then Mr. Ralphs and his fiancee, accompanied by William Hunkins, a member of Company 5, the best man, and by Miss Annabelle Ralphs, the bridesmaid, stepped to the platform of the auditorium. There they were met by Chaplain Herschell Griffin of Fort MacArthur, who performed the ceremony. Immediately afterward the guests were given a chance to felicitate the bride and groom, and dancing was resumed, Mr. and Mrs. Ralphs remaining until about 11 o'clock, when they went to the Alexandria. Early this morning they will leave on a honeymoon tour of the north, to last during the ten days' leave of absence that have been granted to the groom.

It was stated by a member of the Ralphs family last evening that Mrs. Ralphs will make her home for the present with her mother, Mrs. D. C. Richards of the Montclare apartments, this city.

Sandwich "Meal."

wich has grown to be known as the great sandwich mystery, was the outcome of the arrest three weeks ago of Edward Gallagher, a cafe proprietor. The arrest was made by members of the metropolitan squad for the purpose of determining the status of the sandwich under the new liquor ordinance.

TEST OF A MEAL.

After taking a rap at subterfuge, pettifoggery and otherwise, Judge White defines the section of the Gandier ordinance covering the case and resolves the subject to two questions, namely, what is a bona fide meal and when and under what circumstances and restriction even with a bona fide meal, can vinous and malt liquors be served?

In answer to the first query Judge White is inclined to believe that the test of what constitutes a meal does not lie in the quantity of food served, nor the price charged for such a meal. He says:

"There can be no reasonable doubt that under some circumstances a sandwich or a plate of beans might constitute a meal. This would depend largely upon the person to be served and the condition of his appetite. It must be remembered, however, that the sandwich and the plate of beans are notorious and have become mockeries because of their widespread use to evade the provisions of just such measures as the ordinance now before us."

WHAT'S AN APPETITE?

"Their use, therefore, must be viewed with suspicion," the judge says, adding:

"Liquor should not be served with such a meal unless it is perfectly clear that the food was ordered in good faith to satisfy hunger and not merely as an excuse to obtain liquor. The real test is the good faith of the person ordering and the person serving the meal. But where good faith begins and where it ends is a matter of intent and purpose in the minds of the parties to the transaction."

After emphasizing that the food ordered must actually be eaten, and that it must be in good faith, and for a consideration, Judge White taboos olives, green uncooked vegetables and other food classed as a subterfuge and proclaims that the customer must show good faith by actually commencing to consume and eat the said meal.

In ending, the opinion states that inasmuch as the case under consideration was brought as a test case, the defendant is relieved of responsibility by the dismissal of the case against him by granting of the City Prosecutor's motion for dismissal.

SUCCEEDS HAMMACK.

Long Beach Attorney is Named United States Commissioner and will Move His Home Here.

Stephen G. Long, a Long Beach attorney, was yesterday appointed United States Commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Daniel M. Hammack. Mr. Long qualified by taking the oath before United States District Court Clerk Williams.

There were a number of candidates for the post, and the selection of Mr. Long was made by Judge Bledsoe, with Judge Trippet affirming it. Mr. Long will remove from Long Beach to this city immediately, it was stated yesterday.

Mr. Long has been a practicing attorney at the Los Angeles county bar for many years, and for the past ten years has lived in Long Beach, where he has recently been serving as chairman of the Long Beach exemption board. He made several unsuccessful races for the Superior Court judge nomination.

First Fifteen.

nore last week, where she spent a day demonstrating her easy control of the big machine, much to the surprise of Chief Engineer Caldwell, who frankly confessed his doubts in advance as to her ability to handle the work. Mr. Caldwell ended, however, by very handsomely acknowledging his mistaken judgment in the matter, giving Henry Harvey, manager of the development company's agricultural affairs and former owner of the great ranch, his unqualified approval of the plan of turning over the machine to Mrs. Ritchell for the season.

Among the other recruits of this unit is an English girl, Miss Emily Williams, who was completing preparations to go to England to work there with her sister in similar work which the English woman's organizations have been carrying on almost from the beginning of the war. On hearing of the work planned here by the Woman's Land Army of America, Miss Williams felt that her efforts would be quite as valuable in food producing under such an organization as with the English body and registered for service at once.

FOR PATRIOTISM.

Another of the number moved chiefly by patriotism is Flora C. Maddock, who has a sweetheart at the front and who says that his sacrifice will seem more worth while to him knowing that she is also giving active personal service. Miss Hilda Huether, a nurse, another of the number, feels that she can give more valuable service for the present in this way in addition to gaining experience which she expects to use patriotically later on, perhaps even "over there," as well as the gain in health. And Julia Armbruster naively confessed that she wants to stay "forever." She says she wants to do such good work that the farmer she works for will never give her up! She was raised on a ranch and knows the work thoroughly. She says she has been homesick ever since she left the country and is happy to get back.

One and all share this patriotic enthusiasm for the work ahead. Volunteers for the service of food production on the land, they feel that they are enlisted in the actual defense of their country.

RAISE MONEY FOR NAZARENE SCHOOL.

Following a sermon in the First Church of the Nazarene, at Sixth and Wall streets yesterday morning, $10,000 was subscribed to the fund of $100,000, which is being raised for the benefit of the Nazarene University.

Rev. A. O. Hendricks preached the sermon, following and preceding which musical numbers were presented.

MENACING FIRE.

Fire of unknown origin threatened the entire structure which houses the Omar Theater at No. 523 South Main street, early yesterday morning. The blaze started in the back of the theater stage and had caused an estimated damage of $500 before it could be mastered by the fire department.

MONEY ORDERS WITH MEXICO RESUMED.

Commencing tomorrow, the exchange of international money orders will be resumed between the United States and Mexico. The money orders will be issued on the international forms at postoffices that have been designated to transact international money order business, which includes, Los Angeles.

The money order business between the United States and Mexico was discontinued on October 26, 1914. Up to that time money orders could be sent to Mexico from any money order office in the United States.

THANKED BY JAPANESE.

Commander of Training Squadron Wires Appreciation of Courtesies Here.

Further appreciation of the courtesies extended to the Japanese training squadron recently at Los Angeles was expressed in a telegram received yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce. The message is from Panama and signed by Vice-Admiral Suzuki. It is as follows:

"On leaving American shores I tender heartiest thanks for your kindness and courtesy to Japanese training squadron during stay in your port. Wish you every success and good luck."

SOCHA NEARLY MOBBED ON FLOOR OF COUNCIL.

Cries of "Throw Him Out!" Greet "Germania" Editor's Sneering Remark to Civil War Veterans.

WHEN Max Socha, editor and proprietor of Germania, a daily newspaper printed mostly in the alien enemy language, yesterday morning in a speech to the City Council sneeringly asserted, "I am just as loyal as any one in this room," he came dangerously near being mobbed on the spot.

The remark was immediately challenged by Capt. Phelps of the California Loyal League, who leaped to his feet and demanded that the Council deny the privilege of the floor to Socha.

While more than half a hundred others present showed their keen resentment by cat calls, hisses and cries of "throw him out!" Capt. Phelps declared the Council had no right to permit "that man" to insult loyal American citizens.

Several members of the Council arose and waved the audience to be seated, while Councilman True hurried to the side of Socha and beseeched everyone to be calm.

Councilman Mallard said he believed the Council should not permit any of the speakers to indulge in personalities.

MANY INTERRUPTIONS.

Despite the injunction of Mr. Mallard, the grizzled veterans of the Civil and other wars refused to be silenced and when Socha resumed his talk he was frequently interrupted.

The German-American editor addressed the Council in an attempt to induce it not to adopt resolutions condemning the assembling of disloyal persons of German or Austrian birth. He said such a resolution would place an undeserved mark on all Germans whether loyal or disloyal and he declared there are many loyal citizens of German birth in the city.

Socha's name was written in the original resolution, referring to him as the president of an association heretofore known as the German-American Alliance of California and the German-American Alliance of Los Angeles.

In compliance with his request, Socha's name was scratched out. The Council also eliminated a sentence which read "and that said organization intends to include among its members others disloyal to this country."

An attempt to delete the word "otherwise" from the resolution was defeated. Four of the Councilmen believe that the resolution should be directed at secret meetings exclusively, but four others said they believed meetings should be referred to as "secret or otherwise."

After this dispute was settled, a motion was made to adopt the resolution and it was unanimously adopted.

In effect, the resolution is simply a memorial to Congress to enact at once a law prohibiting disloyal persons of alien enemy birth to assemble, and to call the attention of the local Federal authorities to meetings or proposed meetings of such persons. The resolution does not give any special power to the police department.

At the conclusion of the meeting, one of the Councilmen remarked that it was strange that while probably every citizen of German birth knew of the proposed resolution, none of the big, influential, business men of high standing was present to protest against it.

Editor Socha waited in the Council Chamber until nearly all had passed out and then went into the midst of a group of citizens with a complaint about the treatment accorded him. Getting no sympathy, he turned on his heels and departed.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN KILLED IN DETROIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DETROIT, April 29.—Two women died in Detroit hospitals yesterday from injuries suffered in automobile accidents. One was Mrs. John Dowdell of Los Angeles, run down by an automobile at Forest avenue and John R street. The other, Mrs. Barbara Wagner, wife of a wealthy banker, was fatally hurt when the car in which she was riding collided with another automobile.

As a result of the accident in which Mrs. Dowdell was the victim, Albert Berman, No. 255 Farnsworth avenue, driver of the machine which ran the Los Angeles woman down, is under arrest pending police investigation. The fatality occurred late Saturday night. Mrs. Dowdell died Sunday in Grace Hospital, where she was hurried after the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowdell were traveling from Los Angeles to Atlantic City and were stopping in Detroit for a visit with Mrs. Dowdell's sister, Mrs. William Jones of No. 112 East Canfield avenue.

TO STAND TRIAL FOR ALLEGED AUTO THEFT.

E. R. Christopher was released on his own recognizance by Justice Hinshaw yesterday pending his trial in the Superior Court on a charge involving the alleged theft of an automobile on April 14 from Daniel Edwards, a motion-picture producer, whose office is in the Mason Operahouse Building.

The preliminary examination revealed that Christopher borrowed Edwards' automobile for the purpose of removing his personal effects to new lodgings. As days wore on and the car was not returned, Edwards swore to a complaint. The machine was recovered on April 24, after Christopher is said to have admitted that he drove it to Venice and placed it in a garage there.

FIGHT OVER BOND BUTTON.

German Sneers at Liberty Badge and Hostilities are Result.

Arthur Holland, 37, living at No. 650 1-4 Los Angeles street, suffered a painful injury yesterday, when he attempted to fracture the jaw of a German named Holtz living on Los Angeles street, who had sneered at him for wearing a Liberty Bond button.

The fight occurred at Seventh and Los Angeles street. Holtz escaped before he could be placed under arrest. Holland received treatment at the Receiving Hospital, where his injuries are said to be a fractured right thumb, sprained wrist and skinned knuckles. Holtz is said to have received a broken nose and lacerated ear. Orders have been issued to the war squad of the police department to place Holtz under arrest.

Done With.

CLOSING LAW IS REPEALED.

Attempt to Substitute New Measure is Frustrated.

City Council Backs Water on Ridiculous Legislation.

Majority Would Submit Plan to People at Election.

An attempt made by Councilmen Criswell, Reeves and True to shove a new Sunday closing law down the throats of a much disgusted public was frustrated yesterday morning by Councilman Conrad who asserted that he would oppose suspension of the rules, thereby automatically postponing action for one week.

Introduction of the proposed ordinances followed the repeal of the original measure which was so drastic that not even public utilities would have been permitted to operate on Sunday. The Council, which has been hammered on all sides for enacting the foolish ordinance, gave a sigh of relief when the repealing measure was adopted by unanimous vote.

Councilman Conaway said he believed the matter is of so much importance and so vital to the welfare of the citizens that they should be permitted to decide it. As a result he presented a resolution providing that the Council draft an ordinance and place it upon the ballot next November. He did not oppose the referring of it to the Health and Sanitation Committee because the Criswell-True-Reeves ordinance can not be acted upon until next Monday.

DEMANDS LAW.

Councilman Reeves delivered a set speech in favor of a drastic Sunday law. He said he wanted it understood that not everyone is opposed to such a measure. In fact just as many people have patted him on the back as have criticised him, he said.

In the name of humanity, he asked his fellow-members to stand by him when the vote came upon the ordinance. He said it is to be regretted that we permit foreigners to come over here and work seven days a week if they so choose, consequently compelling American-born citizens to work as many days and as hard.

Mr. Reeves became enthusiastic and oratorical when he turned to the barbers' lobby and asked if it were not true that they would force an election upon the question through the initiative law. One of the barbers arose in answer to the complimentary recognition and bowed his head in the affirmative.

"There you are," said the spellbinding Councilman. "I told you so."

The whole argument was so ridiculous to President Farmer that he laughed outright.

To force an initiative ordinance would require the circulation of a petition and the securing of signatures of 15 per cent. of the bona fide electors and then it would be fifty days or so before the election would be held.

WANTS ELECTION.

"I must admit that I am not wise enough to figure out the minds of the public on this question," Mr. Farmer said. "I believe, however, that a majority would favor some kind of a Sunday closing law. That the matter should be settled by the people at the polls is my opinion and I favor this course. It is ridiculous to assume for a minute that those favoring the ordinance would force an election at an expense of $40,000, if the Council gives the assurance that the question will be on the ballot in November. Those favoring the law would hardly dare to antagonize the opponents in such a manner."

President Farmer expressed the opinion of Mr. Mallard and others.

While Messrs. Criswell, Reeves and True are expected to make a fight for their ordinance it appeared yesterday that a majority will favor the submission of the question to the people in November.

Councilman Conrad will oppose either proposed action. He said he is satisfied to drop the whole mess.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF DENVER DIES HERE.

Funeral services for Sydney E. Roberts, a former water commissioner of Denver, Colo., and for years a member of the Board of Health of that city, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the chapel of Reed Bros. & Winquist, No. 1143 South Flower street. Mr. Roberts, who was an uncle of Charles E. and M. W. Reed of the undertaking firm, was 74 years old, and had been a resident of California for about four years.

Besides the nephews, Mr. Roberts leaves three children, Mrs. Harry B. Tedrow, wife of the United States District Attorney at Denver, and Charles E. Roberts and Miss Daisy Roberts of this city.

TROOPS GUARD VERNON BARS.

Fifty Armed Soldiers will See Men in Uniform do not Get Booze.

That the saloon-keepers of Vernon have no desire to run foul of the Federal authorities or lose their license for serving liquor to members of the United States military forces, was shown yesterday, when, upon request of the saloon-keepers, fifty armed soldiers from Fort MacArthur were stationed in front of all saloons in Vernon.

It is said that many soldiers and sailors on several occasions had donned overalls to hide their uniforms and slipped in with the crowds and secured drinks. The soldiers will be stationed before Vernon saloons for some time, working in three shifts of eight hours, and will intercept all suspicious-looking characters as well as soldiers and sailors.

are said to be highly incriminating by the police and may lead to the apprehension of several highly respected men in financial circles.

Drawings of many coast defense points and fortifications and photographs of the topographical areas between Los Angeles and San Francisco were also found, as well as hundreds of newspaper clippings of the recent German drive on the west front.

That Mohr was also in the confidence of the German agents in Mexico was also proved by many communications for German men in the country to the south, the officers say.

At Central Station Mohr vehemently protested that he was innocent, denied that he had made the statement to the woman, and said that because he was a German he was getting a "dirty deal."

"I was discharged from the bank this morning," he said. "I wanted to get permission from the police to leave the city to get another position. I am innocent."

He did not deny, however, that he had been in communication with persons in Germany, and it is believed by the police and government operatives that copies of most of the plans and maps found in his possession are now in Germany, having been sent via Mexico.

Mohr registered at police headquarters under the Alien Enemy Act as a German. It is said that he married an American woman. After further investigation by the war squad he will be turned over to the government and in all probability will be interned for the period of the war.

DENIES HE'S "FAGIN."

Man Accused of Teaching Youths to Steal is Arraigned in Juvenile Court.

Forest Day, alleged by the police to be a modern Fagin, was arraigned before Judge Reeve of the Juvenile Court yesterday on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of Lester Cloud, 15 years old, and the preliminary examination was set for Friday morning. The specific charge is that he caused the boy to drink and to commit the crime of larceny.

Day, who is 27 years old, was brought back from Oakland in company with the boy last Saturday. According to the police, he is said to have instructed a dozen boys how to steal automobile accessories. He would buy the parts from the lads and resell them, they say.

Day says it is a lie. Lester Cloud also stated that Day never told him to steal anything. Judge Reeve fixed Day's bail at $3000, and in default Day was taken to the County Jail.

Reprisal.

DROP TWO ON GRAFT CHARGE.

Police Officers are Removed by Chief Butler.

One is Accused of Accepting Money from Woman.

Official Determined to Stop Bribe-Taking.

As an aftermath of alleged graft charges made Sunday night by Mrs. Mary Moreno that a police official had accepted money for protecting a disorderly house, Patrolman Duke Gillespie of the Los Angeles police department was permitted yesterday afternoon to resign after Chief of Police Butler had summarily fired him in the morning.

Investigation of the alleged practice of several policemen of accepting money from women of the underworld and petty gamblers has been under way by Chief Butler and other police officials for some time. With the arrest Sunday of Mrs. Moreno and Ralph Felix in an alleged disorderly house at No. 420 Ducommun street matters came to an abrupt head.

Yesterday morning Chief Butler dropped Gillespie from the rolls, but later in the day upon his pleading to be allowed to resign Chief Butler permitted him to do so. Chief Butler made the following statement in regard to the case.

"Owing to the character of the people making the charges against Gillespie and the fact that they moved from point to point, I decided that I would accept his resignation rather than prefer charges against him."

At the same time that Gillespie was relieved of his uniform, Patrolman J. L. Cates of the harbor was also dropped from the rolls. It is said that the same charges of accepting protection money was the cause of his dismissal.

TO BUY AMBULANCE FOR THE RED STAR.

ALUMNI AND STUDENT BODY OF POLYTECHNIC HIGH PLANS BIG BENEFIT BALL.

With the United States Submarine Base Band to furnish the music, and with many service men from the military and naval camps of Southern California in attendance to add a wartime spirit, the Polytechnic Alumni Red Star ball to be held at Shrine Auditorium, Saturday, promises to be the most successful benefit affair of the season.

The purpose of the ball is to raise $1600 for the Polytechnic Red Star ambulance. Committees, representing the Polytechnic student body and Alumni Association have worked out the plans and practically every "Polyite," past and present, is expected to attend the ball.

Miss Maud Hughes has been an active member of the Alumni Committee. She is particularly interested in the war dogs which will see service at the front. These are the dogs now being raised at the Baldwin ranch for shipment to the western front, where dogs have proved themselves of great service.

Polytechnic soldiers and sailors are scattered throughout the camps of the Southland and will attend the ball in great numbers.

A few weeks ago the Polytechnic High School gave a Red Star vaudeville at the Majestic Theater, and raised over $1400. The Red Star ambulance will cost $3000, including equipment.

There are over 2000 alumni members in the city and they are expected to turn out 2000 strong.

Mrs. Anita Baldwin is to have her war dogs on exhibition. The dogs have been trained at her own kennels on the Baldwin ranch.
